Britton Folk Wed 60 Years

C. D. ZELUFF AND WIFE TO OBSERVE ANNIVERSARY ON SATURDAY, APRIL 5

Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Zeluff will observe their 60th wedding anniversary on Saturday, at their home in Britton. It will be a quiet affair, there will be no formal party or reception.

Mr. Zeluff, son of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Zeluff, was born in Britton. His bride, Nellie Rappeleye, was born in Ridgeway. They were married April 5, 1892, at the Rappleye home in Ridgeway by Elder James Wright of the Britton Christian church.

The first five years of their married life was spent on the Zeluff farm, east of Britton. They then moved to the village and for seven years Mr. Zeluff worked for O. B. Leonardson. He then opened a general store which he operated for 22 years, and for 10 years of that time he served the village as postmaster.

Tired of the general store, Zeluff turned his business to a restaurant which he operated for several years.

The Zeluffs have one son, Lawrence of Adrian, and two grandchildren.

Zeluff prides himself on being busy—all th days of his life. He says that he was never without work, and never asked anyone for a job. Mrs. Zeluff agrees with her husband that keeping busy is the key to happiness.

And while it may be true that Mr. and Mrs. Zeluff are not working as hard as they did 30 or 40 years ago, they nevertheless are keenly interested in community affairs, and Mr. Zeluff enjoys taking part in the activities of his village.

When the Zeluffs observed their 50th anniversary in 1942, they entertained some 300 persons in their home at a dinner and "open house."

Kiddies Need Immunization

YOUNGSTERS WHO WILL ENTER SCHOOL IN FALL SHOULD SEE DOCTOR NOW

The county school commissioner, school superintendents and the Lenawee Health Department are requesting that all children entering school for the first time next fall, have a physical examination and be protected against diphtheria, whooping cough, tetanus and smallpox, before September 1. The immunization against these diseases should be completed before June, if possible, because it is usually considered inadvisable to give them during the summer months. Children who have already bad their initial immunizations may need a booster dose.

If, on examination, the doctor finds any physical defects, these should be corrected whenever possible. The child's teeth should also be examined by a dentist to see if they need repair. All corrections and repairs should be made this summer, so that the child need not lose time from school next fall.

Parents will be given blank forms at the schools which should be filled out by the doctor when he makes the examination and gives the immunizations. These forms after being completed, should then be taken to the teacher or superintendent of the school, when the child enters next fall.

The Michigan Department of Health has announced newly revised immunization schedules to protect children who are not yet of school age. According to these new schedules, immunization against diphtheria, whooping cough, and tetanus should begin when the baby is three months old. The state revised these immunizations when it was learned that over half of all whooping cough deaths in Michigan occur in children under six months old. And the continued low prevalence of diphtheria is resulting in more and more babies being born without the passive protection which normally would be transferred from the immune mother of her child. The age for immunization of tetanus was lowered after observing that most tetanus deaths in infants were the result of trivial wounds not brought to the attention of a doctor.

The use of "triple combined antigens" a vaccine that contains protective agents against the three diseases — diphtheria, whooping cough, and tetanus — makes it easy to start immunization at three months of age with additional doses at four, five and six months. Booster doses should be given at age two or three and again at age five or six.

Smallpox vaccination should be given at five months of age and repeated at ages five and 10.

Do We Have Any Choice?

In the past, the trouble with most discussions of taxes and the national debt has been that they took place in a financial atmosphere. Almost no one can think logically in terms of tens of billions and hundreds of billions.

However, and we are judging from things that we have heard since last March 15, more and more people are becoming tax conscious. When the real meaning of taxes is related to the average man and the average family, the ominous picture clears.

Statistics show that the national debt today is $260,000,000,000. This lays a burden of $6,800 on every family in America. The interest alone on this debt amounts to more than $6,000,000,000 annually, or about $180 for every American family. Last year the average American family paid $1,589 in direct taxes and another $500 in hidden taxes, or a total of more than $2,000.

Next year's fiscal budget, as proposed, amounts to $85,000,000,000, and it is estimated that it will create a $14,000,000,000 deficit. Compared with current federal spending it will add an average financial liability to every family of about $226. This will mean that next year the average American family will be forced to pay about $2,226 in federal taxes.

The average working man has not, until recently, realized just how much he was paying in taxes. His income tax, for the most part, has been deducted from his paycheck by his employer, and, because he never had to really "spend" the money for taxes, he gave the subject but little thought. But recently, since inflaion took a further bite into his salary, he has been doing a little studying—wondering just where his salary was going. And, to his amazement, he discovered that he was paying 25 per cent or more of his income for taxes.

Suddenly, it seems, the average American has come to realize that while it is difficult for him to think in billions, he can think in hundreds and thousands. He has finally arrived at the conclusion that the billions that are being spent include his tax dollars, too; that the tax bill is coming out of his pockets, and that it will, in the future, come out of the pockets of his children, and his children's children.

The old saying is true—debt and taxes can destroy. America can be destroyed from within. Another five or 10 years of reckless spending and the Communists might to able to take us over without firing a single shot.

As we see it, it isn't a question of whether we "want" to cut government spending. We "must" cut it, if we are to survive as a free people.

And unless we miss our guess, more and more voters are commencing to realize our dangerous national economic situation. That is one of the reasons why we believe that in November there will be a change in Administration.

By and large, wage earners are against more taxes, increased reckless spending and waste. And when the voters are against something, there is generally a change.

How Many For Breakfast, Tomorrow?

America is growing, population-wise. The present rate of increase amounts to around 2,500,000 every year, which means that 7,000 more people will be eating "three squares" a day tomorrow than was the case today. Nutritional research is constantly broadening the dietary habits of each of us. Add to this the fact that our expanding armed forces and our foreign aid programs demand vast and increasing amounts of supplies and you have an idea of the immense job of additional food production which must be done every year.

Some of us who are perhaps a little on the older side wonder, at times, just how far we can continue to expand our agricultural program and still keep it right side up. And then there is another group that thinks about controlls, subsidies, etc., fearing that we are over-producing.

When it comes to controlling nature, man-made laws seem to amount to very little. Maybe we are doing a better job of producing food today than we did yesterday, but tomorrow there will be 7,000 more mouths to feed. And as the days go by, the number of mouths increases.

It behooves us, then, if we are to put food in these mouths to speed up our agricultural production, rather than curtail it, or to pay somebody for not producing it.

Today, we are in a land of plenty, and may it always be that way. And the best way to keep it that way, it would seem, would be to quit interferring with natural laws. We may think we're smart—but it's difficult to out-smart nature.

Not To Exceed Your Reasonable Means.....

This is the effective rule by which we endeavor to limit funeral costs. It is an implied direction of our code of professional ethics.

This guides us to in many cases urge the use of the very low cost funeral. This we provide with full dignity and every service.

Her corsage was of Talisman roses.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Louis wore a navy sheer dress with white accessories and an orchid corsage. Mrs. Schneider, the groom's mother, wore a steel gray taffeta dress with red accessories and her corsage was of Amazon lillies.

Immediately after the ceremony the bridal party went to the home of the groom's mother where breakfast was served.

While there they will visit Mr. Schneider's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Rankin in St. Petersburg. Upon their return they will make their home at 313 W. Logan street.

Out of town guests at the wedding included relatives and friends from Grand Rapids, Ann Arbor, Ypsilanti, Lansing, Kalamazoo and Flint.

Might As Well "Get In Key"

Last Tuesday Judge Cunningham wanted to go fishing. "Why aren't you working?" I asked.

Judge explained how his wife had gone on a trip, taken his keys by mistake—and now he couldn't get in the office. So we went fishing.

Next day, he wanted me to go again. I was surprised those keys hadn't shown up yet. "The little woman phoned to say she mailed them," the Judge explained. "They're now in the office, under the mail slot. I'd get 'em if I could just open that door." He grinned and picked up his fishing rod. "Great little woman, the wife. You can always count on her. Let's go!"

From where I sit, we can use tolerance like the Judge shows for his wife's absent-mindedness . . . and she shows for his habit of lighting out for the fishing hole at every opportunity. He can't see why she likes tea, and she doesn't share his taste for a glass of beer. But they get along fine! Learning to respect other people's ways will "open the door" to happier living.

If you were to ask just what part of our store has made the greatest progress, we would have to consider trusses and surgical garments foremost — the wonder drugs notwithstanding.

Material, design, and corrective measures all are vastly improved. Many hundreds now enjoy normal living, exercise, and even sports impossible a few years ago.

Properly feeding the sow during gestation is important. Hayden's Pig & Sow Concentrate is the one ideal feed for that period. More and better pigs result from this careful feeding before the farrowing time.
A sow requires twice as much feed when nursing pigs as she does during gestation. Give her all the feed she will eat from the time pigs are a week old until weaning.
Meat on young pigs is your money-earning meat. Supplement pasture with grain and Hayden's Pig & Sow Concentrate. The result will be strong bodies and sturdy frames.

CAUGHT . . . Lt. Robert McLeod, 11th airborne, South Carolina, hangs in a tree after his parachute got entangled in the branches. Danger has been the keynote at Camp Drum, N.Y., recently as paratroopers have been leaping through the air on maneuvers. An air force C-46 cargo plane, jammed with 32 paratroopers, crashed during its takeoff at Wheeler-Sack Field, killing three persons. The army's parachute maneuvers have been named by officials "Operation Snowdrop."

BANKING ON THE HONOR SYSTEM . . . The Central National Bank of Yonkers, N.Y., got tired of making change for its customers, so it did the next best thing—let the patrons make their own change. A wood table top fitted with four glass tops containing quarters, dimes, nickels and pennies was placed in the lobby of the bank. The customers drop their fifty-cent pieces or one or five dollar bills into the slots set back on the table, then scoop up their change and go their way. The bank president explained, "We don't watch them because we think people are honest." The bank has reported that the honor system is working perfectly.

GUARDIANS OF CAPITAL . . . The U.S. air force has disclosed that the famed "white house" squadron at Washington, D.C., assigned to air defense of the nation's capital, has been equipped with Lockheed F-94 all-weather jet fighters. The planes can operate around the clock in darkness and bad weather, using radar to find their targets at night or in the clouds. Afterburning in their jet engines gives them extra power for combat maneuvers or for faster climbing.

POT LUCK BAD.

Portland, Ore. — Someone noticed smoke coming from an apartment window and turned in a fire alarm. Answering the alarm, a fireman fell from a fire truck speeding to the scene. Another fire truck was called, only to collide with a freight truck. When the freight truck tried to pull free, it backed into a trolley bus. The bus had to be retired. When the firement eventually got to the apartment, they found that a coffee pot had boiled over, causing all the stir. The coffee pot was the only damage.

HOBBY FATAL.

Butler, Ky.—The hobby of Reginald Rippetoe, 26-year-old Cincinnati man, cost him his life. Rippetoe was guiding his gas-motored model airplane with a wire when the plane smashed into high-tension wires, sending 6,900 volts through his body. The accident occurred on a farm where Rippetoe, his mother and a sister were visiting.

18 NOT ENOUGH.

SOME FACE

Washington, D. C.—White watching television in her home in Arlington, Va., Mrs. H. H. Knowles heard the announcer say, "Study this face on your television screen, because this man is wanted for investigation of housebreaking." Then, Mrs. Knowles answered a knock at her front door. She walked over and looked through the peephole. Sure enough, it was the same face. She called police but the man had fled.

OLD SAWTOOTH HUR'S CHALLENGE . . . This hill ascends back from Grand Marais, Minn., and rises to an elevation of 1,700 feet. Known as Old Sawtooth, it presented a challenge to ski enthusiasts of Grand Marais. In 1948, a handful of civic-minded men, led by Howard Joynes, then president of the chamber of commerce, decided to accept the challenge. How well they met the challenge can be decided from the fact that on Feb. 16-17 Old Sawtooth will be host to the central United States downhill and slalom championships. The purpose mainly was to build a recreation area for the folks about town.

RESCUED FROM GAS FUMES . . . In Milwaukee, still frightened from imprisonment in a refrigerator room where she took refuge from lung-searing gas fumes in the Borden ice cream plant after an explosion, Miss Delores Heisler clings tightly to a fireman rescuing her. Ammonia gas swept through the second floor of the plant, overcoming five others of the women employees at the plant. Also, two firemen were overcome by the fumes, and another worker at the plant was burned by flames.

U. M. Professor Says Taxes Better Than Inflation

ANN ARBOR—This nation faces a choice between making an orderly payment of defense costs through taxes, submitting to more direct controls or sustaining further inflation, a University of Michigan economist declares.

Writing in the March issue of Michigan Business Review, Professor R. A. Musgrave states higher taxation would be the best choice. He terms more direct controls undesirable, barring an all-out war, and regards higher taxation as a "better bet" than more inflation.

In an article entitled "Paying for Defense," Professor Musgrave points out that during 1951 the nation has been in the process of building up a vast military plant, and at the same time "we have been able to live better than ever before" with per capita expenditures for 1951, adjusted for price increase, exceeding those of 140 by about 30 per cent. No substantial reduction in the general supply of consumers goods is expected, he writes, and investment expenditures have been at a record level. He says:

"We cannot conclude, in view of this evidence, that the proposed defense effort will reduce our standard of living tragically, or that the taxes needed to finance it will cut our incomes to an intolerably low level. Having accepted our role in the building of Western defense, we must also accept our share in the cost involved."

HAS CONSCIENCE . . . Anthony Leonido, a destitute young father who lost his fingers recently when the tips caught in a press, was set to stage a holdup in Brooklyn, but his conscience made him go to police with his sawed-off shotgun.

Michigan Business Review is published by the University's School of Business Administration.

MOTORISTS RADIOS FOR AID; GETS IT, AND HOW

A radio call for help from a motorist stranded in the upper peninsula was picked up by a brother "ham" operator several hundred miles away in the lower peninsula, and the unfortunate driver was "rescued" by troopers from a State Police post only 10 miles from him.

The driver, Rudolph C. Fleischer, of Chicago, had a mobile amateur radio unit in his car. When he got into trouble just outside of Rapid River, near Escanaba, he broadcast a call for help. An amateur operator in Charlotte received the message. He notified the Eaton county sheriff and the sheriff called the Jackson State Police post. The State Police radioed the Gladstone post and troopers were sent to Fleischer's aid. They found he was just stuck in the snow and after giving him an assist he went on his way safe and happy.

Unique Blood Bank Is Operating In Washtenaw

ANN ARBOR—A unique plan to meet emergency needs for human blood is being tested in Washtenaw County.

Under the plan, each member of groups participating will give one pint of blood to a blood bank which will insure the donor for life to receive plasma or whole blood at any time without cost.

The State Board of Health, operating the blood bank, the Washtenaw County Chapter of the American Red Cross and the University of Michigan Hospital, together with St. Joseph's Mercy Hospital, Ann Arbor, and the Beyer Memorial Hospital, Ypsilanti, are sponsoring the plan.

Dr. Otto T. Mallery, Jr., University professor of internal medicine, explained that a family member belonging to a group automatically insures the entire family against emergency needs for blood. Also, since the program is licensed to ship blood out of the state, he said, a member would continue to be insured even though he moved from the county or state.

Groups eligible for the plan are church groups, civic and fraternal organizations, unions, employee groups and others, Dr. Mallery explained.

Two pints of every ten will be placed at the disposal of the county Red Cross chapter for Korea and defense needs.

Under this program persons will be able to receive blood quickly, whether the need arises from sickness, accident or war, Dr. Mallery indicated.

Want a lot of mileage for your money?

WE'LL admit that the price tags of automobiles—all automobiles—aren't what they used to be.

But it's just as true today as ever before that some price tags are lower than others, and some cars cost less to own than others.

So let's see how a Buick SPECIAL fits into the picture.

Take first cost. If you put the price tag of this Buick against price tags of cars that have always been tagged as belonging in "the low-priced field"—you'll find that, in actual dollars, a Buick's surprisingly close to these cars of lesser size and horsepower.

But that's just the beginning.

What you're getting here is Buick quality—this SPECIAL comes down the same assembly line as SUPERS and ROADMASTERS.

Its heft tells you it has extra sturdiness in frame and structure.

Its Fireball Engine delivers extra power. It is an eight, a valve-in-head, with high compression, and the miles you can get from a gallon of gas make it a thrifty performer.

You get Buick's Million Dollar Ride, which protects you—and the car—from jars and jolts.

Even the tires are bigger—which, any tire man will tell you, lengthens their wear.

And if you pay a bit extra for Dynaflow Drive* you're easing the strain on the engine, the rear end, the tires—and eliminating clutch repair bills.

So when we talk about "mileage for your money" we're talking about the miles you'll get from your car—including the unused miles that are what you have to sell when you trade it in.

Maybe that's why Buick's doing so well in the present market. Why not come in and see what a great car this is for you?

*Equipment, accessories, trim and models are subject to change without notice. Wheel Crests standard on ROADMASTER, optional at extra cost on other Series. White sidewalls optional at extra cost when available. Standard on ROADMASTER, optional at extra cost on other Series.

Sure is true for '52

Old-Fashioned Way Best When Washing Hands

A good old-fashioned scrub with ordinary soap and water does as much good as most of the so-called germ killing soap compounds on the market today.

This is the opinion of Carl A. Lawrence, assistant professor of bacteriology at the University of Michigan, who has done extensive research in this field.

Research tests, he says, show that these germicidal soap compounds are overrated and ineffective as disinfectants. "Such soaps are of questionable value in the destruction of bacteria on the skin," he adds.

Professor Lawrence explains that since a clean skin will free itself of many germs, the simple act of washing the hands with any kind of toilet soap is a good, practical sanitary procedure.

The use of germicidal soap compounds may lead to a false sense of security, he states, as most of the safe feeling they impart is brought about by the medicated odor that is given the soaps. He says they have little value as disinfectants, explaining that:

"One of the chemicals widely used in these so-called germ killing soap compounds is hexachlorophene, also known as G-11. It is non-irritating to the skin and will mix equally well with dyestuffs, perfumes, fats and other ingredients of soaps.

"However, G-11 is not to be relied upon solely as a germicide. While there is some evidence that G-11 soaps will reduce the number of certain types of bacteria on the skin, they will not give a sterile surface."

AGREEMENT

Agreement made and entered into this 21st day of March, 1952 by and between the Village of Tecumseh, a Municipal Corporation, of Tecumseh, Michigan, hereinafter referred to as the VILLAGE; and Lowell Maynard and Edna Maynard, hereinafter referred to as the CONTRACTOR, WITNESSETH:

The VILLAGE agrees to give the CONTRACTOR the exclusive franchise for the pick-up and disposal of garbage and ashes within the corporate limits for a period of six months from and after this date.

In consideration of such franchise, the CONTRACTOR agrees to make pick-up from domestic establishments within the Village once per week from now until May 1 and twice weekly thereafter.

The CONTRACTOR agrees that no charge will be made in excess of $1.25 per month for such service save and except that the CONTRACTOR may charge $5.00 per hour per bulk pick-up and may also make an additional charge of 10c per pick-up when it is necessary to climb or descend stairs.

Pick-up schedule and rates on the collection of commercial garbage and ashes shall be as agreed between CONTRACTOR and the particular commercial establishments.

In the event that CONTRACTORS' service under this Contract is unsatisfactory, the VILLAGE may, without notice, terminate this franchise and may order the CONTRACTOR to cease and desist from collecting garbage and ashes within the corporate limits. The VILLAGE shall be the exclusive judge of the standard of satisfaction required and the decision of the Council is final.

If Contract is terminated, the VILLAGE may take such steps as it deems proper to establish service through other agencies and damages occasioned the VILLAGE by such action shall be repaid the VILLAGE by the CONTRACTOR and, in default thereof, the VILLAGE may declare forfeited a certain bond posted by CONTRACTOR and dated March 21, 1952. The bond shall also be construed to protect any residents of the Village who may have paid CONTRACTOR for their service in advance.

This Contract cannot be terminated by the CONTRACTOR without serving upon the VILLAGE 60 days written notice of intent to terminate.

CONTRACTOR shall at all times keep adequate books and records covering the divers garbage accounts and the same shall be available for inspection by the VILLAGE officials.

Board Asks $650,000 Bonds For New School Buildings, $100,000 Gift Announced

A $650,000 bond issue will build $760,000 worth of new school buildings here if the electors of School District No. 7 approve the issue when it comes to a vote on Tuesday, May 6, it was announced today.

Here is the reason for the saving:

"Several public spirited people in Tecumseh have recognized the need for additional school buildings here," Jens K. Touborg, president of the Board of Education, said today. "They will donate $100,000,, and this money will be available if the people approve the bond issue, Tuesday, May 6."

Such a gift will permit the construction of the new buildings without increasing the present rate of taxation, it was declared.

James McDowell, superintendent of schools, said today that architects have completed plans for the construction of an eight-room addition and gymnasium at the new high school, and for the building of a 14-room elementary school on the property recently acquired on North Union Street. The cost of these projects, totaling $760,000, is as follows:

Addition to high school, $80,000.
Equipment (high school), $5,000.
High school gymnasium, $307,000.
Gymnasium equipment, including 1,600 bleacher seats, $1,700.
Elementary building, $300,000.
Equipment, (elementary), $10,000.
Architects fees, $41,000.

"Coming at a time such as this, when we have run out of school rooms to house our children, we are indeed fortunate to have public spirited individuals in our community who will come forward with more than 13 per cent of the cost of our building project," Mr. McDowell declared.

"Tecumseh has no alternative other than to build new buildings,"

C. of C. Plans "Hi-Nabor" Day

BANQUET AND INDUSTRIAL SHOW SCHEDULED FOR COUNTRY CLUB, APRIL 22

A "Hi-Nabor" Day, including an industrial exposition and an evening banquet is planned by the Tecumseh Chamber of Commerce for Tuesday, April 22, at the Country Club.

"The affair is just what the name implies," Robert H. Moore, president of the Chamber, said today. "We are inviting folk from surrounding communities, including Clinton, Tipton, Onsted, Macon, Ridgeway, Britton, Holloway and Deerfield, as well as members of the Grange, to meet with us, to learn more about our community, and to permit us to know more about their communities. In the evening at 6:30 a dinner will be served at the Club."

Dale McIntyre, well known WJR radio personality, and for his "Know Your America" program, will be the speaker of the evening.

It is expected that many of the guests fro mthe neighboring towns will arrive earlier in the day and go to the Club. There will be an industrial exhibit there, showing some of the articles manufactured not only in Tecumseh but from the invited communities.

"There is nothing to sell, no axe to grind," Mr. Moore said in making the Hi-Nabor announcement. "We have only one aim, to get better acquainted with the folk from this area, to permit them to get better acquainted with us."

A crowd of 250 or more is expected at the banquet. James McDowell, superintendent of schools, will act as toastmaster. Tecumseh Rotary and Exchange clubs are cooperating by holding their meetings in connection with the event.

Paving Of M-52 To Start In May

CHICAGO BOULEVARD WILL BE WIDENED, CENTER ISLAND TO BE NARROWED

The re-paving of M-50, (Chicago Boulevard) inside the corporation of Tecumseh and east and west of the Village will be started sometime next month, and completed in the fall, it was announced here on Monday, following a meeting with Charles M. Ziegler, state highway commissioner, and Carl Webber, chief engineer of the highway department.

Chicago Boulevard inside the corporation, from Adrian street east, will be widened, and a portion of the curve west of Adrian street will be removed. When the project is completed, there will be two 24-foot traffic lanes on the boulevard, one each side of a four-foot center island.

The widening of the boulevard will mean the narrowing of the center island on West Chicago boulevard from 14 feet to four feet, and on East Chicago, from 19 feet to four feet. On West Chicago, boulevards between the sidewalk and the pavement will be narrowed about 10 inches, but it is unlikely that any change will be made in boulevard widths on East Chicago.

New curbs will be built on the boulevard, and the pavement will be of bituminous asphalt, about four inches thick. This will be laid over the present pavement, and through the business district.

West of the village, some of the curves in the highway will be re-

The Village Council, in regular meeting, Monday evening, approved a 15-mill tax rate for Tecumseh during the coming year, one mill higher than was levied a year ago. The 15-mill rate, on an assessed valuation of $5,348,100 will yield $80,221.50 as compared to $71,817.20, raised in 1951.

Village taxes will be due and payable after the first of July.

The council also approved committee and department head appointments made by J. Floyd Elliott, president.

Milan E. Clark, chief of police here for the past two years, did not receive his appointment. Instead, Mr. Elliott named George Kilbourne of Adrian, until recently

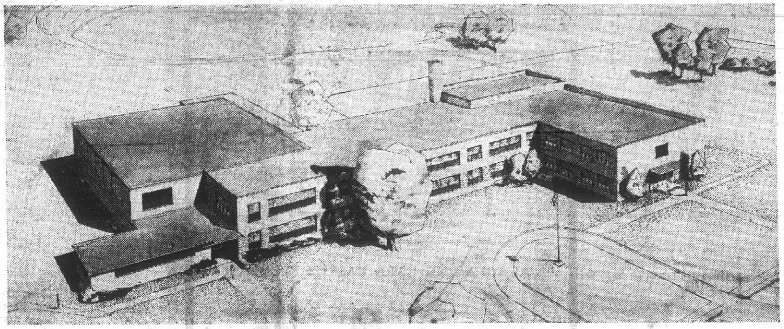
The lower photo shows the drawing of the proposed new elementary school on North Union street, which would include six classrooms, a kindergarten room, library, office and clinic. Both of these buildings would be made available by a $650,000 bond issue, to be voted on here May 6, and an anonymous gift of $100,000, available only if the bonding issue is approved. It has been announced that it will not be necessary to increase the present school tax rate as a result of the proposed bond issue, and that funds are now available to retire outstanding bonds on the present high school. Tecumseh already has outgrown its existing school buildings, and children will have to be housed in the library and in places other than schools, next fall.



GIFT MAY SPELL DOOM TO TOOTH DECAY HERE

Tecumseh Water To Get Fluoride

The Village Council, in session Monday evening, voted to accept an anonymous gift of approximately $3,000 worth of equipment for adding additional fluoride to the local water supply for the purpose of reducing the susceptibility of dental decay.

The addition of fluoride to the water supply has been recommended by the American Dental and Medical Associations, by both state and federal public health departments, and by several other health agencies, including local dentists and physicians through their respective societies, as well as the Lenawee Health Unit.

A. W. Porter, chairman of the council's water committee, stressed these facts:

1. Fluoridation absolutely does not alter the taste, color or odor of the water.

2. Fluoridation is completely safe and without any detrimental effects when properly used.

3. Fluoridation will not only help those teeth which as yet are unreupted, with a resulting reduction of at least 40 per cent of the tooth decay. Only children will be directly helped but the beneficial effects are lifelong, so that the number of people aided will be increased each year, and eventually everyone will have reduced susceptibility.

4. Operation of the equipment, which was donated, will cost only $100 a month.

Over 20 larger communities in Michigan already have the fluoridation program in operation, including Monroe, Jackson and Ann Arbor. Several smaller towns, including Adrian and Blissfield, are considering the program. Analysis of the new well at Britton, as well as in the Morenci and Addison areas shows them to have sufficient quantities of natural fluoride. Tecumseh has 20 percent of the recommended amount, so that it will be necessary only to supplement the natural supply.

Years of research have proven that areas where fluoride is present in proper amounts, residents have at least 40% less dental decay then in areas where fluoride is absent from the water.

April Is Proclaimed Cancer Control Month

Mayor J. Floyd Elliott today issued a proclamation urging the public to observe April as Cancer Control Month and asking cooperation with the American Cancer Society's 1952 Cancer Crusade.

Mayor Elliott's proclamation pointed out that cancer still looms as the most dangerous among major diseases and continues to take more than 215,000 lives every year.

The text of the proclamation reads:

WHEREAS many of the diseases that cursed our ancestors no longer are a major threat and the promise of a longer, fuller life will be obtained when the remaining major diseases are conquered, and

WHEREAS cancer looms as the most dangerous among modern ills, continuing to take more than 215,000 lives of our people every year, and

WHEREAS the President of the United States, authorized by Act of Congress, has set aside the month of April as a special occasion dur- which our efforts to fight cancer are redoubled, therefore I J. Floyd Elliott, mayor of the Village of Tecumseh do hereby proclaim and ordain April, 1952 as CANCER CONTROL MONTH. And further urge and request that every citizen shall observe it as such by supporting and cooperating with the American Cancer Society's Cancer Crusade.

It Looks Like A Busy Summer's Ahead

Despite the fact that Tecumseh made the most rapid growth of any community in Lenawee county between the years of 1940 and 1950—U. S. Census figures prove this—there are still those among us who like to think of the community as "a boy in knee pants," who refuses to grow up.

In 1950, according to the U. S. Census, Tecumseh had within its all-to-small boundaries a population of 4,006. In the fringe areas around Tecumseh, according to the census, here was another 1,000 or more residents, all of whom depended upon Tecumseh for the education of its children, used the community as its shopping center and, in reality, called it home.

Since 1950, Tecumseh has grown steadily. Just how much the population has grown in the last 15 months is not accurately known, but it is safe to say there are nearly 6,000 people, inside the village and in the immediate fringe area, who depend upon Tecumseh for home-town services.

For those who question that Tecumseh is growing, we recommend that they study, for a few minutes, the civic projects that are in the progress of completion here, or are on the agenda for the coming months.

At the present time, Tecumseh is in the process of building a $285,000 sewage disposal plant. Work on this project is to be finished during the fall of 1952.

A recent gift of $250,000 to Herrick Memorial Hospital will enable the Village, during the next five years, to build an addition to that institution that will make it the largest hospital in all of Lenawee county.

Work will start soon on a new bridge over Evans Creek on North Evans Street. This project will cost over $93,000, and the job will be finished within a year.

The State Highway Department has let it be known that M-50 in Tecumseh and east and west of here is to be widened and rebuilt during the summer months. While no accurate estimate of cost is available, the project probably will require the expenditure of around $750,000.

The Board of Education this week announced that it plans to enlarge the present high school and to build an elementary school on North Union street, at a total cost of more than $750,000.

A little quick addition shows that, before mid-summer, improvement and expansion projects here will total more than $2,000,000. The bulk of that money will be spent inside the present corporation, and for only one reason—because Tecumseh is growing up.

We have contended for years, and we say again, that Tecumseh's government needs to grow up with the community. At the present time we are operating under a Villag Charter that is more than 50 years old, a Charter that has been considered obsolete by more than 90 per cent of the other up-and-coming communities of the state of like or smaller population.

We also have contended, and we say again, that Tecumseh needs to expand its boundaries to include the fringe area. The residents of these areas call Tecumseh their home, they depend upon it for the education of their children, as a shopping center, and for all other hometown services.

There also is a distinct need for long-range planning. If Tecumseh continues to grow as much in the next 10 years as it has in the past 10 years, it will have a population of 7,000 or 8,000 people by 1960. If it has such a population, present government services will not be adequate to meet the demands of such growth. We will need increased fire protection, increased police protection, more water and sewer mains, more streets, curbs and gutters, and many, many other things that government must furnish.

We should not wait until we are forced, but such growth, to be thinking about how we can meet the demands that will be made upon us as a community. We should be making plans, coordinating our activities and our efforts so that we can take the growth in stride, and with the least possible public expense.

We congratulate the Board of Education in its long-range planning. The present announced building program should be the answer to Tecumseh's school problem for the next eight or 10 years. But the school problem is not the only problem that confronts Tecumseh as a growing community.

The sooner we get our house in order, the sooner we start to do long-range planning, and do it on a city basis with an expanded community boundary, the better off all of us will be—tax-wise and otherwise.

Not To Exceed Your Reasonable Means.....

This is the effective rule by which we endeavor to limit funeral costs. It is an implied direction of our code of professional ethics.

This guides us to in many cases urge the use of the very low cost funeral. This we provide with full dignity and every service.

Roadmaster
YES, BUICK HAS POWER STEERING

Give the little lady a helping hand

This ad is addressed to husbands—husbands who've yearned for the thrill of sitting behind a broad hood packed with horsepower—and the pride of rolling down the street in a car that tells the world, "Here's a man who knows the finest thing on wheels."

But husbands have wives. And wives have been known to say, "No big cars for me. They're too hard to handle."

Well, we have an answer for that one. It's a ROADMASTER with Buick's new Power Steering.† And Power Steering takes over any time the steering gets tough—works like a helping hand—reduces the effort of turning the wheel of a car at a standstill to about the same effort it takes to pick up a mink coat.

But out on the open highway—with a clear straight stretch before you—your hands still have command of the wheel—you can feel that sure, firm, easy and eager responsiveness that's a part of the fun of driving.

The rest of the fun is in something else that's new this year—the highest horsepower that a Buick Fireball Engine has ever delivered — and an Airpower carburetor that lets loose an extra reserve of power when needed, and still adds extra miles to your cruising range on each tankful of gas.

So we suggest a family demonstration.

You'll both like the hushed and restful silence of this superbly able traveler. You'll like the harmonious beauty of its interior, and the deep and luxurious softness of its seats.

You'll like the velvet-gloved grip of its Wide-Band brakes, and the most capacious trunk in Buick history.

You'll like the smooth surge of Dynaflow Drive, and you'll like—but why waste time talking, when you could be finding out more than we can ever tell you? How about making a date to do that right now?

Equipment, accessories, trim and models are subject to change without notice. White sidewalls optional at extra cost when available. †Optional at extra cost on Roadmaster only.

F. F. A. Notes

Merlyn Wagner and Paul Burns, vocational-agricultural instructors of Tecumseh, attended a regional Future Farmers of America officer's meeting, held at Onsted high school, March 29. At this meeting, plans were made for the coming Regional Leadership Taining Camp to be held at Waldenwoods in Hartland, Michigan, this coming August. The camp would be for the use of the F.F.A. chapters in Lenawee, Hillsdale, Monroe, Jackson and Washtenaw counties, which are in Region two of the Michigan Future Farmers of America Foundation.

At a special meeting of the Tecumseh F.F.A. chapter held last Monday evening, it was decided that next year's officers, Merlyn Wagner, Lynn Hunt, Richard Young, Jim Hargraye, Eugene Withrow and Bob Willnow, would attend the Regional Leadership Training Camp in August to receive training and to aid them in carrying out their duties for the coming year. Other matters of business were discussed, and two members of the Milan Chapter, Bob Lidel and Carl Wilke, provided the entertainment for the meeting. Mr. Sheppard of Milan, the Region's adviser, attended the meeting also.

The date for the next Regional officers' meeting was tentatively set for April 26, at Tecumseh. Merlyn Wagner is the Future Farmer reporter for Region Two.

COMMUNICATION

Freedom is a precious heritage that many of us, not thinking, take for granted. Our fathers founded this country in order to be free. Free from dictatorship, free to worship God as trey believed. They fought for this sweet freedom and won the victory, when this country was still very young. America has become a refuge for those of many lands, who wish to share our freedom. Now, however, there are those who would enslave our glorious country and place her under a dictator. Those who would rob us of the freedom enjoyed for many years, who would take away our rights as individuals. Some of their promises sound well, but their words are a snare to the ignorant, to those who let others think for them and do not use the brains that God gave them. Let us awake and think and realize that we must not let our priceless freedom slip away. What we do to preserve our freedom must be done very soon or we shall lose what we might never regain.

Miss Annabel Wilson Bride of Richard Sell

The Tecumseh Friends church was the scene of a lovely spring wedding, Sunday afternoon, April 6 at 4 o'clock, when Miss Annabel Lee Wilson, of Hillsdale, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Amos Wilson of Clinton, became the bride of Richard M. Sell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Sell, of Hillsdale. The Rev. Edward Escolme, assisted by the Rev. A. E. Moor of Hillsdale, performed the double ring ceremony. The altar was banked with hampers of yellow and white snapdragons and palms.

The guests were seated by Arnold Wilson of Tipton, Paul Wilson of Clinton, Marlin Duryea and Don May of Hillsdale, while Mrs. Reno Feldkamp of Manchester, played nuptial music. Dalton VanValkenburg, accompanied by Mrs. Feldkamp, sang, "Because," and "Oh Day of Golden Promise." She also accompanied Lynn Wilson in a trumpet solo, "Ich Liebe Dick."

The bride, given in marriage by her father, chose a white slipper satin gown with standup collar and sweetheart neckline. The fitted sleeves ended in points over her wrists, the full-gored skirt formed a medium-length train. She wore a beaded tiara with fingertip veil and carried a white lace-covered Bible with Amazon lillies and streamers. Her only jewelry was a double strand of pearls, a gift of the groom.

Miss Elizabeth Escolme of Cleveland, was maid of honor. She wore a maize taffeta colonial style gown, with lace jacket, and carried a colonial basket-styled bouquet of carnations centered with gardenias. The matron of honor and bridesmaid, Mrs. Arnold Wilson of Tipton and Miss Charodette Bradford of Hillsdale wore nile green and orchid gowns, matching that of the maid of honor, and carried colonial bouquets with harmonizing flowers. Howard Tucker of North Adams served as best man for Mr. Sell.

Mrs. Wilson chose for her daughter's wedding, a navy blue gown with pink accessories and a pink carnation corsage. Mrs. Sell, the groom's mother, wore navy blue with navy accessories and a white corsage.

A reception was held in the Escolme parlors of the church for 200 guests, immediately following the ceremony. Mrs. Edward Escolme was hostess. The bride's table was centered with the traditional wedding cake, served by Mrs. Don Carwin of Clinton. Miss Thelma Owen of Clinton was in charge of the guest book. Miss Grace Cutler of Morenci served the ice cream and Miss Ardis Drewyor, Mrs. Richard Butler and Astride Freimanis poured. The Quaker Fellowship Class was in charge of the kitchen.

For traveling, the bride changed to a navy blue suit, with a navy-checked topper and red accessories. After a short wedding trip the couple will reside at 133 S. Harvell Ave., Hillsdale. Mrs. Sell is a graduate of Clinton high school, spent two years at Cleveland Bible College and is employed as a practical nurse at Hillsdale Health Center. Mr. Sell is a graduate of Hillsdale high school and is employed at Allied Products Co., in Hillsdale.

The Rev. Ronald Brunger, pastor of the Methodist church here, holds an unusual distinction. He was the guest of honor at a "stork shower," last week in the parlors of the church. The party was staged by members of the Men's Club, and it came as a surprise to the pastor. After the regular Men's Club dinner-program, the Rev. Mr. Brunger was blindfolded and lead into another room. When he was permitted to see again, here was Mr. Stork, hitched to a table full of things the Brungers will be needing when their new baby arrives. Gifts included everything from diapers to folding money. In photo above, left to right, are Mr. Brunger, Paul Hadsell, Ellsworth Collins, Edward Beal, R. J. McCoy and Orville Minney, a few of those who took part in the party. Dr. T. Rentschler presided at the shower and was assisted by Bob Bonner, Mr. Beal, and Mr. Hadsell.

Paving Of M-52

moved between the corporation limit and Billington's Corners. The state has been buying right-of-ways in the area. Outside the village, both east and west, the pavement will be of cement, and wide enough to carry four lanes of traffic.

East of Tecumseh, a new bridge will be built over the River Raisin and the curve east of the Universal Button Company's plant will be straightened. The new pavement will be continued as far as Ridgeway, where it will join a highway that was laid eight years ago.

The Highway department also has on its drafting board the repaving of M-50 where needed, west of Billington's Corners and west to the Onsted road. West of that point, new pavement already has been laid.

The meeting here on Monday with Mr. Ziegler and Mr. Webber was for the purpose of determining just what the state has in mind in the paving project, particularly within the corporation limits.

Original plans had called for 30 foot strips of highway on each side of the 4-foot islands on the boulevard. This would have necessitated the cutting back of boulevards on the street, and the elimination of many trees. It also would have resulted in the relaying of gas and water mains and fire hydrants. The village felt that the project, from a taxpayers' standpoint, would be very costly.

After the state officials had canvassed the project, the 24-foot, two-lane road was agreed upon. Few trees will be disturbed, the center safety island strips will be preserved, and the boulevard cut-back will not be great.

However, parking on either East or West Chicago boulevard in the residential areas will be prohibited, after the new pavement is installed.

The meeting here on Monday was arranged by the Chamber of Commerce. In attendance aside from Ziegler and Webber were State Senator Elmer Porter, State Representative Rollo Conlin, R. H. Moore, president of the Chamber, LeRoy Titley, township supervisor, members of the Chamber board, and members of the village council and the engineer. After the project had been surveyed the group held a discussion at the Country Club, preceding a luncheon.

Board Asks

the superintendent said. "At the present time we have 1,223 students enrolled in our school system. Next September, when school opens, census figures show that we will have an enrollment of 1,350, and that we will need five more rooms than we now have available. That means that we must use the public library, and at least one other building for classroom purposes. In the fall of 1953 we will need room to accommodate 1,478 pupils, in 1954 we will have an enrollment of 1,565. By the fall of 1955, our enrollment figures show a total of 1,648.

"The proposed building program, as we see it, will carry us over a period of at least seven or eight years, without the necessity of additional buildings. However, it will be impossible even with the buildings in the offing, to house our children in school next fall without using buildings other than those now in the public school system.

Mr. McDowell pointed out that the $760,000 building program, with the gift of $100,000 available if the bonding issue is approved, will not necessitate an increase in the local tax rate over the existing rate.

In 1948, when the bonding issue for the new high school was approved, electors voted a 13 mill tax rate for the retirement of the bonds. At the present time the district owes $91,575 on the building, fund a similar amount of cash. This money will be placed in a special fund, in government bonds, to pay the final issue outstanding on the present school when it falls due in July of 1953. The present building then will be paid for, and all that the district will owe is the bonds on the proposed new $760,000 project. However, this amount is instantly reduced to $660,000 by the gift, and $10,000 will be taken out of the general fund by the board and applied on the cost, actually reducing the building program to $650,000. That is the amount that will be sought in the bond issue on May 6, McDowell said.

McDowell pointed out that the bond issue on the high school, voted in 1948, was a five-year issue. However, because of increased tax returns, it has been possible to pay off the bonds one year in advance—in four years instead of five.

The Michigan Securities Commission insists, McDowell said, that the bond issue be spread over a 15-year period, with 13 serials being issued. The bonds probably will sell at an interest rate of not more than two per cent.

"Our valuation here is increasing rapidly," McDowell said, "and it appears from our tables that the proposed new bond issue of $650,000 can be retired in about seven or eight years. However, as a safety factor, the securities commission insists upon a 15-year issue. We will, however, make the bonds callable after about five years, and then we can retire them as rapidly as funds are available."

Voting on the proposed bond issue will take place at the Council Building on May 6. Two issues will be submitted, first to continue the millage rate at 13 mills, and, second, to issue $650,000 in bonds to defray construction cost. Any eligible, registered voter may cast their ballot on the issue to continue the millage rate. Property owners, or the husbands and wives of property owners, only, are eligible to vote on the bond issue, itself. Both issues must be approved by a majority vote.

McDowell said that if the electors approve the bonding program it will be possible to start construction both at the high school and at the elementary school during the coming summer. Both buildings would be completed and ready for occupancy probably by the end of the first semester of the 1953 53 school year. In the meantime, he said, it will be necessary to house a portion of the students in buildings outside the present school system.

To be eligible to vote on either issue, electors must be registered with the township clerk. This registration may be accomplished not later than Friday, April 25, at 5 p.m.

It was pointed out that School Districts No. 5 and 7 now have been consolidated and there exists now only Dictrict 7. Therefore, voters in what was formerly District 5 will vote on the issues, because they are now a part of the local school district.

Radio Program

The play reveals the authentic experiences of Matt Cvetic which jolted 40 million Americans when his sensational story appeared in the Saturday Evening Post, and alerted additional millions when it appeared on the movie screen. This man, who for nine agonizing years, lived the part of a rabid communist in order to gather incriminating evidence for the F. B. I., today is acclaimed for his heroic services to his country.

Andrews is one of Hollywood's most popular stars. He skyrocketed to fame in the same type of hard-hitting portrayals in such movies as "The Frogmen," "Sealed Cargo," and the Academy Award winning, "The Best Years of Our Lives."

Announcement of the Chamber's decision to bring the 52-episode story to radio listeners in Lenawee county over WABJ was made today by Robert H. Moore, president of the Tecumseh Chamber. Mr. Moore also said that it might be possible, at some future time, to bring Mr. Cvetic to Tecumseh for a personal appearance and speaking engagement.

MISSILE RESEARCH BY ARMY UNVEILED

Washington—American Army researchers are working on a guided missile capable of destroying enemy aircraft at all altitudes up to 15 miles, Congress has been told.

Brig. Gen. Stanley R. Mickelson, head of research for special weapons, also told congressmen the goal is to protect American cities largely with guided missiles firing at ranges several times greater than present antiaircraft guns.

Maj. Gen. E. T. Bullene, chief of the Chemical Corps, warned that Russia is believed to be "intensively" exploiting new nerve gases developed by Nazi Germany. "Much of the German equipment and many German research men in this field are now in Russia," he said.

These disclosures were in testimony taken early this month and released March 30 by a House appropriations subcommittee considering budget requests.

SECRET OF THE LAKES

A vessel whose name is still secret is said to lie at the bottom of Lake Michigan off the coast of Big Bay De Noc, near Escanaba. The hold of the sunken ship is believed to contain four and a half million dollars in gold bullion.

The interior of Hodges' ultra-modern drug store, taken by the candid camera one year ago, when it was opened to the public.

TIME MARCHES ON - - - -

APRIL 11th AND 12th--OUR BIRTHDAY

ONE YEAR AGO WE MOVED INTO OUR PRESENT STORE

TIME MARCHES ON . . . . although it seems like only yesterday, it was one year ago this month that we moved into our new, ultra-modern store at 120 East Chicago Boulevard.

During the past twelve months, you — the public—have had an opportunity to visit our store, enjoy the services that we offer, and become acquainted with the many departments of what we believe to be Tecumseh's finest health center.

And now, as we observe our First Anniversary in our new store, it is our desire to say THANK YOU to our many, many friends and customers who have made this birthday possible. Without your patronage, without your friendship and loyalty, it would have been impossible for us to have observed this anniversary, on April 11th and 12th.

Please accept our sincere thanks. Please feel free to call upon us at any time for any of the services that we offer. This is YOUR store, it is here for only one purpose—to be of service to the public. If, at any time, you can suggest improvements, bring your suggestions to us. In the future, as in the past, we shall constantly strive to improve our facilities.

FREE ORCHID CORSAGES for THE LADIES

FAVORS FOR MEN AND CHILDREN

We will be expecting you to visit us on Friday or Saturday, April 11 or 12, the date of our anniversary. For every lady visiting our store on those days, we have an orchid corsage. There will be favors, too, for the men and the children who call to see us.

We could have observed our birthday with a sales event, but we felt that such a promotion would be too commercial. After all, birthdays are birthdays, and we'd rather forget the commercial aspect for a day or two and just renew acquaintances and make new friends.

Please don't forget — we'll be looking for you!

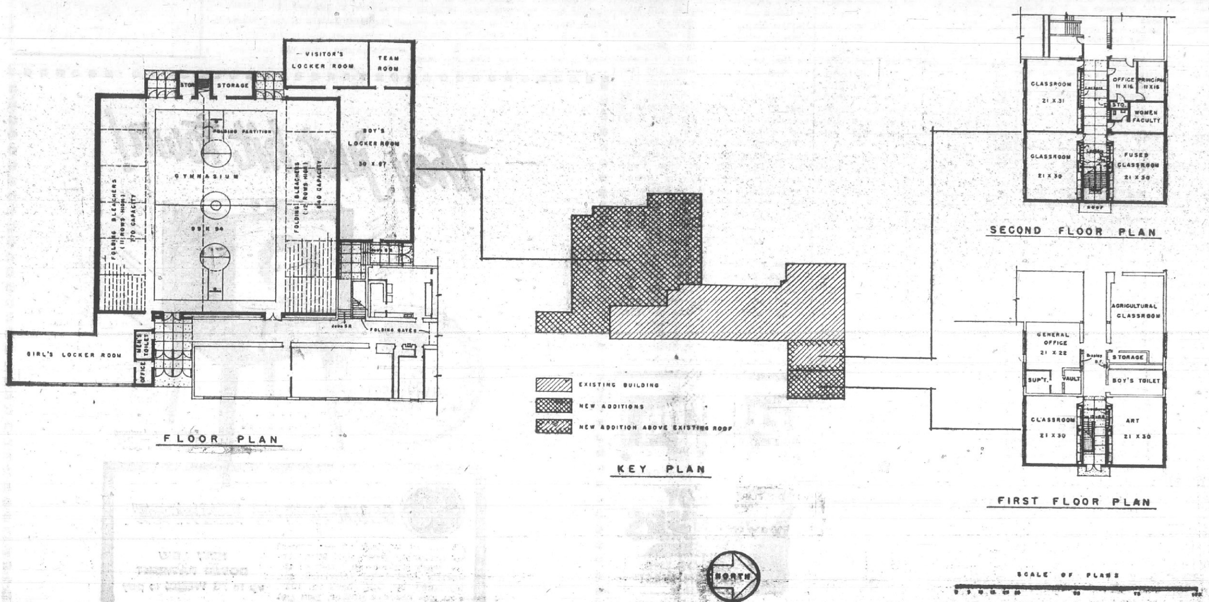
THE TECUMSEH HERALD

ONE HUNDRED FIRST YEAR—NUMBER 37 TECUMSEH, MICHIGAN, APRIL 17, 1952 FIVE CENTS A COPY



The drawing above shows the floor plan of the proposed enlarged high school. It is almost self-explanatory. The center drawing shows the existing building, plus the proposed expansion, the drawing at the right, the first and second floor plans, and the one at the left the floor plan of the proposed new gymnasium. The cost of adding the five classrooms, two offices and faculty room to the building is estimated at $80,000, and the all-purpose gymnasium at $307,000. Equipment will cost an additional $22,000. Next week, The Herald will print a floor plan for the proposed new elementary school on North Union street, which will cost $300,000, plus an additional $10,000 for equipment. Architects fees amount to $41,000, bringing the total cost of the two buildings to $760,000. However, taxpayers will be asked to vote a bond issue of only $650,000 to cover the cost, because the School District is receiving an anonymous gift of $100,000, if the proposal is endorsed. The remaining $10,000 necessary to finance the program will be taken from the school's general fund.

School Bond Vote May 6th

FRIDAY, APRIL 25, LAST DAY TO REGISTER; $100,000 GIFT AVAILABLE

Electors who desire to cast their ballots in the May 6th school district bonding election should make sure, not later than Friday, April 25, that they are registered, James McDowell, superintendent of schools, said today. The state law provides that unregistered voters may not cast their ballots.

Any voter who now is registered with the township clerk, and who is eligible to vote in a state or township election, need not reregister. However, if he is not registered, and is not qualified to vote in a state or township election, then he must register.

Two proposals will be submitted to the electors on May 6. The first one will be to continue a 13 mill tax rate for school debt retirement for a 15-year period. Any qauilified elector is eligible to vote on this issue.

The second proposal, that of issuing $650,000 worth of bonds for the building of a new elementary school and an addition to the high school, may be voted on ONLY by "persons having the qualifications of electors who have property assessed for taxes" in any part of the school district, or the lawful husbands or wives of such persons.

The words "property assessed for taxes" are construed to refer to property taxed under the General Property Tax Act. Such property must be assessed on the township or village tax roll, and must be located within the boundary of the school district. It may be either real or personal property.

The place of registration for the election is with H. H. Hanna, clerk of Tecumseh township. His office is located in the office of LeRoy Titley, supervisor, in the Strand Theatre building. The office is open from 9 a.m., to 5 p.m., daily, except Saturday afternoon, and 5 p.m., Friday, April 25, is the last day to register.

The proposal to bond the district for $650,000 for the building of the new school buildings was announced last week by the board of education. At that time the board let it be known that a $100,000 anonymous gift would be available to the district if the proposal was endorsed by the electors. This would make possible the building of $760,000 worth of new buildings here within the next year and a half. Of that amount, $10,000 would be taken from the district's general fund.

It was pointed out, when the announcement was made, that the proposed building program and bonding plan would not increase the present school tax rate to property owners. Four years ago, the

We Don't Wait Till Christmas For Our Gifts

The Board of Education's program to build $760,000 worth of new school buildings here, and the anonymous gift of $100,000 that will enable the District to do the job by bonding for only $650,000, again reminds us that, for the past several years, almost any month in the year has been Christmas, insofar as gifts to local property owners were concerned.

We wonder if the voters in Tecumseh and in School District No. 7 realize, fully, just how much money has been given to them in the past five years, to say nothing about additional thousands that were forthcoming in the preceding decade.

It might be well for us to pause for a moment and "count our blessings," one by one.

Two anonymous gifts were announced in Tecumseh last week. The first one, of course, was for $100,000 toward the building of the new elementary school and the addition to the new high school, providing, of course, that the electors approve the bonding issue on May 6.

The second anonymous gift was for $3,000 worth of equipment for adding additional fluoride to the local water supply for the purpose of reducing the susceptibility of dental decay. Most of us, probably, have not yet fully realized the full import of this gift. But scientific tests show that fluoride is vitally important in reducing tooth decay. Tests also show that Tecumseh's water supply is lacking in fluoride.

Those of us who are adults probably will receive little benefit from the treatment of the water. We're too old to have it do much good. The benefits will go to the children, the kindergarteners and the pre-kindergarteners, according to science, tests have shown that tooth decay is reduced as much as 40 per cent when drinking water contains the proper amount of fluoride.

Other communities in this area, including Adrian and Blissfield, would like to give their water supplies the fluoride treatment. But money is involved—taxpayers' money. No one, in those communities, is coming forward with a gift. Here, we say, we are fortunate. Maybe we, as adults, are not as grateful as we should be, but our children and our grandchildren will reap the reward, and extend a belated thank you.

It was only a few weeks ago that an anonymous gift of $250,000 was made to the Village on behalf of Herrick Memorial Hospital. This money will be used, over a five year period, to enlarge that institution and make it one of the largest and most complete institutions of its kind in Lenawee county.

It was only a little more than a year ago that Mr. and Mrs. Ray W. Herrick contributed more than $80,000 for the building of an addition to the hospital, and that addition is now in use. And it also should be remembered that the hospital was originally built with "gifts," that it was turned over to the Village free of debt, and that it has cost the taxpayers a little more than $30,000 since it was opened. some 14 years ago.

Going back only five years, when the School District found it necessary to build a new high school, Mr. Herrick and members of the Products "family" announced a gift of $145,000 to help defray that expense. The result was that the school was built, five-year bonds were issued to pay for it, and today the district is technically free of debt — one year earlier than was anticipated. The last of the five-year bonds are not due until 1953, but the District has the cash to retire them.

In the last five years, then, Tecumseh has received in gifts, (if the voters next month accept the $100,000 offered), nearly $600,000. Prior to that time there were others, including a new fire truck, a police radio, and many, many other contributions.

We sometimes wonder if we realize, fully, just how fortunate we are, here in Tecumseh. We sometimes wonder if we, as taxpayers, realize completely how many, many benefits we are enjoying that we would not be able to enjoy, were it not for such generous giving.

Again we have outgrown our school buildings. We must have larger and more buildings if we are to properly educate our youngsters. Next fall, some of our children must use the library and a church or two for classrooms —a makeshift operation until we can get the new buildings built.

And again, anonymous gifts are forthcoming to take off a part of the financial load from the taxpayers, to make the expansion possible. Always, it seems, when we get into a financial "jam" there's assistance forthcoming.

No, we don't need to wait until Christmas, here in Tecumseh, for our presents. They seem to come along, just at the opportune time.

And that's why we say that we wonder if we, as residents of Tecumseh, fully realize how fortunate we are to have such generous benefactors.

Thanksgiving is quite a few months away, but it might be well if we'd pause, just for a moment or two, and "count our blessings."

"They Look After Everything...."

Many families we have served so mention the completeness of our service.

It is not kindness nor friendship that prompts this very complete service. It is our duty and our business to lighten your burdens, and we accept our responsibility fully.

It makes you comfortable all over

Buick engineers have a habit of getting at the bottom of things.

So they're not content to stop with putting beneath you cushions that are luxuriously soft and deep.

They also put big, soft, deep coil springs between you and all four wheels — and big, soft tires between the wheels and the road.

But real riding comfort calls for more than cushioning up-and-down jolts and jars.

There's end-sway and side-roll and "wander" to be controlled. There's sure-footed balance on curves. Not to mention the importance of having a frame stout and husky enough to make the whole car feel safely solid.

So Buick engineers have gone through the list—come up with a ride that cost a cool million dollars and more for special engineering, tooling and components.

Does that cover Buick's comfort story? It certainly does not.

There's the comfort of driving a car that instinctively holds the road — the comfort of ample room and a wide-open view of the world around you—the comfort of fabric colors that please the eye and fabric textures that please the touch —and the effortless smoothness of Dynaflow Drive.*

Then there's the mental comfort of bossing power mighty enough to meet any demand you make upon it in emergency — 8-cylinder power — high-compression power—valve-in-head power—Fireball power, that makes you proud of the miles you get from a gallon of gas.

And maybe you'll also find comfort in knowing that this great automobile can be yours at a price that is still just a small step above what's known as "the low-priced three."

On top of all this, driving a Buick's a barrel of fun. Why not drop in tomorrow and ask us to prove it?

*Equipment, accessories, trim and models are subject to change without notice. Wheel Crests standard on ROADMASTER, optional at extra cost on other Series. White sidewalls optional at extra cost when available Standard on ROADMASTER, optional at extra cost on other Series.

$100 Television Sets Are Seen For Future

New York—In four or five years you may be able to buy for about $100 a television set that will give you a picture three or four feet across.

That prediction was made here by Benjamin Abrams, president of Emerson Radio & Phonograph Corp., in announcing $20 to $50 price reductions in his own firm's line of TV sets.

Mr. Abrams said that in a few years, technological developments might result in sets greatly changed from present types. Printed circuits, tiny amplifying devices called transistors, and other advancements, he said, might bring a small set that projects its picture on your living room wall.

Meanwhile, he said his own firm was setting new low prices for present type sets in an effort "to become the Ford of the television industry" and open new markets.

The two principal models in the program are a 17-inch table set selling for $179.95, down $50 from the previous price, and a 20-inch table set for $229.95, a reduction of $20. The prices do not include tube and parts warranty and federal excise tax which amount to about $19 for a 17-inch set.

Mr. Abrams predicted that the lifting of the three and one-half-year government freeze on new stations, expected shortly, would bring 20 to 30 new stations on the air this year and 300 more in 1953.

School Bond

district voted a 13 mill tax for debt retirement when the new high school was built. Since that time, the district has been able to make funds available for the retirement of these bond, one year earlier than was planned. While there are still some $93,000 worth of the bonds outstanding, there is, in a special fund, the cash available for their retirement.

It was pointed out that the May 6 bonding proposal means only that the present 13 mill tax rate would be continued for a period of 15 years, for the purpose of retiring the new bond issue.

"There would be no increase in the present tax rate to property owners," Mr. McDowell said, speaking for the board. "It is just a continuation of the present rate. The state demands that we spread the bond issue over a 15-year period. This, then, we must do. However, revenue figures in the district show that we should be able to pay the bonds off in seven or eight years, instead of 15 years. The 15-year demand on the part of the state is simply a safety factor, and should make the bonds more attractive to purchasers. However, they will be callable after perhaps five years, and then we can retire them as rapidly as funds are available."

The board's proposed building program calls for the addition of five class rooms to the present high school, a woman's faculty room and one office. It also asks for the building of a 14-room elementary school on property recently acquired on North Union street. If the bonding proposal is approved, work can get under way on both expansion projects, and they can be ready for occupancy probably by mid-semester in 1953.

McDowell pointed out that the Tecumseh public schools at the present time have outgrown existing facilities. The high school is taxed beyond its capacity and some senior high school classes are meeting in the Central school. Next fall, he said, to accommodate the sharp increase in enrollment, the public library and one or two churches must be used for classroom purposes.

The proposed building project also calls for the addition of a gymnasium to the high school, with seating capacity for 1,600 persons.

"At the present time we have 1,223 students enrolled in our schools," the superintendent said. "Next September, census figures show that we will have an enrollment of 1,350, and that we will need five more classrooms than we now have. In the fall of 1953 we will need classroom accommodations for 1,478 pupils, and in 1954 that number will increase to 1,565. When the year 1955 arrives there will be 1,648 students enrolled in our schools. We base these figures on the present census. It does not allow for any new students who might move into our district."

The voting at the May 6 election will take place in the cafeteria of the new high school building. It was pointed out that since Districts No. 5 and 7 have consolidated as District No. 7, all qualified voters in the new enlarged area are eligible to vote.

Sees Cutback In Income Tax

FATHER OF "PAY-AS-YOU-GO" PLAN NOW THINKS ROLL-BACK IS IN OFFING

Washington — Beardsley Ruml, father of the pay-as-you-go tax collecting system, predicted here that "sometime in the near future the possibility will arise for a large rolldown of expenditures and of taxes, particularly of tax rates."

"The magnitude of this change will be such as to have a permanent effect on the quality and dimensions of American life from that time on," he said.

The New York economist, former chairman of the New York Federal Reserve Bank Board, made his forecast in testimony prepared for a Senate-House economic subcommittee looking into general credit control and debt management.

Allan Sproul, president of the New York Federal Reserve Bank, was on the stand previously, but Mr. Ruml authorized release of his own statement prior to his actual appearance on the stand.

Mr. Ruml told a reporter that he believes the time for a cutback in taxes and government spending will come no later than 1955. By then, he said, the nation's productive machinery will almost certainly have caught up with demand.

In preparation for the decisions he said must be made then, Mr. Ruml advocated establishment of a fiscal and monetary consultant unit within the government, created by legislation which would specify the board's responsibilities, duties and limitations.

Mr. Sproul was cool toward the idea of establishing an advisory council on monetary and financial problems. He said:

"I certainly would not want to suggest such a body as advisory to the President, with the implication that final decisions in this field, as in so many others, might be made by the presidential office. The practical effect of this might be to place the federal reserve under the domination of the Treasury or to place both the Federal Reserve Board and the Treasury under the domination of some White House group."

Mr. Sproul said he believes that "free and extensive consultation" between the Treasury and the FRB has helped repair differences between the two bodies on coordination of debt management and credit policy.

"We all have the same great objective, the maintenance of the integrity of the dollar and the stability of our economy," he said.

"No important changes in our powers nor major alterations in our structural forms are necessary to achieve our purpose."

Edward Eagle Brown, chairman of the board of the First National Bank of Chicago, told the lawmakers in his prepared testimony that if the Federal Reserve Board and the Treasury cannot compromise their differences on an important matter, "the members of the board should resign, and thus call to the attention of the people and the Congress their belief that treasury action threatens economic stability."

Our Cakes
ARE AS GOOD AS THEY LOOK

Certainly, our cakes do look like a million dollars, but that isn't all. They not only have eye-appeal, they have taste-appeal, too. They're just as good as they look.

The reason — that's easy. We use nothing but the finest ingredients — plenty of eggs, milk, sugar and shortening.

Hi Nabor Party

"Th only thing that we are promoting in connection with the Hi Nabor party is good will," Robert H. Moore, president of the Tecumseh Chamber, said today. "There is nothing to sell, all that we hope to accomplish is a feeling of better understanding between the several communities."

There will be a dozen or more industrial displays at the Club, Mr. Moore said. All industry in Tecumseh and in the several participating communities have been asked to have displays and the response is complete, Moore said.

"Persons who would like to do so, are welcome to come to the club at any time after 3 p.m., on Tuesday, so that they may better see the displays. There will be many interesting features, and I am certain that all of us will have a better understanding of our industrial life, as a result of the show," Moore said.

Mr. McIntyre recently was named program director of WJR in addition to his duties as station educational director. McIntyre was narrator of the "Know Your America" program for five years. 250,000 PREFABS BUILT IN U. S. SINCE WORLD WAR II

Chicago—A quarter of a million prefabricated homes have been built in the United States since World War II.

The figure was reported by Harry H. Steidle, manager of the Prefabricated Home Manufacturers' Institute, at the start of a two-day meeting of the institute.

Mr. Steidle of Washington, D.C., said the 250,000 prefabs represent one out of every 25 new dwelling units built since the war in non-farm areas of the United States.

He said prefabrication has steadily gained acceptance by both the public, the builder and the mortgage lender.

Mr. Steidle said that in 1952, prefabricators expect to supply 8 per cent of all new homes built.

Says Michigan Voters Are Demanding Leadership

By William C. Vandenberg, Lieut. Gov., Michigan

Michigan Republicans are finding, in their early campaign year surveys, ample evidence of a demand for forthright and honest leadership. They appear to have substantial cause for forecasting a decisive victory in November.

The party is prepared to go into the campaign unified and strong. There is widespread dissatisfaction with bewildered, loose-end government which seems to have as its purpose the exploitation of the people for the benefit of the favored few.

Those who work for a living, whether in factories, in the fields of in other endeavors have seen their buying power become stagnant, while national income and production mounted sharply. They have learned that blind tax and spend policies, in the state and nation, are doing them great harm. They are tired of donating a week out of every four to support drones and their fantastic schemes. Leadership of high order, which will meet the problems of the day head on, and which will cut the activities of government to a pattern which the people can afford, — rather than to the wishes of those on the public payroll, — was never more needed.

It is essential, for the good of those who earn their living and pay the bills, that prankish government be replaced by sound government. The management of the affairs of a great state is a trust of vital importance. It should not be entrusted to pixies, whose inclinations lean toward having fun rather than leadership.

Responsible government will see ways of cutting expenses, rather than searching for ways to raise more money. Education, institutions for the care of the mentally and physically sick and the healthy development of agricultural and business production and employment deserve full support. Agencies created for the pleasure of cliques deserve elimination.

The people deserve some consideration. They haven't been getting it.

The Tecumseh Chamber of Commerce, as a service to all of Lenawee County, presents the real life story of Matt Cvetic, which shocked 40,000,000 Americans when it appeared in the Saturday Evening Post, and made additional millions of citizens aware of the Red menace when it was dramatized on the movie screen. During the nine years in which he posed as a communist for the Federal Bureau of Investigation, this man reported step-by-step to the F. B. I. the Red plots to undermine our country, and each secret he learned was worth his life. This story now on WABJ each Sunday, starting April 20.

Interest Keen In School Vote

HEAVY REGISTRATION IS REPORTED BEFORE APRIL 25; ELECTION ON MAY 6

Interest is keen in the election on Tuesday, May 6, at which time voters in School District No. 7 will decide whether or not $650,000 worth of bonds will be issued to build a five-room addition to the new high school and a gymnasium, and a new elementary school on North Union street.

The District's building program actually costs $760,000. However, a gift of $100,000 by anonymous benefactors, and $10,000 that is available from the school's general fund, reduces the bond issue to the $650,000 figure.

It was pointed out today by school officials that the proposed bond issue will not increase the present rate of taxation here for school purposes. Four years ago, when the new high school was built, voters approved a 13-mill tax for the project. This tax was to continue for five years. However, growth of the community and increased tax revenue as a result, has made it possible for the district to have available cash to retire the bonds in four years instead of five. Technically, the new high school building is at the present time debt free.

The issue that will come before the electors on May 6 is, briefly, this: That the 13-mill tax rate be continued for 15 years for the purpose of the new construction.

School officials explained that the State Finance Commission desired that the bonds be issued on a 15-year basis but, actually, it is expected that they will be retired in from seven to eight years. The 15-year clause is merely a safety factor. Bonds will be callable after four or five years. It is expected

Bargain Days This Week-end

MERCHANTS PLAN SPECIAL PROMOTION FOR CONVENIENCE OF SHOPPERS HERE

This week Friday and Saturday, April 25 and 26, will be special bargain days in Tecumseh. Merchants in all lines of business have scheduled special promotions for the two days, and, as a result, the Chamber of Commerce said that shoppers would find "bargains galore," village-wide.

The two-day shopping event was scheduled about a month ago by the Retail Division of the Chamber of Commerce. In all probability, similar events will be held at least once each month, toward the month's end.

"Tecumseh offers bargains in all commercial lines, every day in the week, but on the days of these special events, there will be still further price reductions," a spokesman for the Chamber said. "The merchants want to impress upon

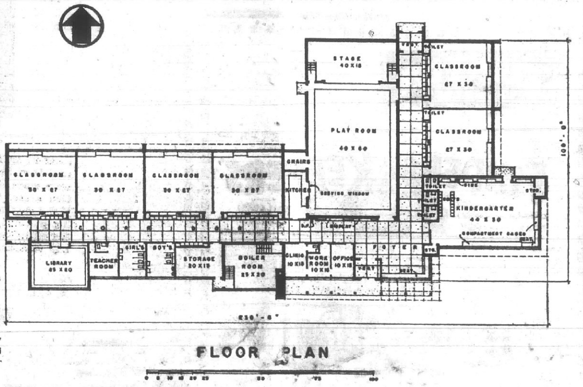
Scale drawing above shows location of the proposed new $300,000 elementary school, located on a site on North Union street. The building will set back from Union street, and will be accessible not only from Union street but from Van Buren and Democratic streets, which will be extended. There will be ample parking space for cars.

Drawing at the right shows the floor plan of the building itself. It will be strictly an elementary school, with six classrooms, a kindergarten room, playroom with stage, a library, teachers' room, clinic, work room and office. The 10-acre plot affords ample play space around the building to permit segregation of kindergarteners from older students.

The floor plan is so arranged as to permit the addition of four more clasrooms with very little expense, should the need arise. The heating system will be ample to care for the additional rooms.



McIntyre Talks At Banquet Here

265 ATTEND HI NABOR CHAMBER OF COMMERCE PROGRAM AT COUNTRY CLUB

Pleading for a moral re-awakening in America and the return to some of the basic philosophies of our founding fathers, Dale McIntyre, educational director of Radio Station WJR, Detroit, spoke, Tuesday evening, at the annual Hi Nabor Banquet of the Chamber of Commerce here. The dinner-meeting was held at the Country Club and was attended by 265 persons.

Mr. McIntyre, nationally known for his "Know Your America" radio program, declared that there must be some absolutes in the morals code if the American way of life is to be preserved. He pointed to the lack of interest in government, and the failure of Americans to use their right of franchise at all levels.

SHERIFF LOANS AUTO TO TECUMSEH POLICE

Several persons have noticed a Lenawee sheriff's department car on the streets of Tecumseh during the past two weeks. The reason, Sheriff Wade Willett, said today, is that the car has been loaned by his department to the police here, for use until the new Tecumseh police car arrives. The old police car was badly in need of repair, and Council decided to purchase a new one.

GIRLS APPREHENDED

Four girls from the Girls Training School, Adrian, were apprehended by police here, early Tuesday morning, and returned to the school. According to officers, the children, ranging in age from 13 to 16, fled the school earlier in the day.

Do Not Throw Waste In Roads

SHERIFF'S DEPARTMENT WARNS THAT VIOLATORS WILL BE TAKEN INTO COURT

Now that Spring has arrived, Sheriff Wade Willett said today that residents of Tecumseh and in this area of the county are disposing of waste, including garbage and rubbsh, by throwing it from their cars along the highways, particularly county roads.

"This is a violation of the law," Sheriff Willett said. "Littering the county's roads with garbage, waste paper and the like is prohibited, and persons who violate the law are subject to a fine of not more than $100 or imprisonment in the county jail for not more than 90 days, or both, in the discretion of the court."

Within the past week, the sheriff said, his office has received many complaints from rural residents about the disposal of refuse. In all instances, the sheriff said, the

HERE IS WHY TECUMSEH NEEDS MORE CLASSROOMS FOR ITS CHILDREN

School Enrollment of 1,648 Expected Here in 1955

So that the voters in School District No. 7 may better understand the growth of the Tecumseh public schools, James McDowell, superintendent, today made public these figures:

In 1945, seven years ago, 645 students — kindergarten through the 12th grade — were enrolled. At that time, existing buildings were large enough to hold the enrollment.

Three years later, due to growth, the new high school became necessay and was built. However, in 1951, last year, the enrollment had grown to 1,223 and exicsting buildings, including the new high school, were one classroom short of the school's needs.

The projected enrollment for September of this year, according to the census, is 1,350 students and existing buildings will be five classrooms short.

By the fall of 1953, the enrollment will climb to 1,478 and eight more classrooms will be needed.

In September of 1954, the anticipated enrollment figures are 1,565, and 11 classrooms will be needed to house the students.

In the fall of 1955, just three years away, 13 more classrooms will be needed than exist at the present time. The enrollment in 1955 is expected to be 1,648.

"In projecting the enrollment figures," Mr. McDowell said, "we have not taken into consideration any growth in the community. Our figures are based on school census reports. There are sufficient preschool age children in Tecumseh at the present time to cause the enrollment growth anticipated."

The building expansion program proposed by the board of education and for which it is asking a $650,000 bond issue on May 6, will provide the rooms necessary to take care of this growth. The buildings will cost $760,000, but a gift of $100,000 by anonymous benefactors, reduces the construction cost about 13 per cent.

Whelan To Open New Farm Machinery Sales

The new "Farm Machinery Market," a retail sales yard for used, rebuilt and new farm machinery will be opened for business next Friday, April 25, at M-50 and Occidental Road, just west of Tecumseh. Operated by Hoyt E. Whelan Co., local John Deere dealers, it is expected to be one of the largest projects of its kind in Southern Michigan.

Much of the used farm machinery handled by the Whelan firm is rebuilt in their shops and sold with a guarantee. However, it is planned to have the new Farm Machinery Market feature all makes and conditions of used machinery, and to maintain a showing of new equipment. Fay Whelan, owner, says that his organization has been gradually enlarged to provide personnel for this new sales facility.

Curb, Gutter Costs Assessed

60% TO BE PAID BY PROPERTY OWNERS, 40% BY THE VILLAGE AT LARGE

Curb and gutter installations in the Village of Tecumseh will be paid for by an assessment of 60% of the cost to abutting property owners and 40% by the village, the Council decided at its meeting on Monday evening. The Council enacted an ordinance governing the program, and made it retroactive to January 1.

Assessed property owners have three years in which to pay for the cost of the improvement, if they so desire. A five per cent discount will be given however, if the cost is paid within 30 days from the date of billing.

Council also adopted an ordinance governing and controlling the disposal of garbage. The Village recently issued a franchise for the disposal of refuse to a private operator.

Truman Says He's Done His Damndest

A few days ago, President Truman seized the nation's steel mills. He did so, he implied, in the best interests of the country. Last week, at a press conference attended by more than 500 newspaper editors, Mr. Truman implied that, should he find it to be the best interests of the country, he also, under similar circumstances, had the power to seize the newspapers and the radio stations.

To the real American newspaper editor, those were fighting words. Just who does Mr. Truman think that he is? Is Mr. Truman greater than the Constitution of the United States and the Bill of Rights? Is America's guarantee of free speech, a free press, and the right of worship according to the dictates of one's conscience gone?

If what Mr. Truman implied is true, why are we fighting Korea? Why did we fight World War I and World War II?

Maybe we're a bit oldfashioned, but our history book taught us that in the days of our founding fathers we fought a Revolutionary War to gain our independence. We also were taught, and we still believe, that the Constiution and the Bill of Rights, guaranteeing certain right and privileges, were written by God-fearing men, and that their work was Divinely inspired. We also feel that in two World Wars we fought to defend, uphold and maintain the American way of life.

We have been told, since the Korean "police job," that we were in Korea for a similar purpose—attempting to hold back a communistic or socialistic menace that threatened America and the freedom for which it stands.

If what Mr. Truman implied at his press conference last week represents the thinking of his Administration, we can't but wonder just why we are fighting in Korea. Is the "police effort" there a smoke screen to hide from our eyes, and to keep our minds off some of the things that are going on here, under our very noses?

We don't want any piece or part of communism or socialism. We're dead set against it, we'll do anything within our power to stop its spread. We love America, we love every word of its Constitution and its Bill of Rights. We sincerely believe that both instruments were Divinely inspired, and we believe that every red-blooded American feels the same way, and will fight at the drop of the hat, those who would destroy our way of life.

That, we are told, is why we are fighting in Korea, and why we are worrying about the spread of communism and socialism.

But right here at home, in the White House, America's elected leader implies that, despite the Constitution and the Bill of Rights, he has, if he so desires, the right to throttle the press and the radio. He did, of course, seize the steel mills.

There is no law that we know about that gave Mr. Truman the right to seize the steel mills, and neither is there any law that would permit him to seize the newspapers or the radio.

In Russia, where there is a dictator, such laws are not necessary. The desires of the dictator are the laws of the land.

America is not Russia—despite Mr. Truman's whims—and the sooner he and his administration learn that fact the better off all America will be. And, by the same token, if those are Mr. Truman's ideas about America, the sooner he is out of office the better off the country will be, too.

Apparently Mr. Truman and his press secretary realize the blunder that he had made after he had opened his mouth. He said that probably there were a million people in the United States who could do his job better than he was doing it. (Maybe the figure is too small). Anyway, he said he'd done his best, in fact he implied that "he'd done his damndest."

It's nice to know how a President feels on such issues as the seizure of the press and the radio because, once the newspapers and the radio learn the facts, they can be prepared for the worst. But should Mr. Truman attempt such a seizure, you can bet all that you've got that the newspapers will not accept his self-imposed powers lying down.

Little by little, over the past 20 years, we have been losing our liberties in America. We are told every day what we can do and what we can't do, as individuals and as groups. And as the days go by, more and more do's and don'ts are added to the list.

America needs to wake up, to think and to decide whether our right to free speech, a free press, the right to worship according to the dictates of our own conscience, still should remain in the Bill of Rights.

If the answer is yes, then Mr. Truman is wrong.

If You're Burning Trash, Be Sure To Watch Fire

State Police Commissioner Donald S. Leonard, who is also state fire marshal, warns Michigan residents that spring cleaning may turn out to be a costly chore if special care is not taken when burning trash.

"Our fire loss reports show that local fire departments throughout the state are called more than 10,000 times each year when trash fires ignite buildings and surrounding property," Leonard said. "At least 1,000 buildings are destroyed or damaged. Such waste can be prevented if a few simple precautionary steps are taken.

"One of the most dangerous practices is starting trash fires on windy days. With a calm day when the fire can be controlled more easily and there will not be so much danger of it spreading. Remember, too, fire has no respect for property lines.

"It is always best to burn trash away from buildings and use a properly screened trash burner. After lighting the fire, stay close by, don't leave it unattended. Keep a shovel or rake and water handy. When the fire appears to be out, make sure it is out by sprinkling dirt or water over the ashes.

"Avoid needless trouble and expense for yourself, your neighbor and your fire department. Be especially careful with trash fires."

Interest Keen

that an interest rate of not more than two percent will be possible.

If the bond issue is approved, the $100,000 gift will become immediately available. This means that the benefactors are paying approximately 13 per-cent of the cost of the construction.

Approval of the bond issue May 6 would mean that the District would immediately seek bids for the construction of the buildings. Work propably would be started within a month or two, and it is hoped that the buildings would be ready for occupancy by mid-semester in 1953.

Any voter who now is registered with the township clerk, and who is eligible to vote in a state or township election, need not register for the vote on May 6. However, if he is not registered, and is not qualified to vote in a state or township election, then he must register. The clerk's office in the Strand Theatre building will be open daily and until 5 p.m., Friday.

Two proposals will be submitted to electors. First, will be the one to continue the 13-mill tax for 15 years. Any qualified elector is eligible to vote on this issue. The second proposal, to issue the bonds, may be voted on ONLY by "persons having the qualifications of electors who have property assessed for taxes" in any part of the school district, or the lawful husband or wife of such a person.

That residents of the district may understand how badly more school buildings are needed here, James McDowell, superintendent, said today that in the fall of 1952 it will be necessary to hold a first grade class in the basement of the public library. A kindergarten class will meet in some building, still to be rented by the district.

Noon classes at Tecumseh high school will be necessary next year, he said, even though the music classes are held in the Central school auditorium and in the high school cafeteria.

"This is perhaps, hard to understand," Mr. McDowell said, "since we have just finished paying for a new high school building in four years. However, at the time the new high school was occupied, two and a half years ago, it was necessary to leave the high school music, art and gym classes in the Central building. The overcrowding has progressed to a point where it is no longer possible to operate without noon classes. The next step, if additional rooms are not provided for the children, is to go on a half-day schedule, which will jeopardise the education of the children of the community."

Pupils who attend school here from the rural areas are not principally the cause of our present overcrowding, it was said. There has been no marked increase in tuition-paying pupils in the high school since 1945, and none is expected. In the grades there has been no marked increase since 1945, except for the original District No. 5, which is now a part of Tecumseh District 7. These residents will, of course, pay the same school taxes as in the Village of Tecumseh, and so help to build the needed additions and new facilities.

It was pointed out that the local schools are operating on one of the lowest operating budgets in the county. The actual operating millage collection the 1951-52 school year was 7.9 and yet the educational program of the local schools is considered very high in the state. The debt service for 1951-52 was 13 mills and if the electors vote to continue the debt service, the proposed buildings would be paid for in seven to eight years, it was said. It was stressed that the voters are not being asked to provide unnecessary classrooms in the present building program. The board has studied the needs very carefully, and only the minimum needs have been considered, it was declared.

In the office of the township clerk, it was said that registration during the past few days has been very heavy. Folk apparently are interested in the bonding proposal and desire to vote.

"I don't see how it could be otherwise," an interested taxpayer said today. "When somebody is giving us 13 per cent of what we need to do the job — a job that must be done anyway, if we are to educate our children — I cannot see how anyone can seriously oppose it."

Do Not Throw

waste has been taken to the country in cars or trucks and then dumped along the highway.

"Our deputies respond to these calls and in each instance they are making a careful invetigation. As soon as we can definitely find who is dumping the debri, we will take them into court," Willett said.

The sheriff pointed out that it costs the taxpayers money to answer these calls, and that the public, generally, should have sufficient pride not to litter the roads with rubbish.

"Tecumseh has a good dump, and persons who have garbage or rubbish to dispose of can use the dump as easily as they can the roads," Willett said. "However, if the practice continues, we will have to bring somebody into court and let the judge impose a sentence."

Associated Telephone Will Change Name Soon

The name of Michigan Associated Telephone Company, will be changed to General Telephone Company of Michigan, as soon as the required action to accomplish this is taken, F. E. Norris, president, announced today. Mr. Norris said that the name was being changed along with those of all of the major subsidiaries of General Telephone Corporation. He added that this involved no change in the management or operations of Michigan Associated.

The name changes will affect 12 subsidiary companies serving more than 1,435,000 telephones in 3600 communities from coast to coast. In each case, the new name will include the word "General."

In an announcement made in New York at the same time, Donald C. Power, president of General Telephone Corporation, explained that the purpose of the changes was to achieve uniformity and to make General Telephone System better known to the investing public. Mr. Power pointed out that, although the system is one of the nation's larger public utilities, with plant in operation of about a third of a billion dollars, the name "General Telephne" is known to relatively few people other than the parent company's 25,000 present stockholders.

Gas Heating Survey Begun

CONSUMERS INSPECTS "WAITING LIST" TO DETERMINE WHO STILL WANTS GAS

Residents of the Jackson division area of Consumers Power Company, which includes Tecumseh, who have applied for gas space heating service have been asked by Division Manager H. H. Koelbel to indicate whether they still want the service.

Mr. Koelbel said the company is surveying applicants to enable it to bring its priority list of space heating applicants up to date.

Hhe said the Jackson division has been allocated 931 new gas space heating jobs, and that the priority list will be followed in installing them. Many residents of Blissfield, Tecumseh, Clinton and Manchester, as well as Jackson, have applied for the service. The names of those who applied have been kept in chronological order, and it is impossible at this time to know how many persons in each individual community will receive the service, he said.

Mr. Koelbel said the priority list has been kept by the company since last September when Consumers Power took names for 10,000 space heating jobs it was allowed to connect at that time. The list has gradually grown, he said, and will be brought up to date now that the company has been allowed to connect an additional 15,000 space heating customers this Spring.

He said the list now exceeds 1,800 applications in the Jackson division, and only 931 jobs have been allowed this division. He predicted that some applicants might drop out in view of the fact that Consumers has recently applied to the Michigan Public Service Commission for an average increase of about 16 per cent in its gas rates. Others might drop out, Mr. Koelbel said, because since applying they have decided on other fuels for heating.

The company was granted permission to add the new customers by the Michigan Public Service Commission and the federal Petroleum Administration for Defense.

Mr. Koelbel added that it is the company's belief that, even if a higher gas rate is approved, natural gas will still be in line on a price basis with competing fuels.

residents of this trading area that Tecumseh is a good place to shop, that there is plenty of free parking, and that the stores are open for customers' convenience until 9 p.m., Saturday nights."

There are hundreds of men at work in factories here who do not reside in Lenawee county, and still more who live long distances from Tecumseh, but still in Lenawee. To better acquaint the families of these workmen with the story of the bargain days, the Chamber of Commerce this week is delivering personally, to all workmen at Tecumseh Products Co., a regular copy of The Herald.

"We trust that the workmen who receive copies of The Herald in this way will take the newspaper home and permit their families to read it. There will, of course, be many duplications; many regular subscribers will receive an extra copy through the factory distribution. Those who do get two copies are urged to give the second one to a friend, that his family, too, may learn of Tecumseh's advantages," it was said.

When you run into the fellow who knows a little bit more than you do, on every subject, you have run into a gas bag.

government that is detached from us," the speaker said. "We speak of those fellows in Washington or in Lansing. Actually, they are 'us' —they are there to represent us in our desires. The type of representation we get depends upon us as voters."

America, he said, is a God-loving nation. Our Constitution mentions the nation's belief in God. To succeed, he indicated, we must return to our basic philosophies.

The Hi Nabor party was participated in not only by Tecumseh but by surrounding communities, including Clinton, Tipton, Onsted, Ridgeway, Britton, Holloway, Deerfield, Macon and members of the Grange. It was one of the largest affairs ever to be served at the Club. It had as its purpose a closer understanding between the neighboring towns.

Guests at the banquet began arriving late in the afternoon and they remained long after the program to inspect the many exhibits by industry and the schools. Exhibitors included Tecumseh Products Co., Meyers Aircraft Co., with a plane; Bruce Foundry and Mfg. Co.; Quaker Oats Co.; Hayden Mills; Time Laboratory, Inc.; Revco from Deerfield; Clinton Machine Products and Clinton Woolen Mills from Clinton; Tecumseh Sash & Door Co.; R. & S. Manufacturing Co.; Ottawa Machine Products; Jones Sealing Agency; G. & J. Wood Products; Comfort Brick & Tile; Boysville of Macon, and the Tecumseh public schools.

The affair was staged by the Chamber of Commerce with the Rotary and Exchange clubs cooperating. Robert H. Moore, president of the Chamber, presided at the meeting and welcomed the guests. James McDowell asted as toastmaster and the invocation was by the Rev. Fr. Michael Collins. Music during the dinner was by Driscoll's Orchestra, and Glenn Driscoll directed group singing.

Between 6:30 and 7 p.m., a live broadcast was made from the dining room by Howard Heath, farm editor of Station WPAG, Ann Arbor. Dozens of folk attending the function were interviewed and heard over the air.

Do Not Worry About Cancer

SEE YOUR DOCTOR, HE WILL BE ABLE TO GIVE YOU THE ANSWER

Half of Michigan's annual toll of over 8,000 cancer deaths and a lot of needless worry could be prevented with present knowledge if it were applied, the Michigan Department of Health stated today in urging citizens of the state to use April, Cancer Control Month, to see their physicians for examinations for cancer.

Early discovery and early treatment are the keys to effective control of cancer, the Department said, and the greater share of the responsibility rests with the individual. He must take the initiative in arranging for periodic physical examinations.

If cancer is discovered early — when normal cells are just beginning to form into a tumor — between 80 and 90 percent can be cured through surgery, x-rays or radium treatment.

If cancer is discovered in a later stage, when cell growth is expanding around the area of the original site, it is still possible to cure half of the cases. In late stages of the disease, when the cancer has spread to other parts of the body, cures are unlikely.

For this reason, time is of the utmost importance in preventing cancer deaths. Each delay gives the cancer more time to spread and makes it more difficult to cure.

While the health department urges regular physical examinations as the first line of defense against cancer, it alerts everyone to be on the lookout for certain signs that occur early in many cases of cancer. These are:

1. Any sore that does not heal—particularly about the tongue, mouth or lips.
2. A painless lump or thickening, especially in the breast, lip or tongue.
3. Irregular bleeding or discharge from any natural body opening.
4. Progressive change in color or size of a wart, mole or birthmark.
5. Persistent indigestion.
6. Persistent hoarseness, unexplained cough or difficulty in swallowing.
7. Any persistent change in normal bowel habits.

While these signs do not necessarily mean cancer, they are indications that something is wrong and that the individual should have an immediate examination by his physician.

Don't worry and wait. See your doctor and be reassured.

MOBILGAS ECONOMY RUN
FORD 6

Ford's the Class "A" Winner for 3rd Consecutive Year!

New Ford Mileage Maker SIX Thriftiest in its Field!

Again this year . . . as in the past two years . . . Ford was first in gas economy over all other cars in its price class in the Mobilgas Economy Run. In this toughest test, a stock model Ford Six equipped with Overdrive (optional at extra cost) averaged 53.855 ton-miles per gallon and 25.463 actual miles per gallon.

This was a very special triumph for Ford's All-New Mileage Maker high-compression Six. For now, with its new design providing 101-horsepower and free-turning overhead valves, Ford is definitely pound-for-pound the most economical low-priced car to run! Yes . . . Ford's thrift was clearly proved by the 1,415-mile grind from Los Angeles to Sun Valley. And a very important factor contributing to this victory is Ford's Automatic Power Pilot which squeezes the last ounce of power out of every drop of gas.

*The AAA Contest Board determines the winner by a "ton-mile per gallon" formula to insure equal chance for all cars in each class regardless of size and weight. Ton-miles per gallon equals the car weight (including passengers) in tons, multiplied by number of miles travelled, divided by number of gallons consumed.

WINNER, SEVENTH NATIONAL TRAFFIC SAFETY POSTER CONTEST

April days are bike-riding days for Michigan youngsters. During school hours bike racks at every school are crowded. Because scores of youngsters are killed or injured aboard bikes each spring, Automobile Club of Michigan has distributed 10,100 of the above posters to Michigan schools for use on bulletin boards. The posters emphasize every important bike safety rule.

Great Road Building Program Is Launched

By Charles M. Ziegler,
Highway Commissioner

The State Highway Department is embarked upon the greatest road-building year in its 47 years of existence. This year is only the forerunner of the years to come.

The new highway legislation enacted by the Legislature last June provides for new financing for state trunklines, county roads, and city and village streets. The legislation was based on the Good Roads Federation studies, which are predicted upon a 15-year program to eliminate the deficiencies on the highway system of the state and bring it up to traffic and safety requirements.

The new laws also provide for close coordination of programs between the state, the counties, and the municipalities.

Based on anticipated revenues under the new legislation, the Department has awarded contracts for $8 million of new construction since January 1. About $12.5 million of work was contracted last fall for 1952 construction. It is expected that another $16 million of contracts will be awarded during this fiscal year, making a total of $36.5 million of the state highway work for 1952 construction.

The counties and the cities are also awarding contracts for comparable amounts of work. The state trunklines could not serve Michigan adequately without the feeder streets and rural highways which form the access system to our trunklines and also provide for a distribution system for traffic to individual homes, places of business and industry in the cities, and to smaller communities and farms in the rural areas.

Consumers Asks Gas Rate Boost

CLAIM 16 PER CENT JUMP WOULD LEAVE COST BELOW COMPETITIVE FUEL

Consumers Power Company will ask for a gross increase of $5,800,00 a year in the gas rate hearing scheduled to begin April 28 before the Michigan Public Service Commission, it was announced today.

Dan E. Karn, president of Consumers, said the proposed new rates would represent an average increase of about 16 per cent and "leave the cost of gas to our customers generally below competitive fuel."

Officials of Consumers are visiting cities served with gas by the Company to discuss the rise in costs and explain the proposed increase.

Increases amounting to $6,455,000 in four items of annual cost were cited by Mr. Karn as indicating how Company expenses have risen since the present rates were established in 1949. Natural gas supplied by the Panhandle Eastern Pipe Line Company will cost $4,200,000 more under Panhandle's new rate schedule, he said. The Gas Department portion of the Company's Federal income tax is up $1,240,000, Gas Department payrolls are $775,000 higher, and there has been an increase of $240,000 in the Gas Department portion of the Michigan corporation franchise fee.

Gas Department earnings amounted to $4,145,000 in 1951.

"Based on the present cost of gas for the entire year, it is estimated that, despite increased sales and the expenditure in 1952 of $12,900,000 for Gas Department additions, earnings would drop to $2,450,000 under the present rates," Mr. Karn said.

He said the proposed $5,800,000 increase would be before taxes, and that less than half of the amount would be available as earnings on the Company's increased volume of business and larger investment.

The higher rate being paid to the Panhandle Eastern Pipe Line Company for natural gas distributed by Consumers is subject to review by the Federal Power Commission.

"If a lower rate is established for Panhandle gas, we have requested the Michigan Public Service Commission to provide a method whereby our customers will receive the benefit," Mr. Karn said.

A-POWER SEEN BOOSTING SUBMARINE FLEET RANGE

Washington—The Navy believes it could reduce the size of its submarine fleet by two-thirds if all its underwater vessels were atomic powered, congressional testimony showed.

A heavily censored transcript of Navy Secretary Dan A. Kimball's testimony before the Joint Committee on Atomic Energy showed the navy expects its atomic submarine will have "fantastic" range and speed.

"Doesnt it give you a delightful feeling when your husband remembers your birthdays?" Mrs. Blackstone asked Mrs. Webster.

"Well—yes," Mrs. Webster answered, dryly; "provided it's only the date—not the total."

Turns Are Dangerous When You're In A Car

The State Safety Commission today announced an all-out attack on accidents caused by dangerous turns at intersections.

The educational campaign carries the slogan "Signal When You Turn" and is aimed at calling attention to turning violations which result in collisions.

Fred M. Alger, Jr., chairman of the State Safety Commission said, "The driver who turns left or right at an intersection has a greater responsibility than a driver who goes straight through. The left turn driver may cut in front of on-coming traffic, and the right turn driver may cut through crosswalks used by pedestrians. Both drivers create a hazard to rear traffic when they turn from the wrong lane. A driver about to turn is required by law to give the proper signal, either by hand or by a directional signal device.

Motorists throughout the state have indicated that one of their "pet peeves" is the driver who turns without signaling. Not only does this discourteous act produce a lot of frayed tempers and ill will, but it is also a principal cause for many accidents.

Alger urged strict enforcement of turning maneuvers with special emphasis on motorists who fail to signal, out in front of on-coming traffic, or make sweeping right or left turns from the wrong lane.

February showed another increase in Michigan traffic casualties. Deaths were up 10 percent and injuries 22 percent. Signaling for turns is a practical way to prevent many accidents.

New State Road Maps Available To Public

The 1952 official State Highway Department map, published and distributed by the Michigan State Highway Department, is now available for public distribution, according to Highway Commissioner Charles M. Ziegler.

The Department will have 400,000 copies of the new map available. It has been revised to include all highway road construction projects completed up to April 1, 1952, of this year.

As usual the map contains a mileage chart, showing distances between principal cities, city sections, showing trunkline routes and main streets through these communities, a large sectional road map of the area adjacent to metropolitan Detroit, an index to cities, State Ferry and other steamship schedules from Michigan ports and lists of State Police posts, game project areas, state parks, state fish hatcheries, state recreation areas and the state's memorial highway designations.

Persons wishing to obtain a copy of the new map may do so by writing or calling at the Public Relations division of the State Highway Department, 121½ W. Washtenaw Street, in Lansing, or by calling at the State Ferries office in St. Ignace or one of the Highway Department district offices. The maps are for free distribution only.

3,412 Killed Or Injured In February Traffic

Although there were fewer accidents, a toll of 3,412 traffic casualties—deaths and injuries combined—during February was by far the highest ever recorded for that month in Michigan.

According to the State Police monthly statistical report, the total lacked only eight of being 600 greater than the figure for February of 1950, when the previous high of 2,800 was recorded. Last year the toll stood at 2,816.

There were 113 deaths, an increase of ten, or ten per cent, over 103 in 1951 and injuries numbered 3,299, an increase of 586, or 22 per cent, over 2,713. Accidents totalled 13,493, a decrease of 439, or three per cent, under 13,932.

All of the fatality increase occurred on the state rural trunkline system. The increase in injuries and the decrease in accidents were reported in both rural and urban areas.

The traffic toll for the first two months of 1952 includes 194 persons killed and 6,581 injured in 28,462 accidents. Compared with the same period last year, deaths were down 40, or 17 per cent, under 234. Injuries increased 347, or six per cent, over 6,234. Accidents dropped 1,115, or four per cent, under 29,577. Decreases in deaths and injuries during January offset the February increases.

Estimated travel for January, the latest month available, was 1.74 billions miles, a decrease of one per cent under the 1.76 billion miles of travel in the same month last year. The death rate per 100 million miles of travel was 4.65, a reduction of 38 per cent, under 7.45 for January of 1951.

Blood Giving--A Tonic

For Health And Heart - - - -

Donors to the Red Cross Blood Bank are usually doubly blessed. For those who have not given blood during the last year, and are in good health, the blood-giving is usually a healthy procedure.

But most important is the knowledge of aiding a good cause. As a donor you are probably participating in the saving of a soldier's life, or restoring an accident victim to health.

Look who's crowding "the low-priced three"

THE price of a car has a lot to do with the number of folks who can afford to own it.

So the leaders in sales — for almost a generation—have been three cars whose bid for popularity has included a potent price appeal.

But who do you think is right on their heels? Who has led the field, outside "the low-priced three"—ever since 1938?

Well, sir, the name is Buick.

You get more power. You get "big-car feel."

You get an honest-to-goodness Million Dollar Ride.

You get, in other words, an all-round money's worth of great engineering that makes any Buick—SPECIAL, SUPER or ROADMASTER—a standout buy in its field.

That's not just our say-so. It's what car buyers have said with their hard-earned dollars, year after year.

We think you ought to find out for yourself what these other folks have discovered.

We think you ought to find out why so many Buick buyers are trading in one of the so-called "low-priced three."

We think you ought to compare the size, compare the performance, compare the price, because we know what you'll find out:

If you can afford a new car, you can afford a Buick.

Cafe Prices Under Freeze

RESTAURANT PRICES CAN BE NO HIGHER THAN FEBRUARY, 1952

A regulation requiring approximately 10,000 restaurants and other eating establishments in eastern Michigan to post dollars-and-cents ceiling prices for their meals and principal food items and beverages has been issued by the OPS, Philip A. Hart, Detroit district director said today.

The regulation freezes restaurant prices at the level shown on menus or charged during the week of February 3-9, 1952.

These frozen prices, with permissible adjustments by operators who have been charging prices lower than permitted under the present restaurant regulation (CPR11), will be the dollars-and-cents ceilings which restaurants will post.

The posted prices may be changed in future only by the direction of the Office of Price Stabiliaztion. The regulation provides that future adjustments may be made if the director determines that food and other costs have changed significantly, either upward or downward.

The regulation became effective April 7, 1952. OPS district offices are now sending out the posters. They must be displayed not later than April 25, 1952, by restaurants in a place where they will be easily visible to customers.

The posters, carrying the official OPS insignia, have spaces for 40 principal food and non-alcoholic beverage items customarily served by eating places. If an eating establishment also serves alcoholic beverages, a poster with spaces for listing ceiling prices for 20 items must be displayed.

For most eating places the new regulation will replace CPR 11 which has permitted restaurants to adjust their own menu prices so long as they gave the same percentage of food value per dollar of sales over a four-month accounting period as they did before Korea.

In issuing the regulation, the OPS emphasized that the general level of food prices is now fairly well established and the monthly Wholesale Food Price Index issued by the Bureau of Labor Statistics has not risen during the past several months.

As a result, Hart said, the principal effect of the new regulation will be to stabilize restaurant prices and enable eating places to charge prices which reflect their pre-Korea margin.

"We are now making arrangement," Hart said, "to set up a series of meetings in key areas in our district. Business analysis from the Detroit district office price department will counsel with restaurant and tavern proprietors at these meetings, explain the new regulation in detail and assist those businesses affected as much as possible."

BOOK ON MACKINAC

Michigan's Mackinac Island is receiving nation-wide attention through a recently published book. "Citadel of the Lakes," by Myron D. Orr, Michigan lawyer who spent years of research into the interesting history of the island.

"Citadel of the Lakes" clearly describes the part the island played in the War of 1812. The hazardous days when England and the United States contended for control of the Great Lakes are brought into focus by the author who based his novel on original documents. These documents will be placed in a permanent exhibit on the Island by Mr. Orr in the near future.

Some local residents never realize what a fine place they live in — until they go away from home and try life in another place.

Chickens Now Far Advanced Over Original Fowl

There was a time when chickens were mighty wild. Their meat was tough and egg production was about 15 per year. Domesticating made a difference—by 1800, records show chickens laying as many as 60 eggs a year. By 1920, they were nudging the 150 eggs per year mark.

Hayden's Starter & Grower Krumbles now starts many thousands of baby chicks toward 200 eggs per year. Hayden's Starter & Grower Krumbles makes PROFITS for the poultry feeder.

HERE ARE THE FACTS THAT PROVE EUREKA
CLEANER DOES THE Easiest
Fastest MOST THOROUGH JOB

FACT No. 1 To Remove EMBEDDED DIRT it Must Be Disturbed

Vacuum cleaning is pretty much like washing dirty clothes. Regardless of how much air or soap and water, embedded dirt must be disturbed, dislodged and loosened either by vigorous arm action or some easy mechanical means.

Automatic Vacuum Cleaning is Like Automatic Washing In both the automatic washer and the automatic cleaner, embedded dirt is disturbed, dislodged, and loosened by mechanical means in the presence of rushing, flushing air, or rushing, flushing water. The more disturbance, the faster the cleaning.

FACT No. 2 EUREKA'S Exclusively Designed Dirt Disturbulator GETS DIRT OUT

Yes, Eureka's exclusive and scientifically designed "Dirt Disturbulator" instantly disturbs, dislodges, and loosens even the most deeply embedded dirt, and air at hurricane speed flushes it away. You merely guide this wonder cleaner and let its automatic action do the cleaning.

AND CHECK These Facts

CUTS CLEANING TIME

Once over . . . once back and rugs or carpets are clean. Try it in comparison with any other type of cleaner. Only the Eureka Automatic gets the dirt this fast!

PROTECTS HEALTH

Eureka's automatic action takes the hard work out of rug and carpet cleaning. Even women suffering from arthritis or rheumatism find the Eureka Automatic Cleaner easy to use.

PROTECTS RUGS

The Eureka Automatic actually removes a shovelful of dirt from supposedly clean rugs in most homes in just 10 short minutes! This is the hidden dirt that ordinary cleaners never get.

No More of This!
NOTHING TO ASSEMBLE . . . NOTHING TO CARRY!
The Eureka Automatic needs only to be plugged in. Rolls everywhere easily on wide wheels.

No More of This!
ONCE OVER GETS ALL SURFACE LITTER!
Even stubborn lint, threads, or dog hairs are picked up instantly by Eureka's automatic cleaning action.

THE TECUMSEH HERALD

ONE HUNDRED FIRST YEAR — NUMBER 39 TECUMSEH, MICHIGAN, MAY 1, 1952 FIVE CENTS A COPY

Herrick O.K.'s School Program

THINKS TECUMSEH CANNOT AFFORD TO SAY NO TO BOARD'S BUILDING PROGRAM

Ray W. Herrick, president of Tecumseh Products Co., today endorsed the Board of Education's program for the building of a new elementary school on N. Union street, and an addition to the high school. The proposal will come before the voters on Tuesday, May 6, when the district will be asked to approve a $650,000 bond issue. A $100,000 anonymous gift will be forthcoming if the bonds are approved.

Mr. Herrick, in a letter Tuesday, said:

Different citizens have asked me personally what my reaction is to the proposed new expansion of our Tecumseh schools.

To my way of thinking, I don't see how any good loyal American citizen in the Village of Tecumseh can afford not to vote Yes on this school program. These boys and girls of today are the citizens of tomorrow, and it behooves everyone of our citizens to prepare these boys and girls to face life with the best protection they can get, and that is — a good education. The people of tomorrow are faced with far different problems than the citizens of yesterday. We are in a complicated America of specialists that must be educated to fulfill these future American obligations. Further, with adequate schooling, we will never have to worry about these boys and girls in their age of tomorrow ever forgetting their obligation to America, which means that there is no ism can ever persuade them to change from true American citizenship to any other kind.

This is my firm conviction and belief in regard to the expansion program of the Tecumseh schools. We are fortunate in having a School Board of good sound business men with a lot of thinking and planning to make our boys and girls better citizens tomorrow.

Vote On School Bonds, Tuesday

POLLS WILL BE OPEN AT HIGH SCHOOL FROM 7 A.M., TO 8 P.M., MAY 6

Voters in Tecumseh School District No. 7 will go to the polls next Tuesday, May 6, to decide:

First, whether $650,000 in bonds shall be issued for new school construction, and Second, whether or not the district will accept a $100,000 anonymous gift toward the construction cost.

If the bond issue is approved — approval automatically implies the gift acceptance — then the board of education plans to build a 5-room addition to the high school, and a new elementary school, at a combined cost of $760,000. The additional $10,000 — the difference between the amount of bonds plus the gift, and the cost — will come from the school's general fund.

The polls in the new high school building will be open between 7 a.m., and 8 p.m., on election day.

Since the former School District No. 5 is now a part of District No. 7, it was pointed out that all eligible voters in the new, enlarged District No. 7 may cast their ballots.

Actually, two issues will be submitted to the voters, and when they go to the polls they will receive two ballots.

The first issue calls for a continuation of a 13-mill tax rate for school debt retirement for a period of 15 years. The second issue is the proposal to issue $650,000 worth of bonds to cover construction costs. Approval does not increase school debt retirement taxes above their present level.

On the first issue — the millage rate — any eligible voter may cast his or her ballot. On the second issue — the issuance of the bonds — only owners of property assessed for tax purposes, or the lawful husband or wife of such a property owner, may vote. Such property assessed for tax purposes may be either real or personal.

Both issues MUST carry by a majority vote of the electors.

The voting will take place in the cafeteria of the new high school on North Maumee street. A 10-member election board has been named, and election supplies will be moved to the school, including voting booths, etc.

Three Are Hurt In Auto Mishaps

TWO INJURED WHEN TIE ROD SNAPS ON CAR WEST OF TECUMSEH, SATURDAY

Three persons were hurt in traffic mishaps in this vicinity over the week-end.

Two were hurt, Saturday about 1 p.m., when the tie rod broke on an automobile driven by Richard Doyle, 35, of Tecumseh, causing him to lose control. The car struck a tree and was badly damaged. Charles Campbell, 22, also of Tecumseh, was a passenger in the car. The accident happened on M-50, just west of the village limit.

Both Campbell and Doyle suffered cuts and bruises, and leg and chest injuries. They were treated at Herrick Memorial Hospital.

At 2:10 a.m., Sunday on M-50 about a mile east of Tipton, two more cars were involved in an accident. Injured was Mrs. I. F. Fowler, 42, of Adrian. She was a passenger in a car driven by her husband, Inman, 43. The Fowler car, according to officers, was struck by a car driven by Kenneth Baker, 29, of Jackson.

State police, who investigated the accident, said that Baker was driving on the wrong side of the road. The Fowler car overturned after the collision. Baker was detained by officers.

Mrs. Fowler was removed by ambulance to Herrick Memorial Hospital here, where she was treated for neck and leg injuries.

NO CAUSE FOR ALARM, DOCTOR SAYS; IMMUNIZATION, BOOSTER SHOTS URGED

There are two cases of diphtheria in Tecumseh, but there is no cause for alarm, Dr. H. H. Hammel, health officer, said today.

Two children in the family of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Poley of 408 South Pearl street, are ill of the disease.

Sunday morning, April 20, another daughter, Shirley, aged 3½ years, died in Herrick Memorial Hospital. The cause of her death was diagnosed by laboratory tests as Vincent's Angina — a form of trench mouth.

"Since the child's death, two other children in the family have become ill, and their illness has been diagnosed by the State Department of Health as diphtheria," Dr. Hammel said. "Every precaution has been taken, the family is quarantined, and there is no need for alarm. No other cases of diphtheria have been reported, and we believe that the situation is under control."

New Hi School Now Debt Free

CASH IS IN THE BANK TO PAY OFF FINAL INSTALLMENT OF 1948 BONDS

Technically, Tecumseh School District No. 7 owns the new $500,000 high school on North Maumee street, free of debt. The final installment on the bond issue, approved in 1948, for the construction of the school, is not due until 1953. But the board of education has the cash in the bank to retire the issue, but it can't actually do it until the bonds are due.

And so, to meet all legal technicalities, it has established a special fund for the debt retirement. The money is there — $91,575 in cash — awaiting the day that the bonds fall due and payment can be made.

When the bonds were issued, the district planned to retire them in five years. However, the rapid growth of Tecumseh and the increased assessed valuation, has brought in the money more rapidly than was anticipated. The result is, the district actually was able to pay in four years what it first believed would take it five years to accomplish.

It was explained today that at the forthcoming election on May 6,

$100,000 Gift Aids Taxpayers

AMOUNT IS ABOUT 13% OF PROPOSED COST OF NEW SCHOOL CONSTRUCTION

It was pointed out today that the anonymous gift of $100,000, which becomes available to School District No. 7 for new school construction, if the voters approve a $650,000 bonding program here next Tuesday, May 6, amounts to about 13% of the cost of the proposed construction.

The gift, too, will bring to $245,000 the amount of gifts that have been received by the district within the past five years. When the new high school was proposed in 1948, a gift of $145,000 was announced by Ray W. Herrick, president of Tecumseh Products Co., and members oft he Products' family.

In the latest gift, the donors desire to remain anonymous, according to members of the board of education.

In its newest building program, the board proposes to add five rooms and a gymnasium to the new high school, and to build a new elementary school on recently acquired property on North Union street. The cost of the two projects amounts to $760,000. Of this amount, $650,000 will be paid through the issuance of bonds, $100,000 comes from the gift, and $10,000 from the school's general fund.

The new high school was occupied in January of 1950 and was

The School Issue Is Vital

Next Tuesday, May 6, the voters of Tecumseh School District No. 7 will decide whether they will accept a gift of $100,000, by approving a $650,000 bond issue, and with the money, build approximately three quarters of a million dollars' worth of new school buildings.

This can be done, if the voters say yes, without increasing the present rate of taxation for school purposes.

Also, if the voters say yes they can save themselves approximately 13 per cent of the building costs, as a result of the anonymous gift.

Today, almost everywhere you go, communities need more schools. We venture to say that there is hardly a city or town in Lenawee county that is not in need of additional classrooms. This need is the result of: First, during the years of the second World War, building was halted for defense purposes and, as a result, communities were forced to get along with the schools already constructed. Second, during that same period there was a sharp up-turn in the birth rate, (and the upward swing continues), and today schools everywhere are bulging with students.

In Tecumseh, there is still a third reason. Between the years of 1940 and 1950 we made the most rapid growth of any community in Lenawee county. Not only did the Village of Tecumseh grow, its school district grew accordingly. In 1940 it is estimated that our school district had a population of 3.390. In 1950 our school district had a population of 5,052. That was an increase of 49%. It is safe to believe, two years later, that our population is well over the 5,000 mark.

Now let us look at school enrollment. In 1940 we had a few more than 600 students enrolled in the public schools here. In 1950 the enrollment had passed the 1,000 mark. In 1952 it is nearing the 1,300 mark and by 1955 it will have passed the 1,600 mark.

Projected figures show, then, that our school enrollment in three more years will be nearly three times as great as it was in 1940. And except for building a new high school. which was opened in 1950 and outgrown in the same year, we are attempting to operate our schools with the same facilities that we had prior to 1940.

At the present time, census figures show that there are 152 children in the school district that are five years of age. There are 143 who are four years old, 137 who are three years old, 119 who are two years old and 95 who are one year old. Those figures total 646, and it is safe to assume that all of them will, in five years, be knocking at our school doors for education. Next year it is expected that there will be 152 in the kindergarten, and that 35 new students will enter the senior high school, for a total of 187. The school next June will graduate 60 students and the net gain next September will amount to 127 — or approximately a 10% increase in enrollment over this year's figures.

These are only a few of the facts that are available at the school — just a few of the problems that confront the superintendent and the board of education as they go about their jobs of attempting to furnish to Tecumseh children the best education possible with the facilities available.

Come next September, we already know that we must put an elementary class in the basement of the public library, and that we must rent some building to house at least one other class. We also know that it will be necessary to run noon classes in the high school, if the teachers are to meet all of the pupils enrolled.

That is next September. What will we do, then, in September of 1953 when the enrollment is still larger? In all probability, half-day sessions will be the only answer, unless we build more buildings.

We pay taxes, just like everybody else, and we believe in economy in government and in our school system. But there comes a time in our schools, just as there comes a time at home or in business, when we must act, when we must borrow and spend money, if we are to go forward and meet the demands that are made upon us.

It seems that Tecumseh has no alternative at the present time other than to approve the bond issue and expand its educational program. The cost is not going to be any more —taxwise—than we are paying at the present time. In all probability, we can retire the bonds in seven or eight years.

Centainly, we could not be investing our money in a better project than the education of our boys and girls—the future citizens of Tecumseh.

And finally, we'd like to have you find another community in Lenawee county that is receiving an anonymous gift of 13% of the cost of its school building program. We think we're mighty fortunate to have among us, public spirited citizens who make these gifts available. Actually, the gift means that we will be building the new buildings with 87 cent dollars, instead of dollars worth 100 cents—taxwise. Certainly, we'll never build and enjoy a greater discount.

As we see it, there's one thing that we should be sure to do. We should go to the polls next Tuesday and vote yes on the proposal and, at the same time, express our thanks for those who are lifting 13% of our financial responsibility from our shoulders.

Ae we've said before, Tecumseh's a fortunate town. It doesn't have to wait until Christmas to get its presents.

"They Look After Everything...."

Many families we have served so mention the completeness of our service.

It is not kindness nor friendship that prompts this very complete service. It is our duty and our business to lighten your burdens, and we accept our responsibility fully.

outgrown by the time it was completed. The gymnasium that is proposed now was included in the original plans but was not built for reasons of economy.

Since 1949 the school's enrollment has grown from about 1,000 to well over 1,200, and by 1954 it is estimated that the enrollment will be over 1,600. There are insufficient classrooms at the present time, not only in the high school, but in the elementary schools as well. Next fall, for example, James McDowell, superintendent, says, it will be necessary to put some elementary grades in the basement of the library and in some other building, yet to be rented. Also, noon-hour classes in the high school also must be held.

As early as the fall of 1953, Mr. McDowell said, unless some building relief is afforded, half-day sessions may become necessary, not only in the elementary school, but in the high school as well.

Tecumseh's school enrollment has spiraled since 1940. At that time only about 600 youngsters were enrolled in all grades. Registration today is approximately twice the 1940 enrollment.

when electors will be asked to approve a bond issue for $650,000 for new school construction, the voters will not be asked to increase the present rate of taxation but rather to continue the present 13-mill rate for 15 years, to retire the new set of bonds.

The reason that the 15-year retirement is necessary, it was explained, is to satisfy the Michigan Securities Commission. The commission insists upon a 15-year issue, with 13 serials.

The Board of Education, however, feels that with taxes coming in as they are — even though assessed valuation do not increase — the district will be able to retire the new bonds in from seven to eight years, instead of 15 years. If this is accomplished, the district would be out of debt on the proposed expansion program about 1960.

"Voters should bear this in mind when they go to the polls," one citizen said today. "They are not being asked to increase their taxes over the present rate. All that the board is asking is that the present 13-mill rate for debt retirement be continued for 15 years."

And the new bonds will be callable after five years, so that the district can pay them off as rapidly as the funds become available.

Two Diphtheria

immunization and booster shots for their youngsters.

"This is as it should be," Dr. Hammel said. "Every child, after the age of six months, should be immunized against diphtheria. After the immunization and continuing through school-age, these youngsters should be given booster shots annually. This is just good sense.

"This little flare-up is serving to remind many local parents that their children's booster shots had been neglected, and they are now seeing to it that they are given," the doctor continued. "Also," he continued, "many youngsters who were past six months of age are receiving immunization shots that previously had been neglected by parents."

Dr. Hammel urged that immunization and booster shots be administered to children promptly, in an effort not only to stem the spread of the disease at the present time, but in the future as well.

pastors. Fifty-five other priests also will assist.

The public is invited to attend the dedicatory service, the Rev. Fr. Collins said. Cardinal Mooney will speak briefly, but the principal speaker will be the Rev. Fr. Hubert Maino, of Detroit, editor of the Michigan Catholic.

It is expected that the service will end about 4:15 and at 4:30 there will be an informal reception at the Tecumseh Country Club for Cardinal Mooney. The public is invited to this function, a civic affair in which the Chamber of Commerce is participating. Cardinal Mooney will leave at 5 p.m. for Detroit, to keep another engagement.

At 5:30 p.m., at the American Legion Memorial Home, a church and civic banquet will be held. Reservations indicate that there will be 340 persons in attendance.

Circuit Judge G. Arthur Rathbun will act as toastmaster. The address of welcome will be by Fr. Collins. J. Floyd Elliott, mayor of Tecumseh, will speak briefly as will Ray W. Herrick, president of the Tecumseh Products Co. The principal address will be delivered by Msgr. Pfeffer of Detroit, a former pastor here.

The new St. Elizabeth church, built at a cost of approximately $100,000, was first occupied last fall for services. It replaces the old church of the same name on East Chicago boulevard, now used as a parish hall. The East Chicago boulevard church was built more than 35 years ago, and the sharp growth of the parish made the edifice too small to accommodate the worshippers.

The site on which the new church is located is large enough to accommodate a school and rectory. These buildings will be constructed at a later date, according to the church's plans.

CAMBURN HONORED BY BANDMASTERS

Clair Camburn, music director of the Tecumseh public schools, was honored by the County Bandmasters Club at a dinner, Tuesday evening, at Rock Inn in Adrian. Ten from the county attended with Paul Rainier of Adrian, presiding. Mr. Camburn was presented with a desk lamp, fashioned from a coronet.

Camburn is retiring from his school post in June after 21 years of service.

Chinese Missionary Talks To Church Group

Mrs. Louis E. Wolferz, recently returned from China, was the speaker at a congregational meeting of the Presbyterian church here, last evening in the Fellowship Center. The program followed a potluck dinner. Members of the congregation of the Holloway Presbyterian church were guests.

Mrs. Frank K. Smith, president of the Woman's Association, which group sponsored the meeting, introduced Mrs. Wolferz. During the program, children present were entertained with movies in another part of the church by John Saling.

Mrs. Wolferz was born in Peking, China, where her father held a University post. She received her college education at the University of Michigan, and returned to China to do WYCA work. She married Dr. Wolferz in 1918, and since that time both she and her husband have spent much of their time at Yenching University.

The Wolferz waited for four months in 1951 before they were permitted te leave China. During that time the Communists posted on the walls of the University Library a long list of offenses charged against Mr. Wolferz. He was the oldest American member of the university facutly, and hence was probably chosen as the logical "scape goat" of the oppose American campaign.

However, despite all of the difficulties they encountered in their missonary post, Dr. and Mrs. Wolferz plan to return soon to China.

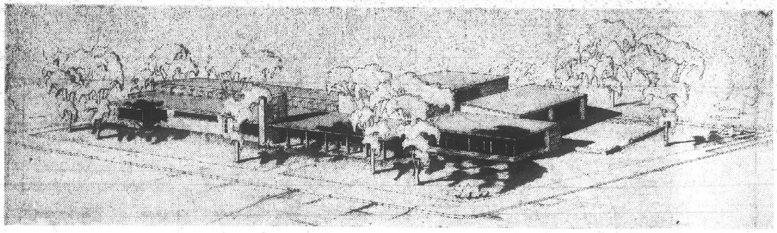
An Important Message About Schools

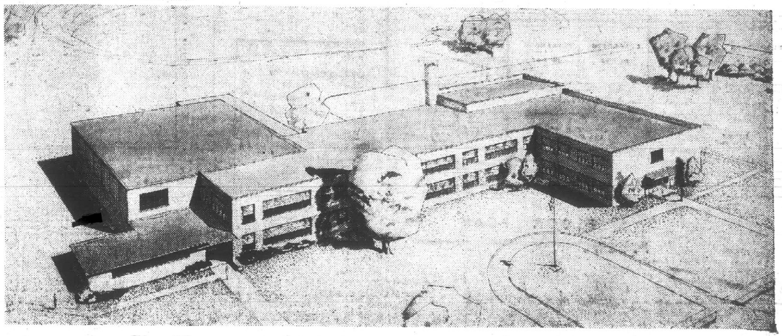
Why Should We Build These Schools Now ?

On This And The Three Pages That Follow Is The Full Story On The Status Of Our Present Schools And The Reasons Why We Must Build New Schools Now



Shown at left is an architect's sketch of the proposed new elementary school. New and modern throughout, it is designed for maximum utility and lasting beauty. The building as shown would certainly be an excellent asset to the community as well as providing much-needed additional classroom space. Please note following page for full construction and classroom details.

At right is an architect's drawing of the high school showing new gym and classroom additions. The new gym will be located on the Southwest corner of the existing school and the classrooms attached to the Northeast corner. These additions will complete construction on the high school and give Tecumseh a completely modern high school with ideal facilities for all courses. Details of the new additions will be found on the following page.



Already Crowded

At the present time, Tecumseh has the following four school buildings containing a total of 34 classrooms:

Brownville	1 room	Kindergarten
West Branch	3 rooms	Kindergarten and 1st and 2nd Grades
Central	16 rooms	Grades 1-6
High School	14 rooms	Grades 7-12

(East Branch has been abandoned as a dangerous fire hazard in an unsafe location. The cost of modernizing this building would be uneconomical and still would not provide our children with the modern facilities they need).

These classrooms were designed for an average of 30 pupils each or a total enrollment, using present facilities of 1020 pupils. Today the total enrollment for all grades is 1223, 223 over the designed capacity.

Even without a large increase in children of pre-school age or increase in population, our school system is now badly overcrowded.

And More On The Way

The bumper crop of babies born immediately after the war, are now reaching school age. This factor, plus the steady population increase in the Village of Tecumseh, is reflected in the growing number of pre-school age children and increased crowding of our schools.

Census figures showing the minimum number of children of pre-school age now in the Village are as follows:

5 years old	152
4 years old	143
3 years old	137	646 TOTAL
2 years old	119
1 year old	95

Remember that these are minimum figures and enrollment experience shows that they are generally low. Even if these figures were exact, the big increase this year and next would continue to crowd the schools until this class has graduated—12 years from now!

Enrollment Increase

With fewer students graduating than entering, the school enrollment definitely will increase for the next few years. The minimum prediction is as follows:

School year	Pupils	Av. per class
1951-52 (now)	1223	33
1952-53	1350	38

HOW ENROLLMENT INCREASE IS ESTIMATED — SCHOOL YEAR 1952-53

plus

35 New Pupils Entering Ninth Grade equals

187 Total New Pupils

127 Minimum Enrollment Increase 1952-5

Classrooms Are Bulging

With present classroom space, 34 rooms plus gym and music, we can take care of 1020 pupils on a full schedule. By using the gym and cafeteria during the day and extra classrooms during the noon hour, we are maintaining our standards even though the enrollment is now up to 1223. However, this schedule will not allow adequate gym and physical education instruction for either the grade or high school students.

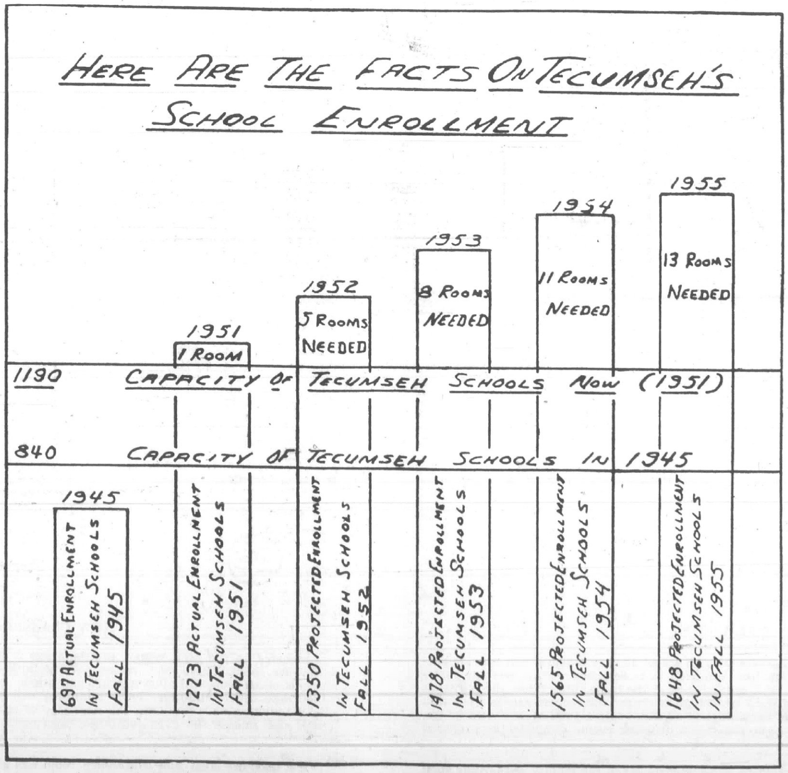
This Year

In the school year 1952-53 it will be barely possible to accommodate the expected 1350 students in our existing facilities by setting up a full schedule of noon classes, plus classes in non-school buildings.

This, Then Is The Problem - -

By 1953-54 (NEXT YEAR) it will be impossible to accommodate the anticipated 1,478 students with our present available space.

WHERE WILL THEY GO?



Everyone Benefits

If you live in Tecumseh, schools are important to you even though you may not have children of school age. Good schools are necessary to dray new families into the community.

Why New Families ?

New families are necessary for the growth and prosperity of the town. They provide manufacturers with a fresh and continuing labor supply necessary to expansion. They contribute, through taxes, to community projects. And, most important, they increase the amount of all goods and services sold by local businesses.

More Families- More Business

Additional families mean more groceries, more clothes, more shoes, more homes, more drugs and cosmetics, more autos, more gasoline, more cleaning, more appliances—in fact, more of everything that is sold in our stores. This increased business means more money spent in town and greater properity for the entire community.

Dollars And Sense

Therefore, if modern schools help attract new families and new families increase business, the schools should be supported as the first step to increasing prosperity. Add to this the knowledge that our children will get he finest education possible in new, modern buildings and the new program should make sense as well as dollars.

Here Are The Proposals -

The School Board has proposed a school building program which will solve our immediate problems. It calls for the construction of a 7 room Grade School and the addition of 5 classrooms and a gym to the High School as shown below:

FLOOR PLAN — NEW GRADE SCHOOL

Above is a detailed floor plan of the proposed grade school. It is designed with large windows in all classrooms to assure the best possible lighting and reduce eyestrain. The new building provides 7 additional classrooms, one each for kindergarten and grades 1 - 6. Also included is a large playroom with a stage along one wall. This room makes the school extremely flexible since it can be used either as a playroom or auditorium. A library, teachers' room, clinic and office complete the new building.

LOCATION — NEW GRADE SCHOOL

The new grade school will be located at the ends of Democrat and Van Buren streets, just West of Union. This location is as near as possible to the center of grade school population. As an added convenience, it is planned to have Democrat and Van Buren streets continued so they will form a semi-circle in front of the school. A connecting drive will be built to Union Street, making it easily accessible from two sides with adequate parking space. Children can be dropped off in front of school doors from cars.

The School Board has purchased 10 acres of land on this site so there will be plenty of recreation area as well as room for possible future expansion.

NEW GYM

The modern gym located on the present high school as shown above, will provide outstanding physical education facilities for Tecumseh. It is designed with a movable partition which will allow it to be used by 2 gym classes at the same time. When the partition is opened, the gym will have a full-sized basketball court for interschool games. Provision has been made for bleacher seats on both sides to accommodate a total of 1610 spectators. Locker rooms for both boys and girls plus team dressing rooms complete the proposed gym additions.

The gym will also be large enough to accommodate large community gatherings such as dances, banquets, meetings, etc.

NEW CLASSROOMS

Included in the high school additions are 5 classrooms plus offices and a teachers' conference room. These new rooms will be built onto the present high school as shown. The new classrooms will allow the art and music courses to be held in the high school rather than other buildings. These additions will consolidate all high school activities into one building and eliminate the necessity of students going back and forth to Central. It will also release the gym and other classrooms in Central for use by grade school students.

The teachers' rest and conference room will give them a place to rest between classes, confer with parents, and hold small meetings during school hours.

THESE BUILDINGS CAN BE BUILT WITH NO INCREASE IN PRESENT SCHOOL TAXES

And Some Answers - -

What Will It Cost ?

Addition to High School	$ 80,000.00
Equip High School	5,000.00
All purpose gym	307,000.00
Equip gym, including seats	17,000.00
Elementary building	300,000.00
Equip elementary building	10,000.00
Architect's fees	41,000.00
	$760,000.00
*Gifts and general fund	110,000.00
Financed by bond issue	$650,000.00

*Unless this issue is approved, the $100,000 gift will be withdrawn, and will not be available for any school improvement.

How Will It Be Financed ?

To finance these improvements, the voting taxpayer must, by a majority, approve a bond issue for $650,000. This will replace the present 13 mill Debt Retirement Fund established in 1948.

The Michigan Securities Commission insists that the bond issue be spread over a 15 year period, with 13 serals beng issued. The bonds probably wil sell at an interest rate of not more than 2%.

Our valuation here is increasing rapidly and it appears from our tables that the proposed new bond issue of $650,000 can be retired in about 7 or 8 years. However, as a safety factor, the securities commission insists upon a 15 year issue. However, the bonds will be callable after about 5 years, and then it will be possible to retire them as rapidly as funds are available.

The tax will be paid by all residential taxpayers, as well as the business and industrial concerns which now pay approximately 40% of the total school taxes.

Why Does Ballot Read . . . "Tax Increase"

The present 13 mill tax which was approved 4 years ago to pay for our high school will be discontinued automatically with the collection of the 1951 tax. The high school will then be completely paid for and no further taxes will be collected for this purpose. Since there will be no school tax after this year,the ballot must read, "Shall the limitation . . . . be increased." This actually means that we are continuing our present 13 mill tax rate and there will be no increase in present taxes!

Will The Program Do The Job ?

Below is a table showing how the overcrowding of our classrooms will be eliminated with the additions requested. The average number of students per classroom will be reduced from 41 to 29, which is in keeping with the average capacity of the classrooms.

School year 1953-54 with and without additions:

	Rooms		Pupils	Average Class
	Now	Proposed		Now	Proposed
Kindergarten	2	3	143	36	24
1 - 6	18	25	713	40	28
7 - 12	14	19	622	45	38

What If Program Is Defeated ?

Unless these additional school facilities are authorized now and begun immediately, the problem will be completely out of hand before anything further can be done. It will take at least a year to get these buildings ready for occupancy. If voted now they will be ready for the 1953 entering class — the point where the schools will NOT be able to handle the growing enrollment!

If they are not authorized now, the following measures will have to be taken:

1. Grade school will go on half-day sessions.
2. Courses will be limited in number and duration.
3. Limited high school sessions reduce the amount of time students are in school.
4. Noon classes are a certainty.
5. Because of limited courses, colleges will not recognize Tecumseh High School credits.
6. The state will DECREASE its financial support requiring a greater tax outlay from the Village and higher taxes from property owners to maintain even our present standards.

Why Build Now ?

Obviously the main reason for starting this program now is that classes are crowded today. Also the census figures given on the preceding page are minimum figures and experience shows they are generally low. The increase this year will be felt as long as this class is in school — 12 full years.

Since it takes a year to have the building ready — we must start now to prepare for the 1953-54 class, which we could not handle with our present facilities!

We must build now to take advantage of the gift of $110,000 offered the school. This saves the Village 13% of the total cost.

Building costs are expected to continue to rise.

Could We Use East Branch ?

East Branch would require extensive renovation to be used as a school building. The cost of this project would closely approach the cost of the new grade school. Even if it were made usable, East Branch does not have enough land for possible future expansion and is located on a dangerous intersection. It is felt that any money spent on East Branch would be wasted as it would not accomplish the objectives and would be temporary at best.

Who May Vote ?

All registered electors may vote on Proposal No. 1.

All registered taxpayers may vote on Proposal No. 2.

To vote on these issues you must be registered. If you are now registered to vote at Township Elections, you are registered for school elections. If not registered, you must register with the Township be spread over a 15 year period, with 13 serials being issued. The

A child without a good education today is terribly handicapped.

Gentlemen:

The expansion of Tecumseh school facilities is an urgent necessity for the continued well-being of the community and the education of our children. The proposed plans as released and explained in recent issues of the Tecumseh Herald for building new schools represents a very reasonable and adequate program.

In my opinion, the school building project to be voted upon by the residents of Tecumseh on May 6 is the most crucial issue to be decided in our time. Tecumseh is one of the most prosperous communities in the world. Property values are high. Wages and working conditions are excellent. It is no accident that Tecumseh is blessed with these favorable conditions but rather it is a result of the substantial industries located here.

It is a requisite that an industry must progressively grow in order to survive and meet competition in its field.
Tecumseh residents have a responsibility, or perhaps better stated as an opportunity, to aid and encourage industrial development here.
School facilities to handle existing enrollment is of the upmost importance to industrial growth.

We do not now have adequate school room. The High School completed in 1950 was built to take care of 350 students. At present, there are more than 400 attending classes in this building.
The old central building now used for elementary grades is terribly overcrowded. The annexation of District No. 5 has made the situation even more deplorable. New additional courses should be offered to Tecumseh High School students to bring our curricular activities up to par with other communities. Construction of additional school buildings is the only possible way to cope with our present educational need.

The substantial gift already announced as available for the new buildings will make it comparatively easy for the district to finance the proposed school program. In fact, all that is required is the extension of the same tax rate which has been in effect for the past four years. We are all against higher taxes.
However, we would be foolish to start reducing taxation at the expense of neglecting the education of tomorrow's taxpayer.

Sincerely yours,
Donald T. Nixon

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

The Tecumseh Chamber of Commerce heartily approves of the new school building program.

A sensational gift of ONE HUNDRED THOUSAND DOLLARS ($100,000.00) towards the new school building campaign has been made by the very great generousity of several of the townspeople, however, this grant will only apply if the voters of the town will vote their approval of the BOND ISSUE on TUESDAY, MAY 6th, 1952.

As we are all aware the population of Tecumseh has been steadily increasing and even although one new school building was built in 1950 and is now in use we still find that we again face the great problem of lack of sufficient class rooms to accommodate all of our school age children. Due to the lack of sufficient class rooms, in September of this year, it will again become necessary to educate our school age children in the Tecumseh Public Library and in our churches, which as you already know do not have proper facilities for the educating of the children.

May we urge that you please get out and VOTE.

Tecumseh enjoyed the most rapid growth of any community in Lenawee county between 1940 and 1950, and it is still growing. Our school enrollment has increased accordingly, and, today, we do not have adequate classroom space.

To correct this, voters have been asked to approve a $650,000 bond issue on May 6 to build a 14-room elementary school and a much-needed addition to our high school.

The cost of this project is $760,000, but we are to receive a $100,000 gift, if the bonding issue is approved. We must have the schools. We are fortunate in the gift of $100,000. We cannot afford to pass up such an opportunity.

We understand that the voters of Tecumseh will be asked to vote on what we consider a vital issue on May 6th. This will be the school bond proposal to build a new grade school, and additions to our high school.

Tecumseh is confronted with the serious problem of overcrowded schools due to the increased population, and it is imperative that something be done immediately to remedy this situation. We cannot deny our children the education they require, nor can we continue to overcrowd the classrooms, making it impossible for students to obtain a well rounded education, both mental and physical. It is true, we built a new high school a few years back, however, the rapid growth of this community has made the present system inadequate, in fact, certain portions of the previous building program were eliminated due to the lack of funds at that time. We also feel that we definitely owe it to the instructors to provide adequate teaching facilities if we hope to obtain the services of the proper caliber of talent for this most important function.

Tecumseh will continue to be a fast growing town, however, in order to continue this progress, we must have acceptable schools. Therefore, we urge every qualified voter to remember the date – May 6th, – and vote YES.

$760,000 BUILDING PROGRAM FOR SCHOOLS ENDORSED BY ELECTORS

By a vote of about 14 to 1, electors in Tecumseh School District No. 7, Tuesday, approved a $650,000 bond issue for new school construction.

The vote was as follows:

On Proposition I, to continue a 13 mill tax for debt retirement for 15 years, 811 voted in favor of the proposal, and 62 opposed it.

On Proposition II, to issue $650,000 in bonds for the construction of the new buildings, 739 voted in favor of the proposal, and 51 opposed it. On this proposition, only taxpayers could cast their ballots.

A total of 880 persons cast their ballots. On Proposition I, there were seven spoiled balots, and on the second proposition, six ballots were spoiled. Cardinal Here For Dedication

NEW ST. ELIZABETH CATHOLIC CHURCH BLESSED AT SERVICE ON SUNDAY

The new St. Elizabeth Catholic church on North Union street, was blessed and formally dedicated at a service here Sunday afternoon in which His Eminence, Edward Cardinal Mooney, archbishop of Detroit, participated. Between 400 and 500 persons attended the service which began at 3 p.m.

The dedicatory service was in charge of Cardinal Mooney and he was assisted by Msgr. Joseph Pfeffer of St. Elizabeth church, Detroit, former pastor here, and the Rev. Frs. John Eppenbroch of Trenton and John Ross of Garden City, also former pastors. The Rev. Fr. Michael Collins, pastor of the church, acted as master of ceremonies. More than 50 priests from this area also were in attendance.

Cardinal Mooney spoke briefly at the service but the principal speaker was the Rev. Fr. Hubert Maino of Detroit, editor of The Michigan Catholic.

Following the service, which attracted both Catholics and Protestants from all parts of the county, Cardinal Mooney went directly to the Tecumseh Country Club where he was the guest at an informal reception, in which the Chamber of Commerce participated. Because of a previous engagement, Cardi-

Gas Supplies Are Dwindling

DEALERS HERE HOPE TO HAVE ENOUGH TO CARRY THEM INTO NEXT WEEK

The gasoline situation is rough in Tecumseh, just like it is everywhere else, due to the petroleum strike.

Gasoline service station operators here said Wednesday that supplies were running low, and that one station was practically out of gasoline. Most of the operators felt that supplies would last over the week-end, possibly into next week. Beyond that time, they would not hazard a guess.

The farm demand for gasoline at this time of year is heavy, it was pointed out, because of the planting season and the use of tractors. Every effort is being made to supply farmers, so that crops may be planted.

"Unless the strike is settled, or we get some gas from somewhere, it will be far more rough a week from today than it is today," one operator said.

BURIED IN BROOKSIDE

Funeral services for Lafayette Stevenson, age 76, who died Wednesday, April 30, in his home here, were held Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Green Funeral Home. The Rev. B. O. Bashore officiated and burial was in Brookside cemetery. The bearers, all members of the Fraternal Order of Eagles, were Jack Preston, Verdi Skinner, Ervie Raymond, George Milosh, Bert Lawrence and Don Morley. Friends and relatives attended from Ypsilanti, Clinton and Tecumseh.

Baptists To Present Organist In Recital

Dr. F. Dudleigh Vernor, professor of organ at Albion College and organist at the Metropolitan Methodist church, Detroit, will be presented in a recital here Sunday evening at 5 o'clock at the Baptist church. The public is invited to attend.

Dr. Vernor is widely known in the musical world, not only for his accomplishments as an organist but as a composer. His most popular composition perhaps, is "The Sweetheart of Sigma Chi."

A special Mother's Day program has been planned for the Baptist church at the 11 o'clock Sunday morning service. The Rev. B. O. Bashore will deliver the sermon and each mother present will receive a carnation. There also will be special music by the choir.

Value Days In Tecumseh Soon

MERCHANTS PLAN SPECIAL SALES EVENT VILLAGE-WIDE, MAY 23-24

"Tecumseh Value Days," May 23 and 24, when merchants in this village plan special sales events with deep-cut bargain prices, were announced this week by the Retail Division of the Chamber of Commerce.

"This is the second event of its kind, and another similar event is planned for June," Robert H. Moore, president of the Chamber, said today in making the announcement.

The first promotion, "Bargain Days," was staged April 25-26, and during those days merchants slashed prices — many of them storewide—to bring special money savings values to their customers.

"Merchants and customers alike found that the 'Bargain Days' were of value, and it has been decided to repeat them again this month, and in June. Shoppers who buy at the local stores on the Value Days will find genuine bargains," Mr. Moore said.

As was done in April, the Chamber is purchasing additional copies of The Herald and these will be given free to every employee of Tecumseh Products Co. Because many employees of the company are already subscribers to The Herald they are asked to take the newspaper home and to give it to a non-subscriber friend, that he and his family may participate in the event.

Chamber Radio Program Recognized By Schools

Robert H. Moore, president of the Tecumseh Chamber of Commerce, is in receipt of a letter from Robert L. Hayden, principal of the Adrian public schools, recognizing the anti-communistic program that is being sponsored by the Chamber on radio station WABJ, every Sunday afternoon at 6:45.

Mr. Hayden advises Mr. Moore that he is calling the Adrian students' attention to the program and asking that they call it to the attention of their parents.

The program, "I Was a Communist for the FBI," stars Dana Andrews as Matt Cvetic, who was the government's undercover man with the communists for many years. The program is in weekly episode form, and will continue for about 11 more months.

Urges Group To Study Saucers

LOCAL SCIENTIST, INVENTOR BELIEVES THAT MYSTERY CAN BE SOLVED

Geo. H. Adamson, local inventor and scientist, and who is vitally interested in flying saucers, believes that the mystery of their existance, their origin and their purpose may be discovered if sufficient thought and scientific research is given to the subject.

Mr. Adamson, who has spent years in studying the saucers, had this to say about them today:

Our old friend Mark Twain once said that everyone talks about the weather, but no one does anything about it. This is now the case of the flying saucers. Everyone talks about them, but no one does anything about them, and I , for one, would like to do something about these anomolies.

Let us briefly review the known facts. Kenneth Arnold of Boise, Idaho, on 24 June 1947, made the first report to reach the public in recent times (other reports not so much publicized extend back for many years) about saucers. Then came reports of the sightings of mysterious aerial phenomena thick and fast. On October 3, 1948, one Lt. George F. Gorman, a national guard flyer, had quite an encounter with a mysterious flying object over Fargo, North Dakota. He played hop-scotch with the object for some time, and it was also seen by the tower control officers, through their binoculars. About this time the Military applied pressure to muzzle government observers from reporting what they had seen. (I could not believe this to be true at the time, but recently, I have seen a photostatic copy of such information and must now assume that for some reason the powers-that-be want to keep all such news from the public).

Newspaper accounts flourished. The Saturday Evening Post on 30 April 1949 published an account, "Debunking the Flying Saucers," with the Army's blessing. Then came Donald E. Kehoe, one time high in Military air circles and one time chief of information for the Aeronautical Branch of the Department of Commerce, who published a book, "The Flying Saucers Are Real." He also wrote magazine articles. Commander Robert B. McLaughlin, U. S. N., while at White Sands, New Mexico, proving grounds, tracked a flying saucer through a Theodolite in April, 1949. On 7 January 1948 the tragic death of Capt. Thomas

Sale of V. F. W. Poppies Here On May 16 And 17

Five presidents have endorsed the sale of V. F. W. Buddy Poppies since it was launched on a nation-wide scale in 1922. According to Frank Daehne, commander of the Hall-Slater Post here, letters of endorsement came from Presidents Harding, Coolidge, Hoover, Roosevelt and Truman.

The V. F. W.'s Buddy Poppy sale will take place in Tecumseh on May 16 and 17. On those two days, members of the local Post's Auxiliary will be on the streets selling flowers and receiving the public's contribution.

During the past 30 years, the first Buddy Poppy has been conveyed to the nation's chief executive by the orphan of a veteran, a child selected from among those being reared at the V. F. W. national home for widows and orphans at Eaton Rapids.

The flowers are made by disabled veterans as a valuable occupational therapy project. The chance to make the Buddy Poppies, V. A. doctors assert, helps stimulate the convalescence of veterans in need of something to make their idle hours pass more swiftly.

Mrs. Bertha L. Mahrle Dies In Hospital Here

Mrs. Bertha L. Mahrle, aged 73 years, wife of Henry C. Mahrle, died suddenly at Herrick Memorial Hospital, Saturday evening at 7:30, where she had been admitted earlier in the evening. She was a life-long resident of Clinton, and was born February 1, 1879, the daughter of the late Horace and Sarah Semark. She married Mr. Mahrle, March 21, 1897. She was a member of St. John's Episcipal church.

Survivors besides her husband, are a son, E. Dewey Mahrle of Detroit; a sister, Mrs. Lawrence Carroll of Clinton; two grandchildren, Dewey and Donald Mahrle, and a number of nephews, nieces and cousins.

Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Proctor Funeral Home. Lay-minister Jack E. Warner officiated and burial was in Riverside cemetery.

Mrs. Ellen Carson, 90-year-old Tecumseh woman, was honored at a Gay 90's Party in the Fellowship Center of the Presbyterian church here, Saturday. Mrs. Carson, the oldest mother present, received the corsage worn by the bride in a playlet during the program. Seen with Mrs. Carson, as she posed in one of the Gay 90's settings, is her daughter, Miss Ann Carson. Miss Carson participated in the program and was in Gay 90's dress. (Herald Photo)

Gay 90's Tea Is Largely Attended

COSTUMES OF YESTERYEAR PROVE ATTRACTIVE AT CHURCH EVENT, SATURDAY

Remember when lemon drops—instead of real lemon juice—flavored your tea, and at social events the ladies served tarts and fried-cake balls? You don't? Then it's safe to say that you didn't get around much in the gay 90's, because that was the custom.

A number of Tecumseh women found that out, last Saturday afternoon, when they attended the "Gay Nineties Tea," sponsored by the Presbyterian League in the Fellowship Center of the church. Thirty-five tables were arranged, and each member and her guests sat at attractively appointed tables and sipped their tea from old-fashioned cups.

The program was announced by Mrs. Wade Hendershot. It consisted of a mock wedding. Mrs. Dale Tingley was the minister; Mrs. John Quigley, the bride; Mrs. Robert Reis, the groom; Mrs. Kenneth Hall, the bride's attendant; Miss Ann Carson, the bride's mother; Mrs. Al Bagshaw, the groom's father and best man. Mrs. Kennard Wise was at the organ.

Legion's Poppy Sale Here May 19 Thru 24

Wear a poppy, honor the war dead and aid the war's living.

That will be the American Legion Auxiliary's appeal to Tecumseh folk during the Legion's Poppy Days Sale, May 23 and May 24, it was announced today by Mrs. Carl Thompson, chairman for the Underwood-Orr Post Auxiliary.

Women of the auxiliary will be on the streets during the poppy sale, offering the symbolic memorial flowers to the public and receiving contributions for the Auxiliary's work in behalf of disabled veterans and needy children of the veterans.

As in the past, the poppies will be crepe paper replicas of the wild flowers which grew "between the crosses, row on row" in the battle cemeteries of France and Belgium. They are made by disabled veterans of both wars, especially for the sale.

"This year, the poppy will have added significance because of the long lists of war dead from Korea which have been added to the heroic roll of those who have died for America," Mrs. Thompson said.

BURIED IN BROOKSIDE

Baptist Plan Church Growth

$50,000 ADDITION TO PRESEN EDIFICE ANNOUNCED; A 'NUAL MEETING HELD

The 113th annual meeting of the Tecumseh Baptist church was held Wednesday evening in the church. Plans for a 35 x 60 foot addition to the church, at an approximate cost of $50,000, were discussed. The increase in the church membership makes the addition necessary.

The 1952-1953 budget was accepted and reports from various department showed a substantial church growth. The church school showed an 11 per cent increase; the missionary giving was above last year, and a 10 per cent increase in this goal has been set for the coming year. Average church attendance also showed a substantial gain.

New officers elected are: Deasons, J. D. Cook, Charles Beland and Marion Morse; junior deacons, Almond Curtis and Harold Harper; Mrs. Eddie Kirkland, deaconess; Norma Bilby and Lucille

School Safe Ransacked, $68 Is Taken By Thief

Sixty-eight dollars in currency and silver were stolen from the vault in the offices of Earl Green, elementary school principal, in Central building, early last Thursday morning. No trace of the thief has been found.

Entrance to the building was gained by breaking a window in the basement. The robber then went to the main floor, where he broke a window in the office door and unlocked it. With the aid of a wrecking bar or similar instrument he removed the bricks in one side of the vault wall, permitting him to enter.

Officers say that it probably took more than 20 minutes to remove the bricks. Tracks in the dust at the scene indicated only one man was at work.

Similar robberies have occurred in both Adrian and Toledo, leading investigators to believe that the work is done by a professional.

New Appeal Is Made For Red Cross Funds

The American Red Cross has issued another appeal for funds to help the stricken people in the Missouri and Mississippi flood area. At least 30,000 families are homeless.

The Red Cross just completed its annual drive in the county and now feels that it cannot ask its workers to conduct a second campaign. For that reason, each family is asked to mail $1 to the Red Cross to help care for the relief work.

In Tecummseh, the money should be mailed to the Red Cross, % Mrs. L. W. Larsen, chairman. Contributions by organizations, clubs and industries also will be welcomed.

Tecumseh Will Get New Lights

CONSUMERS WILL INSTALL NEW SYSTEM IN DOWNTOWN AREA AND ON BOULEVARD

Tecumseh, in the business district and on Chicago Boulevard, is to have new street lights.

The Village Council, in regular session Monday evening, approved Consumers' plan to tear down the present lighting system in the downtown district and replace it with new overhanging lights of higher candle power. On East and West Chicago Boulevard, the ornamental lamp posts in the center of the street will be removed and, instead, overhanging lights of higher candle power will be installed at each intersection. New lights also are to be installed on Evans street, it was said, there will be new installations in the vicinity of the postoffice on Logan street and near the South Pearl street parking lot.

It was pointed out that the cost of the project will not be billed to the village, all of the expense being borne by the power company. The only increased cost, insofar as the village is concerned, will be

Insofar as Tecumseh is concerned, it's still the same old-fashioned America.

And just to prove the point, some 14 farmer friends of the Carl Williams family turned out in a group, Thursday, and plowed, fitted and planted 18 acres of oats on the Williams farm. They started early in the morning and had the job done before 5 o'clock.

Of course, there was time off at noon when Mrs. Williams served a country-style dinner which everyone enjoyed.

The Williams live on Russell Road, just a mile or two southwest of Tecumseh. They farm about 200 acres. Mr. Williams has been ill since Christmas time and unable to do his usual work. His

The Eyes of the World are on America

"Under a parliamentary system of government, the Truman administration would at this point of near collapse go out of office on a vote of no confidence," wrote Marquis Childs in one of his recent columns. "That would in all probability have happened months ago as the inability of the administration to carry out even rudimentary policy was demonstrated over and over again.

"Under the American system, with its fixed term of four years for the chief executive, we shall go for nearly 10 months with virtually no government at all. In this period the fate of the world may be decided, and decided by default."

That is not the view of an anti-administration writer—in past times, Mr. Childs has often been very kind to Mr. Truman and many of his policies, and he is a warm admirer of the late President Roosevelt. It is a view which is very widely held by seasoned observers of the American scene.

Rarely in history has an Administration come apart at the seams so swiftly as Mr. Truman's. Almost everything has contributed to it—the Korean stalemate, the tax scandals, the biting controversy over Mr. Acheson and the State Department, the corruption in government issues, the Newbold Morris fiasco, the troubles within the cabinet and the dismissal of Attorney General McGrath, the charges of communist influences in high places, and to cap the climax, the handling of the steel strike and the implications of political favoritism and corruption involved.

This is more than just a dramatic and startling political development. It poses great problems for the nation. As Mr. Childs pointed out, decisions of the utmost importance should be taken by the government. To quote him again, "The Russians are showing definite signs of wanting to try to settle the major differences between West and East. Western strength is being rapidly eroded away in the Far East and the Middle East. What about Formosa? The future of Chiang Kai-shek and his Nationalist forces? The vastly expanded arms race in terms of weapons so fantastically destructive that most of us simply do not comprehend their true meaning for mankind."

Few people now believe that the Truman administration will—or could—come solidly to grips with problems of the magnitude and urgency of these. The President has totally lost control of Congress. The major measures which would effect his so-called fair deal program languish in committee, and aren't even given the consideration of being brought to a vote. Congress, with its collective eye fixed firmly on the coming election, is marking time and, as a general rule, doing only what cannot be postponed.

This indicates the tremendous issues that will confront the next Administration, whether is be Democratic or Republican. It is very possible that Administration will take office in as crucial a period as the nation has ever known—and it is certain that it will have to face domestic and international problems of incredible delicacy and difficulty. The whole world will be intently watching both the nominating conventions and the election which will follow in November.

With such a picture before them, the American voters, both in the primaries and in the general election, should think carefully before they mark their ballots for any candidate. Perhaps not since the days of the American Revolution or the Civil War has the United States faced a more crucial period than today. The men we send to Congress should be carefully chosen for, after all, under our democratic form of government, Congress—the men in it—represent us, the people. The decision that our representatives in government make will determine America's future. The men in Congress, perhaps, will decide whether the United States continues as a democracy or whether it becomes some kind of socialistic state—even communistic.

For many years past we have been placing too much emphasis on our choice for president and too little emphasis on our choice of representatives in Congress. As a result, we have and have had for many, many years, a Congress that could be shoved around by the chief executive. When such a condition exists, the days of democratic government are gone.

The approaching elections should be taken very, very seriously by the American voters. Because, as they vote in August and November may determine not only the fate of America but the world, also.

It makes each drop of gas say uncle

ACCORDING to combustion experts, there's as much energy locked in a drop of gasoline as there is in a drop of nitroglycerine.

But the problem is to put that energy to work.

So Buick engineers aren't content just to mix that drop with air and touch it off. They've designed an engine that brings it catapulting into a cylinder head where it strikes a turbo-top piston—gets whipped into a churning, swirling ball of tight-packed energy.

Then it's fired. And when that happens, a drop of gasoline certainly lets loose power.

This isn't something that happens in a "car of the future."

It happens in a Buick Fireball 8 Engine today. It's a high-compression engine. It's a valve-in-head engine. But it's also a Fireball in performance as well as name.

And it puts extra power under the hood—and extra miles in the fuel back in the gas tank.

Now, power is great, but what goes with it?

Mister, that's something you ought to find out—and soon.

What goes with it is an automobile as sweet-handling, eager and willing as anything that ever made your pulse leap to a faster beat.

It's a car that seems to know what you want it to do—true and sure in its course on a straightaway—beautifully balanced on curves.

It's a car with Dynaflow Drive* to feed power with infinite smoothness—and a road-hugging levelness of ride that took a million in cold cash to perfect.

And it is, with all this, a very tidy bargain. Why not price it, drive it, know it for yourself? We'll be glad to arrange a demonstration.

F. Mantell, occurred over Fort Knox, Kentucky, while with two others he was chasing a mysterious aerial object. At first the Army reported he was chasing the planet Venus. I checked the locality of Venus at the time and found it was too low in the sky to be taken for an aerial object. Later the Army, realizing this, denied the Venus theory, marked the incident "unidentified".

Now let us see what a friend of Mantell, and the two other flyers have to say. Here it is:

While in pursuit Mantell radioed the tower that the object he was chasing was at least 250 feet in diameter and was of a light metallic luster. This was heard over the radio by the two other flyers who told my friend about the occurrence after they landed. They also saw the object and confirmed the report.

But enough of the classic reports of which there are many more, as well as thousands of newspaper accounts. History and sightings are not the object of this discourse. Flying saucers have been osberved by too many competent observers to be lightly brushed off. While it is true that 96% of observations made by lay individuals can be subscribed to other known objects or common phenomena, it still leaves the other four percent of observations made by competent men to be explained. These are the ones in which I am interested.

Did you know that a very good sighting was made right here in Tecumseh last June by two prominent ladies, one of whom had been been a student of astronomy. Don't tell her she saw an illusion, flight of birds or was suffering from vertigo (the typical army answer to flying saucer sights).

Recently, in Life Magazine, a very good article appeared in which sightings of green fire balls over Arizona and New Mexico were reported (I say one of these). Also, an account of what Ed Sullivan of Los Angeles was doing with a group of associates to try and see if they could determine what this flying saucer phenomena was all about.

I was in correspondence with Mr. Sullivan, but have not heard from him for some time. A few days ago I received a letter from a mutual friend in Los Angeles saying that he (Sullivan) had been visited by an army representative and since then had gone quiet. Mystery on mystery.

Let us examine the facts as I know them, remembering that these are my opinions from several years of study and research.

1, At times there are mysterious objects in our upper atmosphere.
2. They appear in three shapes or forms.
3. They can be photographed and have been.
4. They can travel at great speeds and can change course instantly or they can remain motionless.
5. They have been observed singly in formations and forming geometric patterns.
6. As far as my friends, or I know, none have ever landed on earth (with all due respect to my friend Scully, as I have been to locations in New Mexico and Arizona where he says flying saucers have landed, and I could find no trace of them or anybody who ever heard of such an occurrence).
7. None of my friends, nor I, have ever heard of their intelligence by trying to communicate with us.
8. More authentic sightings are reported in the full and last quarter of the moon than in the new moon and first quarter.
9. Observations made in different localities of the same object and charted, show those objects seem to follow great circle courses.
10 Flying saucers have been sighted in most of the countries of the earth, including Antarctica.

With these facts before us, why can't people realize that we have one of the most astounding events in all history now occurring right in our front yard?

Christ was sent among us to teach brotherly love and to do unto others as we would have them do unto us. His teachings did not materialize. Witness the state of our civilization since His time. Now if these anamolies come from some other of our planets, as quite a good many serious thinkers suppose, or if they are from some other solar system, then the intelligence that conceived and constructed them is far and away ahead of ours. Granting that this premise is true, then to me it logically follows that their way of life, both spiritually and materially, is far and away ahead of ours, also. Admitting the second premise, it then follows that they want to help us in every way that they can, if we would only offer them the opportunity. I cannot conceive of their being a hostile folk, bent on captivating or destroying us. What on this earth do we have that they do not have or cannot produce better than we can, ten times over?

So, I say again, that the sky phenomena now occurring can, in my opinion, be classed with the great events of the past, and we content ourselves with a few brief items and occasional magazine articles, some three or four books, and almost total disregard and ridicule by government. Some of the articles, written with government blessing are almost childlike in their arguments.

Now what to do about this tantalizing subject. Why cannot a group be formed composed of serious people, each having some knowledge in such fields as communications, cryptography, radar, astronomy, mathematics, mechanics, medicine, public relations, philosophy, etc. I believe we have this talent in our own locality. If it can be located and properly directed, great results may be accomplished and as Government seems to have no interest in the subject, why don't we as individuals see what can be done? The prize is not riches, the work is hard, but if we do succeed, think what a question will be answered, and if we do not succeed, at least we have made an attempt and not sat idly by while such startling things are actually happening.

Legion Slaps At Communism

TRAVELING SHOW WITH DALE McINTYRE AS NARRATOR TO TAKE TO ROAD

The American Legion believes there's no business like show business — to whip communism.

To that end, 30 points in the state of Michigan are being mobilized to handle local details of "Know Your America," a musical pageant sponsored by the Legion, which has its opening date at the Holland Tulip Festival May 16.

Local Legion posts will ask cooperation of Women's clubs, fraternal organizations, church groups and civic, service and religious organizations in an endorsement of the production.

No admission charge will be made nor will there be any sort of commercialization or advertising connected with the production. Its sole aim is to sell Americanism to the general public.

Narrated by Dale McIntyre of Radio Station WJR of Detroit, the hour and one-half show will depict some of the advantages which have made our nation great. Mr. McIntyre spoke recently at a Chamber of Commerce banquet here.

In a flash-back to Revolutionary War Days, the pageant will progressively show how freedom of thinking, individual initiative and private enterprise aided greatly in bringing about the strong USA as it exists today.

Actual demonstrations of mechanical inventions starting from the electric light and continuing through jet propulsion will be included in the production.

An accompanying exhibit will feature a pictorial review showing replicas of famous American documents such as the Declaration of Independence and the Bill of Rights.

Climax to the production will be a short plea for a stronger American spirit by State Legion Commander Thomas Roumell of Dearborn.

Roumell stated that recent un-American activity hearings in Detroit reveal that there are still those within our midst who would sell the Land of Opportunity down the river.

The Legion feels that this production would graphically portray the advantages of the American Way of Life in dramatic form, thereby bringing about a re-awakening, a revival and a new surge of Americanism spirit. That is the reason for the production.

Main vehicle of the traveling show will be an ultra-modern caravan bus, the sides of which open out via means of hydraulic power and form a huge stage.

Special effects through means of music, short movie excerpts and live actors will help create the settings of the historical musical extravaganza.

A street parade is planned at each community where the production will show, with local musical organizations, civic dignitaries and officers of clubs and community groups participating.

Nearly 300 people were seated at a banquet, held in American Legion Memorial Home at 5:30 Sunday afternoon. This affair was sponsored by the members of St. Elizabeth church and brought the dedicatory celebration to a close.

G. Arthur Rathbun, circuit judge, acted as toastmaster. The address of welcome was by the Rev. Fr. Collins. Mayor J. Floyd Elliott and Ray W. Herrick, president of Tecumseh Products Co., spoke briefly. The principal address was by Msgr. Pfeffer.

More than 40 of the priests who were here for the afternoon ceremony were in attndance at the banquet.

The new St. Elizabeth church, built at a cost of more than $100,000, was completed last fall and first occupied in November. It replaced the old church of the same name on East Chicago boulevard, built in 1913 and outgrown by the congregation. The former church now serves as a parish house.

The site on which the new church is built is large enough to accommodate the building of a school and a rectory, and these buildings are to be constructed at a later date.

oldest son, Roger, is in military service and still has 10 months to serve. That leaves only the mother and two pre-teen children to do the job of farming.

Thursday, fourteen men—all neighbors—met at the Williams farm. They had plenty of tools to work with, including ten tractors, plows, discs and drags. They made short work of the two fields that comprise 18 acres and by nightfall the oats were all planted.

The group was organized by Roy Wisner and Leslie Becker. Others who were there included Harry Day, Murry Day, Fay Van Valkenburg, Merle Hendrix, Raynor Van Valkenburg, Lawrence Young, Bob Bryan, Fred Feight, Melvin Schultz and James Winsler. Tractors and operators and tools also were sent by the Whelan Implement Co., and the Tecumseh Farm Equipment Co.

Needless to say, the Williams were deeply grateful for the farm bee. It's quite a relief to a farm family to know that when it is planting time that the oats are in.

Who Started Photography ?

THE ANSWER IS KNOWN, AND ALSO HOW THE ART CAME TO AMERICA

Rochester, N. Y.—How did photography come to America?

Nearly everyone knows George Eastman played a vital part in building up a giant industry, but the details of how the secret came to this country from Europe have been obscured.

It seems the daguerreotype was born on Monday afternoon August 19, 1839, in Paris—the day the French Academy of Science held a special meeting to furnish the public with full instructions. The secret had been purchased for the common good from the inventor Louis Jacques Mande Daguerre.

From Paris the news spread around the world as quickly as railroads and steamboats could carry it. The story of how it came to America has intrigued the imaginations of those in charge of the George Eastman House Collection of historic photographs here in Rochester. Hence the attention given to this subject in Volume I, No. 1 of "Image," the new journal of photography of the George Eastman House.

Samuel F. B. Morse is quoted as having stated in the New York "Journal of Commerce" Sept. 28, 1839, that credit for the first photograph made in the United States "I believe belongs to Mr. D. W. Seager of this city, who has for several days had some results at Mr. Chilton's on Broadway."

The editors of Focus state that now the exact date can be established. They have a letter from Mr. Seager to the manager of the American Institute, stating that he is sending for preservation the deguerreotype which he took in New York City on Sept. 16.

According to witnesses, just as the ship on which Mr. Seager was sailing from London left the dock, a friend tossed him a copy of Daguerre's instruction manual. Unfortunately, diligent searching has failed to unearth that most historic of all pictures.

LENAWEE HISTORY TO BE DEPICTED ON THE RADIO

The commercial time of the Tecumseh Chamber of Commerce's Sunday evening radio program, "I Was A Communist for the F.B.I.," will be devoted to airing incidents of Tecumseh and Lenawee county history in the future, according to R. H. Moore, president. Listeners will be asked to participate by sending in items of interest from their own particular area, thereby developing the historical story of the entire county. Items considered of sufficient listener interest will be edited and reported as a regular part of the Sunday evening broadcast.

"The feature dealing with Communists in our midst is proof enough that history is being made at home. We believe that by relating Tecumseh and Lenawee county history, this feature will have added local interest," said Mr. Moore. "We trust that the people of Lenawee county will be generous in writing to the Tecumseh Chamber of Commerce and Station WABJ, and relating such incidents."

coming to help to defray the cost. Another $10,000 will come from the school's general fund to make up the total.

James McDowell, superintendent of schools, said today that the Board of Education will be unable to canvass the vote until Friday evening, due to the absence from town of Dr. Ralph Helzerman, secretary of the board. As soon as this is done, he said, the Board will immediately proceed with engineering plans. Bids will be taken as quickly as possible, and construction will be started during the summer. It is hoped to have the buildings ready for occupancy by January of 1953.

Mr. McDowell said that the Board was very much pleased with the voters' endorsement of its plans to meet the crowded condition of the schools. He said that special thanks should go to Tecumseh Products Co., Tresco, The Tecumseh Herald, the Exchange and Rotary Clubs and the Chamber of Commerce, to L. W. Larsen, Al Russell, R. H. Moore and Earl Wickwire and many, many others for their assistance.

"It would be impossible to name everyone," he said, "but we want to express our appreciation to all of those who cooperated."

The Board of Education met in regular session after the election, but postponed most of its business until Friday.

Plant Pre-Tested Seeds,
Watch Your Garden "Shoot Ahead"

We'd like to suggest something—plant pretested seeds from our store in your garden. Then, just to prove a point, watch your neighbor's garden—if he planted just ordinary seeds.

There'll be a difference—a difference that will make you happy.

Pretested seeds, you know, are tested by the grower. They are the finest seeds that you can buy—yet they cost no more than ordinary seeds.

We've been selling them for years. Ask some of our customers about them. They know the story, too.

POLIO PRECAUTIONS FOR 1952—Distribution for more thar 1,000,000 leaflets to Michigan school children instructing parents in precautions to take when polio comes to the community is now underway with the help of the State Department of Public Instruction. The leaflets which contain several "do's" and "don'ts" were printed for free distribution by the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis. Getting things off to a good start is little GINGER SHOWERS, four-year-old Lansing polio victim who is showing sample leaflets to MRS. MARGARET COOK of Ionia, Women's state advisor for the Foundation and LEE M. THURSTON, State Superintendent of Public Instruction.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

As a Matter of Fact...

Out of all the newspaper and magazine columns I read, the ones I enjoy most are those that pack in a whole lot of facts — unrelated facts, but each one an interesting bit of information in itself.

These columns go something like this: "Did you know that humpback whales are addicted to snoring? That bees have been bred with red, brown, and buff-color eyes?

"Did you know that lead can be converted to gold — at a cost of $1,000,000 an ounce? That a 555-pound fat girl went on a diet and lost 401 pounds in 12 months? That a chrysanthemum has been developed that smells like a violet?"

From where I sit, maybe I'm a kind of "Johnny-one-note." My own columns always seem to revolve around one idea—a plea for us to make sure we respect the other fellow's rights—like the right to vote for your own choice or the right to enjoy a glass of beer now and then. I may not be in style, but I believe my one fact is worth repeating—and remembering!

The wedding took place in the living room of a gay nineties home. There was the proverbial white bell, and the archway was banked with white and pink blossoms. Of course, the ladies were all in costumes of the nineties.

Later, old-fashioned album scenes, prepared by Mrs. Howard Truesdale, were presented, with Mrs. Quigley and Mrs. Walter Pfaus as the readers. The first scene was that of the bride and groom, played by Mrs. Hall and Mrs. Bakshaw; the mother and child, by Mrs. Raymond Puffer and her daughter, Mariam; uncle and aunt, by Mrs. Donald Nixon and Mrs. Bagshaw; the mother and with Mrs. Tingley as the father, Mrs. John Lott as the mother, Diane Reis and John Hess as the children. Another scene was that of the grandmother, with the open Bible on her lap. This was played by Mrs. John R. Thompson.

The program concluded with a piano solo, "Silver Threads Among The Gold," by Mrs. Wise.

Mrs. Ellen Carson, mother of Miss Ann Carson, and who is 90 years of age, was presented with a bride's bouquet arrangement by Mrs. Charles Kempf. Mrs. Carson was the oldest mother present.

Miss Ruth Harding presented the League with a trunk filled with clothing of the nineties, the property of the Harding families.

Members of the League brought antiques which were used in decorating the Center. This was in charge of Miss Carson and Miss Mary McWilliams. The various chairmen of the tea included Mrs. Puffer, tables and chairs; Mrs. Lawrence Price, table arrangements; Mrs. E. C. Brandt, tickets; Mrs. LeRoy Titley, tea, and Mrs. Hendershot, general chairman of refreshments.

BRITTON

The Congregational Women's Fellowship met at the church last week. A potluck dinner was served at 1 o'clock. After the devotions a short study was conducted on "Mexico." Pictures on Mexico were shown by Mrs. Lee Keeling who recently returned from there on a trip. Mrs. Nina Sturtevant was a guest of the day, displaying many articles she acquired on a trip to Mexico several years ago. A report on the Jackson association meeting was given by Mrs. Francis Dartt and Mrs. Mabel Moore, both who attended the meeting recently in Pinckney.

Raymond Hannah, a patient of veterans hospital at Dearborn, spent the week-end with his mother, Mrs. Buelah Hannah and family.

Mr. and Mrs. George Beauchamp and children of Athens, O., were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. Robert McCarbery.

Mr. and Mrs. George Forsyth accompanied Rev. and Mrs. J. Morgan Reese to Addison for the sessions of the Jackson association meeting held recently in the United Congregational church.

It Takes Know-how

How many times have you gone fishing and came home without fish?

There's a reason why some folk catch fish and others can't. And there's also a reason why some mechanics can repair Buick and Chevrolet cars and others can't.

The reason is KNOW-HOW.

Our mechanics have the know-how to make your Buick or Chevrolet purr like a kitten. They know how to make it give you extra miles on gasoline—more miles of trouble-free motoring.

Drive in for a check-up; we'll convince you.

Big Value Days Here Next Week

MERCHANTS PLAN BANG-UP SALES EVENT IN TECUMSEH ON MAY 23-24

Next week Friday and Saturday, May 23 and 24, will be Value Days in Tecumseh.

The two-day bargain event, in which the merchants will offer deep-cut prices, will be the second promotion of its kind here within the past few weeks. The program is sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce, in an effort to not only stimulate trade but to convince shoppers, county-wide, that Tecumseh is a friendly, easy and economical place in which to trade.

Merchants, every day in the week, offer genuine values, but on the Value Days, prices will be cut even deeper, a Chamber spokesman said. Shoppers, too, it was pointed out, also should remember that Tecumseh stores are open on Saturday evenings for the convenience of customers, and that there is plenty of free parking in the downtown district.

Next week's Herald will carry the advertising message of the merchants and copies of the newspaper will be distributed free by the Chamber to employees at Tecumseh Products Co.

Don't Forget, Clean Up Week

VILLAGE TRUCKS NOW ON STREETS HELPING RESIDENTS TO KEEP TECUMSEH CLEAN

This is Clean-up Week — May 15 through May 22.

During this week, village-operated trucks will be on the streets of Tecumseh, helping residents to keep their property free of trash and debris — and there's no cost.

"Clean-up Week in Tecumseh is an annual affair," Clyde Eckler, village engineer, said. "Village trucks will pick up rubbish, waste and debris that is taken to the curb line. However, this does not include garbage. Garbage will be disposed of in the usual manner."

In the past, clean-up week has been widely acclaimed by residents throughout Tecumseh. It has given property owners an opportunity to dispose of branches, grass and other debris, without the expense of hiring trucks.

There is no cost to the property owners for the pick-up. All expense is paid out of the village's tax funds.

Mr. Eckler said that the regular Saturday pick-up of rubbish by the village has been discontinued. For the most part, he said, trash and rubbish are being disposed of through regular pick-ups by the garbage trucks which operate every day of the week.

Two Poppy Sales Are Scheduled For Tecumseh

Poppies will be the popular flower here during the next few days, as veterans' organizations prepare for their annual sales.

The Buddy Poppy sale, sponsored by Hall-Slater Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, will be staged in Tecumseh this week-end, May 16-17, it was announced today by Frank Daehne, commander of the post. The sale is an annual affair. The flowers are made by disabled veterans as a valuable occupational therapy project, and funds derived from the sale are used to carry on the Veterans' rehabilitation projects.

The American Legion's Poppy Days will be staged in Tecumseh on Friday and Saturday, May 23-24. "Wear a poppy and honor the war dead and aid the war's living," will be the slogan of that campaign.

The Legion's sale will be under the direction of the Auxiliary and Mrs. Carl Thompson is chairman. The poppies will be crepe paper replicas of the wild flowers that grew "between the crosses, row on row," in the battle cemeteries of France and Beglium. They are made by disabled veterans and funds derived from this sale also go to rehabilitation work by the Legion.

Later, two other children in the Poley home became ill and Dr. H. H. Hammel, local health officer, was advised by the State Department of Health, that their their illness had been diagnosed as diphtheria. The Poley home was quarantined.

Tuesday, Dr. Richard Hofstra, director of the Lenawee County Health Unit, told The Herald that subsequent tests by the State Health Department disclosed that while first tests showed that the children were ill of diphtheria, further tests also showed that it

School Budget Is Up $25,000

COST OF OPERATING PUBLIC SCHOOLS HERE NEXT YEAR ESTIMATED AT $271,000

It will cost approximately $271,500 to operate the Tecumseh public schools during the coming school year, 1952-53, according to a budget submitted to the board of education by James McDowell, superintendent. The budget was approved at the board's meeting, last week.

The school budget for the coming year is approximately $25,000 higher than it was a year ago, school records show, when costs amounted to a little more than $244,000.

Receipts during the coming year are estimated as follows: From current property tax, (8 mills on the district's assessed valuation), will return the school $53,820.40. Primary money will amount to a little more than $23,000, and state aid will total nearly $129,000. Sales tax diversion money will total more than $28,000, and more than $20,000 will come from tuition. The balance is made up of delinquent tax money, vocational aid, veterans institute, library money and text book rentals.

On the expense side of the budget is found about $14,000 for school administration, $205,000 for instruction, (including teachers' salaries), $32,000 for operating the school plant, $4,000 for maintenance, $6,000 for capital outlay and fixed and auxiliary charges amount to nearly $9,000.

The operation of the public library for the coming year is estimated at $9,978.80. Of this amount, $2,981 comes from state aid, $6,727 from local taxes and $270 from fines and delinquent taxes. Librarians' salaries total $6,350, materials and expenses amount to $1,223.47, and the other costs, including the salary of the custodian, heat, utilities, repairs and insurance combine to make up the total disbursement.

6 Fox Cubs Found By Tired Golfers

ANIMALS TURNED OVER TO CONSERVATION OFFICER; MOTHER NOT CAPTURED

There are advantages to membership in the Tecumseh Country Club that are not listed on the membershsip cards—at least that is what a group of members discovered last Saturday afternoon.

It seems that half a dozen golf fans decided that they were not in the mood for pounding the little white ball over the greens. They meditated for a few minutes, then struck upon the idea of fox hunting. It was known that there are foxes in the vicinity of the club.

The group was composed of Leo Bishop, golf pro, Frank Smith, Kirk Smith, Robert Moore, Robert Moore, jr., and Herbert Dillon.

After an extensive search, and still more extensive digging, the party came upon six baby fox cubs, all comfortable in a nest that was lined with pheasant feathers, ground moles, rabbits and other animals.

The mother fox was not around but the men suceeded in capturing the cubs and turned them over to a Lenawee county conservation officer.

The men filled in the trench that was dug to discover the nest but on Sunday, mother fox returned, threw out the dirt and searched for her family.

Mr. Born recently returned from the senior class annual junket to New York and Washington. He told of his trip, of the things that he saw, and expressed his appreciation to the club for making the journey possible. Born will graduate from the local school this month and in July he will return to Germany with some 75 other German students in this area who are in the United States on the Rotary plan.

Guests at the meeting included Louis DuChene of Adrian, Andrew Woodard and Wayne Balliet of Clinton, and Vern Manwaring of Tecumseh.

LAND ON EAST SIDE OF SOUTH ADRIAN STREET NOW SCHOOL DISTRICT PROPERTY

School District No. 7, Tecumseh, has purchased a 10-acre plot on South Adrian street, north of Russell Road, and will hold the property as a site for the future development of the school's building program, it was announced today at the office of James McDowell, superintendent. Approval of the purchase came last week when the board of education met in adjourned session.

The property, for which the board has been negotiating for some time, formerly was owned by Leon Mix, now a resident of California. The purchase price was $3,710. A part of the land inside the village corporation and the balance in the school district.

Purchase of the land is a part of the board's over all school building expansion program, as recommended by the State Department of Education. A few months ago, the board purchased 13 acres of land on North Union street and it is on this site that a new elementary school will be built. Bonds to cover the cost of this building project were approved by electors by a 14 to 1 vote, last week Tuesday. The cost of this building will be about $300,000.

The expansion program which the board will launch this summer, as a result of the bond approval, includes the addition of five rooms and a gymnasium at the high school, and the North Union street elementary school. The over-all cost of the project is $670,000. Bonds in the amount of $650,000 will be issued, and the balance comes from a $100,000 anonymous gift, and $10,000 from the school's general fund.

The board believes that when the addition to the high school is finished and the new Union street elementary school has been built there will be no need for future expansion here for eight or 10 years, perhaps more. However, because of the rapid growth of the district in the vicinity of South Adrian street and Tecumseh Acres, the State Department, as well as local school officials, felt that the district should prepare itself for expansion in that vicinity at some future time. It was for that reason that the board approved the purchase of the 10-acre plot now, while it still is available and before it had been sold for other building purposes.

The Question: Inflation or Deflation?

"Night club owners in Sydney, Australia, are grumbling these days—because the price of wool has dropped 50 per cent in 12 months," said a feature news story in a recent issue of the authoritative Wall Street Journal.

"In equatorial Singapore, a pound of rubber worth 80 cents last spring new sells at 36 cents. Southeast of London, a five-room house price-tagged at $5,600 just four months ago is now offered at $4,482. In Chicago, a hundred pounds of hog worth $21.50 twelve months ago now brings only $17.50."

Such developments as these, the story went on, are symptoms of world price deflation. More and more of them are appearing. And the point is that many an economist is coming to believe that deflation, rather than more inflation, may be the greatest world economic problem. This view was expressed by Britain's Chancellor of the Exchequer, Richard Butler, when he told Commons, "There is more danger of deflation and the possibility of unemployment in the world in general than some of the lively economic critics outside this house imagine."

According to the Wall Street Journal roundup, several factors seem to be responsible for the reversal of the price trend. First, world production of physical goods is very high. Second, the outbreak of the Korean war started scarce buying on a global scale and sent many prices clear out of line. Third, extremely stiff taxes are cutting deeply into the buying power of the people in this country and abroad. Our per capita taxes are over many times as great as in 1938, and other nations are in a comparable fix.

Here is how the Journal summed up the economic situations in a number of major countries:

FRANCE: Wholesale prices have turned downward, despite the fact that the government printing presses have been working hard producing francs. As the newspaper said, "The fact that French prices are slipping at all underscores the strength of the world trend."

BRITAIN: Unemployment has appeared, notably in textiles. Prices have weakened. Foreign demand for British goods has contracted.

BELGIUM: A Brussels bank reported, "During February signs of a recession in the Belgian economy were still apparent on all sides. The entire price scheme is on the decline, with the exception of wages."

CANADA: Wholesale prices have been declining for many months. The government has relaxed installment buying because of lagging sales of consumer goods.

DENMARK: The market for Danish goods has shrunk, and unemployment is about 10 per cent greater than a year ago.

UNITED STATES: The wholesale price index, which has been slipping slowly down for a year, is at the lowest level since March, 1951. There has been much price cutting on durable goods, such as television sets, and some other commodities as well. Our factory output is more than double that of 1939.

One could become a bit pessimistic upon reading the Journal's story if it were the first time that he had given any thought to the economic condition of the United States or to the world. However, to folk who, during the past 10 or 15 years, have been doing any straight thinking, the story does not come as a surprise.

Any person who has enjoyed the privilege of an eighth grade education knows that there are certain basic, fundamental laws in economics—such as the law of supply and demand. Such fundamental laws cannot be changed by legislation any more than Congress or the World Court could cause a change in the time of the rising or the setting of the sun. Here in this country we have even tried to kid ourselves with "daylight saving" time. We have changed our clocks, but the sunrise and the sunset come "at the same old time," regardless of what the clock says.

And sooner or later the people of the United States and of the world are going to learn that the New Deal's policy of taxing and spending the nation into prosperity is just as false a philosophy as daylight saving time. True, we might—and perhaps we have—kidded ourselves into some warped thinking, but that doesn't change the basic facts.

It appears that a vast majority of the folk in this country have been lulled into an apathetic state of mind by politicians' songs of no work, all play, big money and a life of ease. The end of such a path can be only socialism, communism and destruction.

The United States is the dominant world power. Decisions made here affect every nation on earth. Next November we will select a President and members of Congress. We'd better be sure, when we go to the polls, that we're doing some straight thinking. The time for kidding ourselves is past.

ALWAYS BE CAREFUL DRIVING
HIGHWAY SAFETY INTER-INDUSTRY COMMITTEE

You can swing it if you try

Have you, by any chance, been casting eyes at a Buick, and promising yourself that someday you will take the Big Step and have one all your own?

Let us whisper something to you. The "big step" isn't big at all.

We know that's true, because such a high percentage of present Buick owners traded in a car tagged as belonging in "the low-priced field."

So why not set your sights on this star performer?

Why not enjoy big-car comfort —big-car power—big-car prestige for your money?

There's one of these lively lovelies waiting for you to come in and try it.

Get the feel of its mighty Fireball 8 Engine, that's a gas-saving high-compression valve-in-head. You could pay $300 to $400 more for a car that doesn't match its horsepower.

Get the feel of Dynaflow Drive*, that lets you ride relaxed—feeds a silken flow of power—and at the same time cuts down on upkeep costs, by protecting the engine, the rear end, and even the tires, from driving strains.

Get the feel of a ride that cost a million dollars and more for controls of end-sway and side-roll and vertical "throw"—for X-bracing the frame and V-bracing the torque-tube keel—for a total of 15 ride-engineering features.

One thing you'll know for sure when you've tried it. This car wasn't "built to a price." It's a Buick through and through.

But the fact remains that—when you check the price of a Buick Special against the price tags on so-called "low-priced cars"—you'll find out you can swing it if you really want to.

And brother, will that make your family happy!

Local Hi School Senior Wins U. of M. Scholarship

Robert L. Kruger of Ridgeway, who will graduate here this month from Tecumseh high school, has been awarded a Regents-Alumni Honor Award from the University of Michigan, it was announced today at Ann Arbor. State-wide, 722 such awards were made.

This is the first year that the Regents-Alumni Honor Awards have been made. They are in the form of certificates designed to recognize outstanding high school seniors throughout the state who have been accepted for admission to the University of Michigan. The certificates carry no money awards.

Eligibility for an award is based upon the following factors: (1) the record made in high school; (2) information provided by University alumni and other citizens of the community; (3) recommendations of the principal and teachers; and (4) results of the special aptitude test taken by the candidate.

Regents - Alumni Scholarships, which carry a stipend equivalent to semester fees for the freshman year and are renewable for three additional years if the student's performance at the University warrants a continuation of the privilege, have been granted to 473 of the Honor Award winners. In selecting the scholarship winners, the Committee on University Scholarships considered particularly the present financial need of each candidate as presented in the application form. The University has notified each scholarship winner individually by mail and is not identifying the scholarship winners among the Honor Award recipients.

The Regents-Alumni Scholarships have been awarded since 1945. The award winners were seleced from 1,059 applicants representing 306 high schools. At least one scholarship is available for every accredited high school in the state provided a qualified candidate applies.

Two Diphtheria

was not of a toxic type, and for that reason a quarantine was not necessary. He said that the quarantine was removed over the week-end.

Dr. Hofstra said that the first tests were "smear" tests and the latest tests were through innoculation of guinea pigs. He said that the germs resembled those of dipththeria, but they were not of a type that is ordinarily considered dangerous, because they are not toxic.

The County Health Unit director said that in all probability the "scare" as a result of the dipththeria diagnosis had resulted in some benefit, because many mothers of small children had taken them to family doctors for immunization and booster shots which otherwise would have been neglected.

Immunization of children for diphtheria is recommended by doctors after the child reaches the age of six months. Booster shots should be given annually thereafter, while the child is in school, it was said.

Tecumseh uses about 10,000 gallons of gasoline daily, it was estimated. The strike now is more than two weeks old, and a general breakdown in transportation in the mid-west was forecast, unless there is a settlement within a week.

Your Basement Can Be Useful

EVEN THOUGH IT IS DAMP, THERE ARE WAYS TO MAKE IT VERY PLEASANT

Don't consider your basement hopeless, even if the dirt floor is damp and the ventilation is poor, a University of Michigan architect asserts.

There are practical ways to eliminate these vexing problems, according to Herbert W. Johe, assistant professor of architecture.

If you have a dirt floor, your first step will be to determine how much moisture is present by putting a piece of tar paper on the floor. Leave it there a few days, then check to see if moisture has collected on the bottom side.

If no moisture is evident, concrete slabs can be laid immediately.

If moisture has collected, the following would be a good procedure for laying concrete slabs. First, make sure the ground surface is level and solid. Then lay a vapor-seal type paper on the floor, lapping all paper joints six inches and sealing the joints with tar. Put four inches of gravel on the paper. Gravel is a fine base for concrete slab because it will take up moisture and allow for evaporation. Finally, lay another layer of vapor-seal paper the same way.

Now you're ready to lay the four-inch concrete slabs. But here Professor Johe issues a warning. At the wall joints be sure to allow for expansion by inserting a dense asphaltum type expansion strip there.

Don't paint the concrete until it has "cured" completely. To determine when the concrete floor is dry, use the tar-paper method of moisture testing.

Proper ventilation will help keep your basement dry. Basement windows should be screened so they can be opened without discomfort. It's very important, too, to ventilate windowless or crawl spaces to help prevent moisture from rotting floor joists and other wood construction.

This ventilation can be accomplished by inserting metal louvers in the wall near the ground. Fixed screen and covers are features of the louver so insects and rain will be kept out. Since termites are most active where it's damp, louvers will help keep your home in good condition.

Luncheon This Noon For Folk Over Fifty

Men and women who are over fifty years of age are holding a potluck luncheon and program today at twelve o'clock in the Tecumseh Methodist church with the Temple Dependables as hostesses. Those attending are asked to bring table service of old china and silver and, if possible, and arrangement of spring flowers in old china or glass vases, bowls, or pitchers, etc.

Mrs. T. Rentschler is planning the program and will be assisted by Mrs. George Wittrup. Last month Mrs. R. S. Moore told about the activities of the older people in St. Petersburg, Florida, while Mrs. Clare Beland told about the activities at Bradenton and Mrs. Neil Pearson showed pictures of Florida. Mrs. Fred Sheldon and Mrs. Glen VanDenbergh arranged that program and Miss Ann Carson presided.

VILLAGE OF TECUMSEH COUNCIL BUILDING

Present: President Elliott, Trustees Rohweder, Fosbender, Truesdale, Porter.

Absent: Heilman, Mensing.

Meeting of the Village Council of the Village of Tecumseh, Lenawee County, Michigan, held on the 7th day of May, 1952.

WHEREAS, State Trunkline Highway M-50 on Chicago Street in the Village of Tecumseh is in need of improvement between the west Village limit and Wyandotte Street, in order to serve traffic in a safe and expeditious manner and to reduce maintenance costs, such improvement to consist of widening each of the two existing roadways between Adrian and Pearl Streets and between Ottawa and Wyandotte Streets to 24-feet, face to face of curbs, with bituminous concrete surface on the new concrete base and the existing pavement between Pearl and Ottawa Streets, with all necessary incidentals; and

WHEREAS, The Village is to participate in the cost of such improvement in accordance with the provisions of Michigan law (see Compiled Laws 1948, Section 250.31 to 250.41, and Act 53 of 1951).

NOW THEREFORE, Be it resolved,

(1) That the Village hereby requests the State Highway Commissioner to proceed with such improvement.

(2) That the Village's share of the estimated cost of such improvement will be paid to the State Highway Commissioner for deposit with the State Treasurer for credit to the State Trunkline Fund when the improvement is placed under contract, or at such later time as may be agreed upon by the Village and the State Highway Commissioner, from Weight and Gasoline Tax funds made available to the Village by Acts 51, 54 and 55, Public Acts of 1951; or from other funds provided by the Village; and that if the Village fails to make payment of its share of the cost when due, the Village hereby authorizes the Auditor General to withhold a sufficient amount from funds becoming available to the Village from the Acts named above to cover the Village's indebtedness to the State Highway Commissioner, and the Village expressly consents to such withholding. Withholding shall begin with the first distribution after the indebtedness becomes delinquent, and shall continue from succeeding distributions until the indebtedness is paid in full.

(3) That upon determination of the actual cost of the improvement, any adjustment necessary to reconcile the estimated cost with actual cost will be made.

(4) That upon completion of the improvement, parking on the pavement between the west village limit and Pearl Street and between Ottawa and Wyandotte Streets will not be permitted, and the village will enact and keep in force and cause to be enforced, all ordinances and parking restrictions necessary to carry out this provision; and between Pearl and Ottawa Streets parallel parking in accordance with State statutes, will be enforced by the Village.

Shoppers Wait For Value Days

TWO-DAY BARGAIN EVENT TO BE STAGED HERE BY MERCHANTS, FRIDAY, SATURDAY

Tomorrow—Friday and Saturday—will be Value Days in Tecumseh, two special days when, through merchant's promotion, shoppers will find unusual buys in all lines of merchandise, village-wide.

"This is the second promotion of its kind locally," Robert H. Moore, president of the Chamber of Commerce, said today in discussing the event. "The first one was held in May and it proved so valuable to everyone that it was decided to repeat the program this month."

So that shoppers may enjoy deep-cut prices, most of the stores have done some special merchandising for the occasion. It also was pointed out that stores here are open on Saturday evenings until 9 o'clock, and that there is plenty of free parking space for shoppers.

As was done before, The Chamber has purchased extra copies of The Herald—which this week is carrying the merchants 'buying messages—and they will be distributed to employees of the Tecumseh Products Co., as they leave work, this afternoon and evening. As a result of the free distribution, many homes will receive two Heralds this week, because scores and scores of the employees now are subscribers. The Chamber asks that in such instances the regular subscribers give their extra copies of the newspaper to a friend that they, too, may learn about the bargain event.

Warns Against Social Medicine

IRISH SPEAKER SAYS BRITAIN STILL PAYING FOR WAR AND SOCIALISM

Great Britain and Northern Ireland are still paying the price for World War II and a switch to a socialistic government, John H. Sinton of Northern Ireland, told members of the Rotary Club, Tuesday evening, when he addressed the group, following dinner at the Country Club. Mr. Sinton, an evangelist, is conducting meetings at the Friends church here. The Rev. Edward Escolme also was a guest.

Northern Ireland is under British rule and rationing still is in effect there, Sinton said. Allowances include an egg a week, an ounce of butter, two ounces of tea, and as much meat in a week as an American consumes at a singe meal. Wages are low—$12 to $15 a week—but a suit of clothes costs $60.

Sinton said that he had heard rumblings over here that America is thinking about socialized medicine. He warned against it. In Ireland and Britain it is a racket, he said. There, he said, patients who can pay get the service, those who can't get what's left. Some folks trade doctor's prescriptions for other goods, and doctors are too busy for personal calls unless the patient is at death's door.

The program was arranged by Perry Hayden but he was unable to attend. He is a patient in University Hospital, Ann Arbor. Guests included Tom Young, Frank Sage, Raymond Anglemeyer, Ted Nielsona nd Wayne Balliet of Clinton.

WEDNESDAY PAPER

So that Herald subscribers may be sure to receive their newspapers before Memorial Day, The Herald next week will be published on Wednesday instead of Thursday. Regular Thursday publication will be resumed on June 5.

EVANGELISTIC SERVICES

Special evangelistic services will be held tonight and Friday night at the Tecumseh Friends Church with John and Dorothy Sinton, evangelists from Northern Ireland, in charge. This will conclude the meetings of the week. The Sintons will also be in charge of the services Sunday morning.

COURT AWARDS

A court of awards for Explorer Post 47 will be held May 27 at 7:30 p.m., in the social rooms of the Methodist church.

J. FLOYD ELLIOTT, president of the Village of Tecumseh, died suddenly of a heart ailment at his home here last Friday night. Mr. Elliott was many times president of the village, and was active in civic affairs of Tecumseh for more than 40 years. (Photo by Coller).

J.F. Elliott Dies Suddenly

VILLAGE PRESIDENT, VETERAN COUNCIL MEMBER, BURIED HERE, MONDAY

James Floyd Elliott, 70, president of the Village of Tecumseh and a veteran member of the Village Council, died suddenly, Friday evening, at his home, 204 South Evans street. Although he had not been feeling well for a few days, Mr. Elliott had been about his place of business, but he had restricted his activities. Friday morning his condition became worse and a doctor was summoned. He died at 9:15 p.m. Death was due to a heart condition.

Born July 25, 1881, in Tecumseh, Mr. Elliott was a son of the late James and Adelaide Rainey Elliott. He attended the Tecumseh public school and then entered the blacksmithing business with his father, in the Elliott shop on South Evans street. In 1920, when Mr. Elliott, sr. retired, he took over the business and operated it until the time of his death.

Mr. Elliott was perhaps one of the best known village presidents in Southern Michigan. This was due to the fact that he had been interested and active in civic affairs here for more than 40 years. He served numerous terms as a member of the Village Council, and was serving his sixth term as president of the village at the time of his death.

Mr. Elliott gained wide popularity at the time of Tecumseh's observance of its 125th anniversary, four years ago, when some 2,000 residents of Tecumseh, Ontario, Canada, came here to help this community celebrate the occasion. The following year, nearly as many Tecumseh, Michigan, residents journeyed to Tecumseh, Ontario, to return the visit. President Elliott was active in both celebrations, and he headed the Tecumseh caravan on

Ross George Drury, 70, Buried In Ridgeway

Ross George Drury, age 70 years, died at his home, 212 E. Shawnee street, at 11 o'clock Saturday morning, after an extended illness. Born January 28, 1882, in Neptune, Ohio, he lived for a while in Oregon and New Mexico. Later in 1910, the family moved to Michigan and he lived since in Britton and Tecumseh.

Mr. Drury was employed at Brewers Foundry and at Tecumseh Products Company untill illness forced him to retire. He was a son of the late Irving and Cora Barrington Drury. A brother, Mark, preceded him in death. Mr. Drury attended the Baptist church.

Survivors are three brothers, Marion of Tecumseh; Fred of Toledo and Marshall of Brodway, Virginia; one sister, Mabel, in Tecumseh and one nephew, Billy Drury of Brodway, Va.

Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon at the Green Funeral Home with the Rev. B. O. Bashore officiating. Burial was in Ridgeway cemetery. The bearers were Clarence Gilmore, Reuben VanWinkle, Paul Hadsell, Floyd Bryan and Arthur Petty all of Tecumseh and Jim Anderson of Jasper.

KINDERGARTEN PROGRAM

The kindergarten of the Brownville school with Mrs. Margaret Heimerdinger, teacher, will present a Brownville Travelogue program in the Central building auditorium, Thursday evening, (tonight) at 8 o'clock. There will be no admission but a donation will be received.

Mail Service To Be Improved

STAR ROUTE FROM DETROIT TO ADRIAN TO SPEED UP MAIL DELIVERY HERE

Improved mail service for Tecumseh, effective June 1, was announced today by F. E. N. Thatcher, acting postmaster.

Beginning the first of next month, Mr. Thatcher said, a new star route between Detroit and Adrian, by way of Tecumseh, will go into operation, speeding up materially the mail service between those two points. Mail for Tecumseh will be pouched in Detroit and will be delivered here at 6:15 a.m., and 3:15 p.m. Outgoing mail for Detroit will leave the local office at 7 p.m.

The new service will be in addition to the star route now operating between Adrian and Manchester, and upon which Tecumseh has depended for its delivery in the past. The Adrian-Manchester mail truck arrives here at 8:15 a.m., and 4:05 p.m., from Adrian Going to Adrian from Manchester the truck arrives here at 9:30 a.m. and 5:25 p.m.

The acting postmaster said that mail from Detroit will arrive here several hours sooner as a result of the new route, and should give customers in this village greatly improved service. The route was established, he said, because of the discontinuance of mail trains.

The Tecumseh postoffice now has "that new look," since the installation of the new lock boxes and other fixtures and furniture in the new building on East Logan street.

There are now 450 lock boxes at the postoffice, instead of 250 under the old set-up. This includes 20 large, industrial-size boxes, 40 medium sized boxes, and 390 regular sized boxes.

As a result of the installation of the new fixtures, the office has taken on a streamlined appearance. The acting postmaster has a private office, and other departments also are segregated. New work equipment also has arrived for the mailing room, which will speed up the program there.

Mr. Thatcher said that he plans to immediately install a new large-size receiving mail box outside the postoffice, for the convenience of customers who arrive after the office has closed. He also said that a new mailbox will be installed in the downtown area, on W. Chicago boulevard.

There are now 17 persons employed at the Tecumseh office.

Reorganization Of Council Seen

CHARTER PROVIDES FOR THE SELECTION OF NEW PRESIDENT TO FILL VACANCY

Due to the sudden death of J. Floyd Elliott, president of the village of Tecumseh, members of the Council are now faced with the task of naming his successor.

According to J. C. Beardsley, village attorney, the charter provides that in the event of the death of the president, Council shall name someone to fill the unexpired term. It is understood that the successor need not be a member of the present Council.

E. C. Heilman, veteran member of the village's official family, and president pro-tem under the Elliott administration, is empowered to act only until such time as a successor to the president is chosen, Mr. Beardsley said.

Who Mr. Elliott's successor will be is problematical. Whether or not Mr. Heilman would agree to being elevated to the president's job is not known. At present he is confined to his home by illness. At the time of Elliott's death, Heilman was suffering from a chest cold. He and the late president were life-long friends and Elliott's death came as a severe shock. He was unable to attend the funeral.

Heilman also is chairman of the Council's committee on sewers and it is under his direction that the new $285,000 sewage disposal plant is being built. This project is now well under way, and makes heavy demands upon Heilman's time.

Council is expected to meet yet this week to consider a successor to Elliott. The regular meeting of Council on Monday evening was postponed.

Both of the students will participate in the commencement program, next Thursday evening.

Funeral Services Held For Clark Vincent, Friday

Brunger officiating. The honorary bearers were C. F. Sage, Victor Humble, Clarence Champanois, Luther Kemp, Duncan Meyer and Kenneth Herrick, all of the Tecumseh Products Company. The active bearers were Luther Wood, Carl Thompson, Lynn Hubbard, Carl Kempf, Duncan Oliphant and Henry Kempf of Tecumseh lodge, Knights of Pythias. The Knights of Pythias and Pythian Sisters attended in a body.

CUB SCOUTS PLAN PACK MEET, SATURDAY

Committee of Cub Scout Pack No. 4 met in the Baptist church Monday evening when final plans for the last Pack meeting of the year, Saturday May 24 at Camp Kanesatake, Washington Lake, were made. Games and contests have been planned with the committee consisting of Virgil Tucker and Clarence Champanois in charge. All Cubs and their families are to meet at the Scout Cabin in Elliott Park, Saturday morning at 10:30, rain or shine. Each person is to bring a box lunch and a beverage.

Drunk Driver Gets Jail Term

ROBERT HAMILTON DRAWS STIFF SENTENCES ARRAIGNED, TUESDAY

Robert Hamilton of Tecumseh, a local part-time mail carrier, drew two stiff sentences when he was arraigned, Tuesday morning, before Justice John Lowe at Adrian.

Mr. Hamilton was arrested by police here Saturday evening at 8 p.m., charged with drunk driving, and for operating an automobile without a driver's license. His arrest followed an accident at Maumee street and Chicago boulevard. Officers said that Hamilton's car rammed into the side of a car driven by Ned F. Lanning of Rt. 1, Tecumseh. Mrs. Lanning suffered head and body bruises and cuts and was removed to Herrick hospital for treatment.

Lamage to the two cars was estimated by police at $500.

On the drunk-driving count, Judge Lowe centenced Hamilton to pay a fine of $100, costs of $8.60 and to spend 15 days in the county jail. On the charge of failing to have an operators license, the sentence was a fine of $50, and five day in jail. In event of nonpayment of the fines and costs he must spend 90 days in jail.

Police said that Hamilton's driving license was removed a few weeks ago following an accident at VanBuren and Pottawatamie streets when Hamilton's car crashed into one operated by Harold Wilson of Tecumseh. Both Mr. and Mrs. Wilson were injured in this accident. Hamilton, at the time, officers said, was cited to the state as a reckless driver.

Kindergarten To Number 140

HEAVY ENROLLMENT NEXT SEPTEMBER; NEW TEACHING PROGRAM OUTLINED

Grade school teachers of the Tecumseh public schools met with James McDowell, superintendent, and Earl Green, elementary principal, Wednesday evening, to discuss plans and organization for the year 1952-53.

Mr. Green announced that effective next fall, students of the elementary school will be assigned to various sections in a heterogeneous group. This means that the student will no longer be assigned to a section on the basis of ability as in the past. Each group will contain pupils of high, average, etc., abilities, as did the groups when Tecumseh had only one section of a grade. The students will remain withl he group for a period of two years, and after two years will be reassigned so that no child will be with the same identical group all through elementary school.

The teacher will remain with her group for two years. For example, a first grade teacher will remain with the group through the second grade. It is felt that by the teacher remaining with the group for two years she will have a better opportunity to know the pupils, and will be able to do a better job of teaching. The teacher also will know the student's individual weaknesses and strong points, and thus be able to start instruction where the pupil left off the previous spring.

Parents who have questions are invited to contact Mr. Green at his office in the Central building.

One hundred and forty kindergarteners have been enrolled for next year. If there are other children who have not been enrolled, parents are asked to call at Green's office and enroll them now.

School sessions will continue through Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of next week. Students will report on Thursday afternoon at 1 o'clock to receive their report cards.

SCOUT CABIN HERE DAMAGED BY VANDALS

Reports have been received from various Scout leaders that the Scout Cabin in Elliott Park has been broken into several times through the back door. 2 New Traffic Lights, Likely

STATE MEETS WITH VILLAGE ENGINEER; PLAN APPROVED BY OFFICERS

Installation of two new traffic control signal lights, a new flasher traffic light, and the modernization of the control light at Chicago Bolevard and Evans street, was approved by members of the Council and representatives of the State Highway Department, meeting here, Tuesday.

The two new control lights will be located at the intersection of the Boulevard and Union street, and the Boulevard and Maumee street. A flasher warning light will be installed at the Adrian street-Boulevard intersection.

At Evans and the Boulevard, a new, modern light will be installed that will also control foot traffic at the intersection. Walk and wait signals will be in neon lights.

The state also is considering, at a future time, the installation of a control light on North Evans street, either at Logan or Shawnee streets. A survey to be made there later in the year.

The state desires to do all of the wiring for the new traffic lights during the period that the Boulevard is torn up for repaving. This work will be started early in June, it was said.

Alumni Dinner Here On June 6

TICKET SALE IS NOW UNDER WAY; DANCING PROGRAM WILL FOLLOW BANQUET

The Tecumseh High School Alumni Association president, Sam Sisson, has announced that the tickets for the annual banquet, on Friday, June 6, are now on sale. Richard Eggleston, ticket chairman, has tickets in the business district at The Herald, Wright's Drug store, Hanna's Insurance, Eggleston's Jewelry, Bancroft Cleaners, Hodges Drug store, Baldwin's, Ousterhout's, Tecumseh Electric, Whelan Implement, Easton's Friendly Service Station, Schneider Bro. Garage, Porter Printing, and Heilman's.

There will be no tickets sold for the banquet at the door. Reservations are to be made by June 1, for the dinner, but tickets for dancing will be sold at the door for those not attending the banquet. Driscoll's Orchestra will furnish music for dancing in the Central gymnasium.

The Westminster League of the Presbyterian church will serve the dinner in the Fellowship Center of the church where the reception and banquet will be held. Miss Mary Glancy, chairman of the program, has announced that an unusual program is being planned by the committee. The class of 1937 is having a reunion and members are meeting at the home of Mrs. Hope Mensing, prior to the dinner.

Decoration Day Parade Planned

TECUMSEH TO PAY FITTING TRIBUTE TO WAR DEAD ON MAY 30TH

Tecumseh will pay a fitting tribute to its war dead on Friday, May 30, with a parade through the business district and a program in Brookside Cemetery.

Louis Schneider has been named by the Village Council as marshal of the day. Mr. Schneider is a veteran of World War I, and he has headed the Memorial Day activities here for several years.

The Decoration Day activities will get under way, Schneider said, with a parade at 10 a.m., moving from the corner of Chicago Boulevard and Ottawa street. This group will form on N. Ottawa street at 9:30, and will move promptly, he said. It will include representatives of the veterans' organizations and auxiliaries, a contingent of the Michigan National Guard, the 40 & 8 Boxcar, Boy and Girl Scouts, colors and color guards, school children, flower trucks, the fire department, and civic groups. It will be headed by the Tecumseh high school band.

Arthur Lopshire, a colonel in the Army reserve corps, and who served in the Pacific theatre and as a governer of a sector in Korea, will be the speaker at Brookside. Mr. Lopshire resides in Macon.

The parade will move westward on the Boulevard to Union street and then to the cemetery. The program will be held there and aside from the address it will include the decoration of the soldiers' graves, the firing of salutes at the veterans' monuments, and the counding of taps.

"We are very anxious to have several mounted riders in the parade," Schneider said. "There are many persons in this area who have horses, and we'd like to have them join us in our observance. I would appreciate it if they would advise me of their intent as soon as possible."

Schneider asked for a display of flags in the business district and throughout Tecumseh. They should be flown at half mast until noon, and then raised to full staff, he said.

Legion's Poppy Days Here, Friday, Saturday

Friday and Saturday, May 23-24, will again be Poppy Days in Tecumseh, this time the flowers being sold by the American Legion.

"Wear a poppy and honor the war dead and aid the war's living," will be the slogan of the campaign. The Legion's sale will be under the Auxiliary's direction with Mrs. Carl Thompson as chairman. The flowers will be crepe paper replicas of the wild poppies that grew between the crosses on the battle cemeteries of France and Belgium. They are made by disabled veterans. All funds derived from the sale go toward the Legion's rehabilitation work.

Last week Friday and Saturday, the Buddy Poppy sale of the Veterans of Foreign Wars was conducted with success in Tecumseh. Funds derived from that sale also go toward the organization's rehabilitation work.

Is The No Parking Ban Unreasonable?

The State Highway Department has requested, and the Village Council has agreed, to prohibit the parking of cars and other vehicles on Chicago Boulevard, both east and west, except in the business district, as soon as the State completes the rebuilding of the Boulevard pavement, which happens to be M-50-52.

We cannot but wonder why the state made such a request, and we certainly cannot understand the Council's reasoning when it acted upon it without first consulting the property owners on the Boulevard.

The banning of all parking on Chicago boulevard in the residential areas is a very bold step, both by the State and by the Village Council. In reality, it says to property owners on the street that henceforth — after the new pavement has been laid — it will be unlawful to park the property owners' cars in front of their own dwellings and, should Boulevard property owners' visitors arrive by automobile, they, too, would be denied the privilege of parking their cars, whether on business or a social call.

There are many lots and driveways on both East and West Chicago Boulevard that are not large enough to accommodate more than two or three cars at the most. Just what are such property owners expected to do, in the event of a social gathering at their home? Should the guests be expected to park their cars on a street a block or two away and walk to their host's or hostess's home — perhaps in the rain?

Let's visualize, for a moment, what Chicago Boulevard will look like when the new pavement is laid and the street is widened.

At the present time, the Boulevard, west of the business district, has a center boulevard strip that is about 14 feet in width. East of the business district, the center strip is several feet wider. On each side of the center strip, both east and west, are two 18-foot paved one-way traffic lanes.

The State now proposes to reduce the center boulevard strip to four feet, and to widen the one-way traffic lanes to 24 feet. To do this, on W. Chicago Boulevard, it will be necessary to cut 10 or 12 inches off the present so-called boulevard strip, between the sidewalks and the pavement. On the Boulevard, east, it should not be necessary to do the 10 or 12 inch cutting, because the center boulevard strip is wider.

So, after the paving-widening job is completed, there will be two 24-foot pavements, one on each side of a four-foot center strip, running through the Boulevard residential areas. Those two paved one-way traffic strips will be about SIX FEET WIDER than the present ones, which are 18 feet in width.

We quite agree that the present 18-foot pavements are a bit too narrow for the parking of cars and trucks. It sometimes makes it difficult to pass a parked truck — especially if it is an oil tanker — if the pavement is covered with ice or snow. But we cannot, for the life of us, understand why it would be diffcult to pass such a parked vehicle after the widening, when there will be six feet more pavement width than there is at the present time.

The average motor car is about seven feet in width. With a 24-foot pavement to drive on, there should be room for nearly three cars, side-by-side.

We cannot help but feel that the Council acted on the State's request without giving the matter too much consideration. To us, it would seem only logical that the Council should have consulted with property owners on the Boulevard before any action was taken. Frankly, with such an ordinance in force, we doubt that the value of Boulevard property in the residential areas will be as high as it is at the present time.

Who, we ask you, would care to buy property for a home, if he couldn't drive up and park his car — or if his friends couldn't park their cars — in front of his house?

Council also should consider the fact that there are three churches on West Chicago Boulevard and that on Sundays, worshippers park their cars there during services. Must church-goers park their cars on side streets on Sundays? What will happen in the event of a wedding or a funeral?

Adrian's Main Street—the entire length of it—is M-52. It is a part of the same route that in Tecumseh becomes Chicago Boulevard. Residents park their cars on Adrian's Main Street in the residential areas, and Adrian's street is two-way traffic. Why, then, should the State discriminate against Tecumseh and prohibit parking when our 24-foot street is only one-way traffic?

Frankly, we dislike being pushed around in such a fashion. Government is getting too far away from the people. We may be a bit old-fashioned, but we still believe in home rule, and government "of, by and for the people." In this instance it doesn't seem to us that the people have been taken into consideration.

We believe that the Council should reconsider its action of a week ago, to prohibit parking on the Boulevard after the paving-widening project is finished. We think that the Council should meet with property owners on the street and get their opinions, too.

We realize that State, National and Local Governments are becoming very powerful in these days and times. But we doubt, very, very much, that the people ever intended to vest unlimited powers in any single man or Department. We recall that a case is now before the United States Supreme Court to determine one man's power.

We believe that property owners on the Boulevard have a serious matter before them for consideration. Certainly, property values are at stake, as well as civil and property rights.

COMMUNICATION

To the Editor of
The Tecumseh Herald:

Like many others, I have appreciated the editorials in our paper and very much wish that we could use the columns of The Herald as a sort of a forum or maybe a town meeting to express our opinions, and perhaps give information.

I find that I do not know just what socialism or communism is or aims to accomplish. It is much easier to understand what England has done or what sort of system of totalitarianism Russia has evolved.

Mild forms of Socialism have been tried for hundreds of years by groups of people, usually with some religious connection. These always have failed.

My view is that any system which makes the individual only a worker bee in a hive, or an ant in an ant hill will ultimately fail if for no other reason than that human beings cannot be robots and survive.

We had a good example here in Tecumseh of the working of democrary recently when the citizens voted to tax themselves for sewage disposal and more recently for new schools.

Too many similar decisions have been made for us in one way or another by a more and more centralized government. We already cannot have much to say about our schools or whether we can park on our streets and in what form.

Will we be willing to further accept regimentation to avoid local responsibility, or can we reverse the past trend of sending our tax dollars to Lansing and Washington and getting back for real use only a portion?

I wish very much that several of our citizens who have studied and observed the workings of socialism and communism and maybe have read the works of Karl Marx etc., would express their views in the columns of our paper.

J.F. Elliott

its journey to Canada. He was a gracious host and a welcome visitor.

As president of the Village, Mr. Elliott kept in close contact with all departments, and his advice was sought and welcomed. He had a wide knowledge of economic conditions locally, and his judgment was respected.

In his personal business, Mr. Elliott enjoyed an exceptionally wide circle of friends and acquaintances. He served both industry and agriculture, and his skill as a craftsman won for him a thriving business. He was never too busy, however, to meet and chat with his friends, and for that reason his blacksmith shop became a popular meeting place.

Also, he was a beloved friend of the school children. He mended thousands of broken wagons, sleds and toys for the youngsters who knew him and in return for his labors they were ever grateful. A child's happy smile, when he saw his wagon or sled again in "running order" was sufficient pay for the job that he did.

Mr. Elliott attended the Methodist church. He was a member of the Masonic Lodge No. 69, F. & A. M., Tecumseh, and the Knights of Pythias. He was a former member of the Tecumseh Rotary Club, a former president of the Firemen's Association, and a member of the Tecumseh Fire Department for many years. He served his first term as a member of the Council in 1912.

Surviving are the widow, Marion, and a son, George, and two grandchildren, Gary George and Gail Elaine Elliott, all of Tecumseh. Three sisters and his parents preceded him in death. Several nieces, nephews and cousins also survive.

Funeral services were held from the Collins Funeral Home Monday afternoon at 2:30, the Rev. Ronald Brunger, pastor of the Methodist church, officiating. Burial was in Brookside Cemetery. Howard Wilson, senior warden of the Masonic Lodge, acted as worshipful master at the Masonic services at the grave.

Members of the Village Council, the Fireman's Association and the Masonic Lodge attended the services in a body. The bearers were Elwyn Green, Rodger Gillespie, Robert Manchester, Emory Kummer, William Wright, and Dr. Robert Laidlaw.

Friends and relatives attended from Independence, Ia., Britton, Clinton, Ypsilanti, Saline, Tipton, Ridgeway, Tecumseh, Detroit, Toledo and Bowling Green, O., Trenton, Dundee, Adrian, New York City, Pontiac, Monroe, Hudson, Deerfield and Tecumseh, Ont., Canada.

Being President's Daughter Not Easy, Miss Truman Finds as She Seeks Career

Being the daughter of the President has been Margaret Truman's chief drawback in her five-year struggle to carve out a musical career. It brought upon her, from the very start, a weight of criticism that would have blighted the hopes of a less persistent girl. But with unaffected graciousness, humor and hard work, she triumphed over these obstacles, won the affectionate regard of press and public, established herself at the top in the entertainment world, and became her father's biggest personal asset. In an intimate story appearing in June McCall's Magazine, Terry Morris points out that in spite of these successes, Margaret's personal life is still painfully restricted, and that although she manages to have fun, her parents are gravely concerned over the frustrating effects of these restrictions on their daughter's happiness:

"Five years ago the press and public gave Margaret Truman a reception that might have destroyed anyone else. 'She seems to sing carefully,' one critic wrote after her 1947 radio debut, 'seems obliged to, indeed, by the poverty of her resources.'

"The public accused her of capitalizing on her father's position. The entertainment world made it clear that she was an intruder. But Margaret took it with characteristic grace and humor, and today is popular with press and public, loved by fellow entertainers, and admired even by her father's severest critics.

"The New York apartment Margaret now occupies in a quietly fashionable midtown hotel twenty-nine floors above the pavement permits her to live pretty much as she chooses. According to Margaret, about the best training for public life is to have been born and raised in a small town. 'You learn very early that there are definite restrictions on what you may or may not do. You learn that your business is everybody else's too.'

"Punctuality is almost a vice with her. 'Goodness,' Margaret says, laughing, 'what's so remarkable about that. Mother brought me up to be a lady, you know.' This training pervades her dress, manner and speech and is an integral part of her. But her contact with smart theatre and show people have given her clothes a flair and chic they did not have a few years ago.

"Last year Margaret made a whirlwind seven-week tour of Europe and hoped it would be as just another tourist. But she was routed from embassy to embassy and from palace to palace in England, France, Holland, Belgium, Luxembourg and Italy, and achieved enormous popularity as a good-will emissary from the President and people of the United States.

"What the ordinary people of the countries she was visiting thought was eloquently summed up by a porter in a Rome hotel. 'Ah,' he told reporters, 'how simple and gracious and ladylike she is!'

"America's proud estimate of Margaret's tour was summed up by a newspaper well known to be on the opposite side of the Truman political fence: 'After some of the dames who've represented American womanhood in Europe's salons — and saloons — she must have been like a breath of air straight from a clover patch.' And it is this same 'clover patch' personality that has been winning Margaret new laurels in her guest appearances on star-studded radio and TV shows.

"Professionally Margaret has few restrictions on her activities, but socially she has a rather heavy burden to bear. Those who know the President and Mrs. Truman say that they are gravely troubled by it and that it was a factor in the President's decision March 29 not to seek re-election. Like other parents, they want to see their daughter happily married. But, while Margaret has many beaus, her father and mother have known the chances are against her marrying while she is still the White House daughter."

Col. Arthur Lopshire Talks To Men's Group

Col. Arthur P. Lopshire of Macon, highlighted a meeting of the Methodist Men's Club Wednesday evening, when he showed pictures taken in Korea while he was a military governor there and explained the conditins, life and religion of the people.

Mr. Lopshire said the same technique used by the communists to oppose democrary in Korea is being carried on today within the United States; development of distrust in the government, intimidating officials or candidates, dividing the people, if not by a 38th parallel at least by race, creed, politics, and economic standing.

Though he has announced his candidacy for Congress, Mr. Lopshire told the group he was not speaking as a candidate but as a Christian. He said he was appalled at the things he has witnessed and desires to bring a better understanding of the menace of Communism.

After his talk there was a discussion and questions. A potluck supper preceded the meeting and the business session was presided over by the preident, Robert Bonner. The next meeting, June 4, will be a father and son banquet with the dinner served by the ladies of the church.

Telephone Company Adopts New Bill

Customers of the Michigan Associated Telephone Company here will receive a new and different type of bill from the company beginning this month, E. G. Greene, district manager, said yesterday. The bill is printed on a durable card, but retains the stub, perforated for easy removal.

With 87,000 customers, and more being added every day, the company became interested in installing the most economical and efficient system of billing obtainable. The decision to install the billing machines was made since the performance of these units and the type of bill they employ offers a triple saving to the company and, indirectly, to the public.

The machines print 400 bills per hour, printing all information in a single operation. In addition, by the use of a separate color for each billing period, stubs can be sorted rapidly without the close examation formerly necessary. A prime feature of the machine is the posting mechanically of payments by customers, more rapidly and accurately than humanly possible.

Mr. Greene cautioned customers not to tear, fold, or mark up the bill, since it bears all information necessary to proper crediting of the payment. He further stated that with the functioning of the new billing department in Muskegon, all company operations are now conducted within the state.

For a variation on the hamburger theme, broil the meat topped with tomato slices that have been brushed with garlic butter.

Green tipped bananas are best for cooking — ripe bananas flecked with brown are best for salads and fruit cups. Try baking this fruit by placing it in a well-buttered pan and sprinkling with salt and baking at 375 degrees for 15 to 20 minutes. For variations, bake with brown sugar, molasses or craiberries.

Feed Prospects Better For Local Hog Raisers

The ratio which shows how many bushels of corn are equal in value to 100 pounds of live hog now indicates that prospects are becoming better for hog production.

Robert C. Kramer, Michigan State College agricultural economist, points out that the cost of producing 100 pounds of live hog compared with the selling price leaves some profit. But he says that several factors indicate this relationship will become even better by this fall.

Soft corn and a "short" crop has made the price of corn higher during the past six months than a year earlier. Hog prices have averaged a little lower than a year ago.

Kramer points out that the annual pig crop in the United States has increased since 1946, reaching a total of 102 million head in 1951. So prices have broken and indications are that the downward phase of the hog production cycle has begun. This downward phase of the cycle should last only two or three years. Beginning this summer, the number of hogs slaughtered will reflect the smaller pig crop this spring. Prices will rise this summer and reach a peak in August or September, Kramer believes.

The MSC agricultural economist says that figures indicate farmers should plan now for fall and winter litters. Hogs will become relatively more profitable. If we have a normal corn crop this year, 1953 should be a good hog year. So, if you are an efficient hog producer, stay in the hog business.

Peas, beans and lentils fall short of meat in the quality of protein they possess, but if they are served with eggs, milk or cheese, they can take the place of meat in the meal, say Michigan State College nutritionists.

China that seems very fine and delicate is actually a tough, durable product that can stand wear and tear. Be careful not to expose china to extreme temperature changes, however.

Very dramatic wallpapers with bold patterns are better used on one wall only, or in an alcove, a foyer, around a fireplace or as a panel on a clear space wall.

Baked beans will stay piping hot on your next picnic if you insulate the dish with plenty of newspaper wrappings.

Tramp Planets In Eye's Reach

WANDERING STARS IN EASY VIEW AND HOLD SPOTLIGHT THIS MONTH

With no special astronomical events due in May, the month provides a chance for a good look at two of those wanderers of the skies, the planets.

You probably wont' feel any crowding in the planetary traffic lanes, but Mars will get as chummy with the earth as it ever does during May, according to Hazel M. Losh, assistant professor of astronomy at the University of Michigan.

On May 8, Mars was a mere 52 million miles away and the light from this bright planet took about four and one-half minutes to reach us, she reports.

Besides providing a brilliant spectacle in the southern sky Mars will give you a chance to note that it changes its position among the so-called fixed stars. The word "planet" is derived from a Greek word meaning wanderer, Professor Losh points out.

So look to the southeast right after sunset and you will note the bright reddish or orange Mars. It will be just west and above the brightest star in the constellation of Libra. Try to fix their relative positions and then watch how Mars changes its position rather rapidly to the west on succeeding nights.

"The stars maintain practically their same relative positions in the sky for years, whereas a planet changes its position among the stars from night to night," she indicates. "The same westward movement noticeable in Mars can be detected in Saturn during May. Saturn was about ten degrees above and to the west of the bright star Spica early in the month as it appears in the southern sky. It, too will shift westward on succeeding nights although at a slower pace than Mars." Saturn is 810 million miles from earth.

This apparent westward movement of Mars and Saturn in relation to the fixed stars is the reverse of the normal movement which is eastward, Professor Losh reports. What is happening is this: we on the earth view the moving objects, the planets, from our own moving observing station. Now that Mars and Saturn are closest to the earth these two plants appear to be moving west as the earth's swifter movement in its orbit around the sun overtakes the slower moving planets.

Two quarter moons are on the May schedule. The first one appeared on the evening of May 1 and the second will come at 4:46 p.m. on May 31. December will bring two full moons. The interval between like phases of the moon is 29 and one-half days so the phases do not keep step with the calendar month, but it is not often that we get two of them in a month, Professor Losh reports.

Hot Weather Poses Egg Marketing Problems

Hot weather is coming along to pose some new egg marketing problems for flock owners of Michigan. William A. Aho, Michigan State College poultry specialist, has some suggestions along this line.

He says that eggs should be gathered often and stored in a moist place at a temperature of about 55 degrees to maintain good quality. Also they should be marketed at least twice a week.

Most all flock owners feel they have to wash eggs at one time or another. Aho cites work done at the New Jersey Experiment stations which seems to have the answer for doing the job right.

Their work shows that eggs can be collected in wire baskets and ducked in a detergent solution made at the rate of one-half pint detergent to six gallons of water. The solution should be about 140 degrees and the eggs should be rinsed after ducking with a clean, forced spray of tap water at 140 degrees.

If they are then air-dried by a fan, they maintain quality equal to unwashed eggs under comparable conditions.

Aho also suggests putting a small basket on the side of the egg-gathering basket for collecting the dirties. In this way they won't contact the clean eggs. Soiled eggs should be brushed clean. Dirty eggs should be washed immediately.

Women's Nylon Pretties Not Shrinking Violets

Your nylon pretties are no shrinking violets, so don't be afraid to treat them with a firm hand, says Carolyn B. Middleton of Michigan State College textiles and clothing department.

To begin with, nylon is such a strong fiber that unless nylon thread is used in making repairs the material will cut through cotton thread. So have no fears about tossing nylon garments into the washing machine or automatic washer—it is the best way to keep white nylon clean. Miss Middleton cautions, however, not to combine white nylon and colored items in the same washer load—nylon tends to pick up dyes from other fabrics.

Another tip offered by the MSC specialist is that yellowed nylon garments can be bleached successfully in a weak solution of any household bleach.

Sewing with nylon may require some adjustment. Sharp fine needles penetrate nylon easier and make smoother seams. The fewer stitches per inch, the better — as few as seven stitches per inch may be used, particularly for inside seams. Lower the tension on your machine until a well-formed, but loose stitct is made, Miss Middleton advised.

Nylon thread is best for sewing on nylon — or the new dacron thread on the market in white now is satisfactory. Using tissue or ordinary shelf paper under sheer fabrics while sewing often gives smoother, seams.

Best way to sew with nylon is to experiment with your machine, Miss Middleton urged. Finishing and pressing nylon garments should be the same as with ordinary cotton; that is, be sure to press each seam after sewing and finish all the raw edges.

TB Meeting Scheduled At The U. M., June 5-7

ANN ARBOR—The School of Public Health at the University of Michigan will act as host to the Michigan Tuberculosis Association in a homecoming conference June 5-7.

Since the University was the Association's first home 44 years ago, the June 5th banquet is keyed to the homecoming theme and features an address, "Will We Grow Old," by Dr. Iago Gladston, New York Academy of Medicine.

Some 350 delegates are expected to attend the meeting at which more than two dozen medical authorities who will discuss subjects ranging from "Formula For Freedom" to "The Cost of Sickness and the Price of Health."

Dr. Harlan Hatcher, University president, and Joseph A. Austin M.T.A. president, invite citizens from all parts of the state to join in the three-day conference.

Describing a need for "unswerving vigilance and action," Presidents Hatcher and Austin point out, "In the field of public health, tuberculosis reigns as the number one communicable disease. It killed more than 1,100 Michigan people in 1951. As the last of the great plagues, this disease still is rampant in many areas of the world."

Another feature of the event will be a report on the work of tuberculosis Christmas Seal dollars contributed by Michigan persons.

MOTHER IS HONORED

Mr. and Mrs. Wade Hendershot will hold open house for his mother, Mrs. R. R. Hendershot, Sunday afternoon from 2 to 4 p.m. honoring her 90th birthday anniversary, which occurs Wednesday, May 28. Mrs. Elton Osborne, daughter of Mrs. Hendershot, will entertain at a family dinner Wednesday evening in the Osborne home near Saline, honoring her mother.

NO CLUB LUNCHEON

There will be no luncheon at the Tecumseh Country Club Wednesday, May 28, for the ladies, due to the annual birthday party at the club, Decoration Day. Hostesses for the luncheon Wednesday, June 4, will be Mrs. Archie Porter and Mrs. Marvin Watkins.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

Attention Ladies!

Cakes lined up—each with a number. Judges looking, breaking off pieces, tasting. The winner? Number 4—a cake with a wonderful, glossy chocolate frosting.

This was at the Women's Club last night. Then Duke Thomas stepped up—his cake was Number 4! Seems his missus was laid up, so Duke took over—and won!

Here's Duke's prize-winning frosting recipe:

Melt 3 squares unsweetened chocolate in double boiler. Remove from heat, add 1½ cups sifted confectioner's sugar and 2½ tbs. hot water and blend. Add 3 egg yolks, one at a time, beating well after each. Add 4 tbs. butter, beating thoroughly after each tbs. Fills and frosts 8-inch, 2-layer cake.

From where I sit, we all have different abilities and tastes ... and these differences are sometimes surprising. Duke bakes prize-winning cakes. My wife, for example, can beat most any man at checkers. Same when it comes to beverages—you may like coffee or tea while I prefer a refreshing glass of beer. But let's not have any "half-baked" ideas that people are all the same—or should be.

FRANKLIN TOOKE, general manager of Westinghouse WOWO is congratulated by Chief Hood of the Fire Prevention Bureau.

Outstanding Service

Once again WOWO wins top national recognition for outstanding service in the public interest. In an important competition involving America's largest radio and television stations, WOWO received highest honors. The National Board of Fire Underwriters awarded WOWO its GOLD MEDAL and praised the station for the scope and quality of its efforts during the past year in behalf of Fire Prevention.

WOWO's big Fire Prevention campaign was designed to dramatize the danger of habits which cause fires. The entire staff participated enthusiastically in this gigantic effort to help stamp out the scourge which annually kills 10,000 Americans and destroys over $700,000,000 in property. Efforts like this do much to keep WOWO in the minds and hearts of the 2,000,000 people who make up its loyal three-state audience. Long ago folks throughout this vast Midwest area learned to expect the best from the station... on and off the air.

PUPPETS FEATURED IN MANY AREA SCHOOLS

One of the most dramatic features of the WOWO campaign was a puppet show which the station took into area schools to teach fire prevention rules to thousands of children.

ALWAYS BE CAREFUL DRIVING

White sidewalls optional at extra cost.

It gives this old familiar sign new meaning

WOULD you be interested in getting one gallon free with each tankful of gasoline you buy?

Then we can tell you this: It will certainly be worth your while to read this brief story of Buick's new Airpower carburetor.

Truth is—a skillful driver can just about double the bonus we mention, if he makes the most of what this year's ROADMASTER has to offer.

The reason you can get such a bonus traces to a pair of simple facts:

(1) It's a mixture of gasoline and air that gives you power.

(2) Buick engineers have come up with a four-barrel automatic carburetor that lets you use more gallons of air per gallon of fuel.

Most of the time, only two of these barrels are needed—and they feed such a thrifty mixture that you use less gasoline at 40 mph than you'd formerly use at 30.

But—when you want a quick burst of eager power—you can double the air supply as well as the gasoline feed—and come up with the highest horsepower that Buick's Fireball 8 Engine ever delivered.

Of course, any man who's buying a car as fine as a ROADMASTER wants a lot more than extra miles from a tankful of gas.

He wants the distinction of extra room, extra comfort, richer fabrics and all the other refinements that make a car truly fine.

He wants to ride with solid security, confident poise and lordly silence.

And, while he may not admit it, he yearns for a car that's full of fun.

All this, we promise you, and more will be yours when you take the responsive wheel of a ROADMASTER.

How about doing that—soon?

Equipment, accessories, trim and models are subject to change without notice.

New Hay Harvest Methods Reduce Weather Hazard

Newer hay-harvesting methods which reduce weather hazards are becoming more common on Michigan farms, resulting in higher quality hays, according to Karl A. Vary, Michigan State College agricultural economist, who has studied the situation.

The weather problem in field-curing hay to 25 percent or less is obvious. To field-cure hay to a moisture content of 25 percent requires about 15 to 20 hours of sunshine. That means about one and a half to two days of clear weather.

According to U. S. Weather Bureau Records at East Lansing, the probable number of days without rainfall during the first two weeks in June is about two to three days in a row. You can count on about one to two clear days in a row during the second two weeks in June, and three clear days in a row during the first week in July. These figures were compiled by Vary from records from 1918 to 1951.

With a hay crusher the number of hours of sunshine required to field-cure hay is cut to eight to ten. A barn drier will cut hours of sunshine required to six to eight. And farmers who make grass silage need only one to three hours of sunshine to cure their hay.

The dry matter loss for the hay loader method is 24 percent, for the hay crusher it is 21 percent, for the barn drier 16 percent, and for grass silage, 15 percent. These dry matter loss figures are from time of cutting until time of feeding.

Town To Honor Its War Heroes

PARADE AND PROGRAM ON FRIDAY, MEMORIAL DAY; LOPSHIRE WILL SPEAK

A parade at 10 a.m., Friday, Memorial Day, followed by a program in Brookside Cemetery, were annouced today as Tecumseh prepared to pay a fitting tribute to its war dead. As has been customary in the past, stores and other places of business here will, for the most part, be closed throughout the day.

Plans for the parade have been completed, Louis Schneider, marshal of the day, said. It will form on South Ottawa street at 9:30 a.m., and will move promptly at 10 o'clock westward on Chicago Boulevard to Union street, and then north to Brookside. In the line of march will be the high school band, a contingent of the Michigan National Guard, representatives of local veterans' organizations and their auxiliaries, Boy and Girl Scouts, the Lenawee 40 & 8 Boxcar, colors and color guards, a firing squad, civic officials, flower trucks, trucks from the fire department, and school children and civilians. Also, it is expected that there will be several mounted riders in the parade.

At the cemetery, the graves of departed veterans will be marked with flowers, volleys will be fired at the veterans' monuments and taps will be sounded.

During the ceremony, an airplane will fly overhead and flowers will be strewn over the cemetery and in Evans Creek, in memory of sailors lost at sea.

Arthur Lopshire of Macon, an Army Reserve Corps colonel, and who served as a military governor of a sector in Korea, will deliver the address. Mr. Lopshire, now teaching in the Detroit public schools, is seeking the nomination as representative in Congress from the 2nd Michigan District on the Republican ticket.

Mr. Schneider asked for a display of the American flags in the business and residential districts of the village throughout the day. Flags should be at half staff until noon, he said, and then raised to full staff during the remainder of the day.

Diplomas Ready For T.H.S. Grads

WILL BE AWARDED AT COMMENCEMENT EXERCISES THURSDAY AT STRAND THEATRE

Sixty Tecumseh high school graduates will receive their diplomas at Commencement exercises to be held at 8 o'clock Thursday evening at the Strand Theatre. In previous years, the programs were held at Central school auditorium or at Recreation Center. However, the auditorium seating capacity is limited, and the Center program always was in doubt because of inclement weather. For those reasons, the board of education decided this year to use the theatre for the service, affording seating capacity for 600 parents and friends of the grads.

The school's Class Night program will be held this evening in the auditorium of Central. It, too, will begin at 8 o'clock.

The program will include: the presentation of the class key by Janet Erhart, president; acceptance of the key by Tom Naser, junior class president; the class history by Beverly McLaury and Robert Marsh; class prophecy by Joan Hindes and Virginia Snyder; poem by Joan Judd and Carl Freckelton; giftatory by Sally Bale, Barbara Handy, John Sisson and Richard Whelan; president's

Memorial Day

Joe Smith and Fred Jones died taking Hill 73 . . . somewhere in Korea . . . sometime last year. It was their Big Job in defending Freedom for their families and their nation. But Hill 73 is NOTHING — unless we, who are left behind, give purpose to their deed. Let us resolve now, to take greater interest in the business of BEING AMERICANS . . . in the future of our government . . . to vote (and THINK before we vote) at every election . . . to make America stronger, free-er, greater! This is the salute that all the Joes and Freds would prefer us to give them, on Memorial Day.

400 Scouts To Participate In Camporee Here On June 6-7-8

Four hundred Boy Scouts from 18 troops in Lenawee county and others from Monroe and Toledo will participate in the annual Lenawee County Camporee, to be held here on June 6, 7 and 8. The camp site will be southeast of Tecumseh on property owned by Willis Porter.

"We are planning to make the Tecumseh Camporee the largest ever held in the county," Eli Dickerson, district Scouting commissioner, said today. "The boys will set up camp on Friday, and the program will continue through Sunday afternoon. We sincerely hope that parents will show special interest in the event, and we want them to know, as well as all others who are interested, that they are welcome to visit the Camporee at any time."

The Camporee is jointly sponsored by the Wolverine Council, Boy Scouts of America, and the Hall-Slater Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, in Tecumseh. It will feature contests of many kinds, using camping skills developed by the Scouts during their winter's training. Some of the events include the building of camp fires, knife sharpening, cooking, first aid, tracking, rescue work, and other scouting skills.

In the Camporee from Tecumseh will be the Explorer Troop, and Troops Four and Seventy-three, Boy Scouts. The Explorer Troop is sponsored by the V. F. W., and the other troops by the Rotary Club and the Presbyterian church.

"We especially hope that the public will turn out for the address at noon on Saturday when the Rev. Fr. Keating, chaplain of the federal prison at Milan, will be the speaker," Mr. Dickerson said. Fr. Keating will use as his subject, "What a chaplain does in a federal penal institution."

Also, Dickerson said, the Camporee's court of honor will be held on Saturday evening. "This is an impressive event, and one that should be of interest to the public. Like all other events, parents and others are welcome."

The Governor's Trophy, awarded personally at the Camporee a year ago in Hudson by Gov. Williams, will be presented to the prize winning troop at 2 p.m., Sunday afternoon. This award is sought after by all troops in the county. Other awards to be made at that program will include one for the best camp site, and special awards for troops from neighboring councils.

Troops from nearby councils are expected to come from Lyons, O., Waldron and North Adams, and three from Monroe. A special troop from Toledo, expert in Indian lore, is expected for the campfire on Saturday evening.

"These boys appeared at the Hudson Camporee a year ago," Dickerson said, "and staged their dances. They have made a real study of Indian lore and I am certain that the public will get a thrill in watching them perform." They will stage their program at the Saturday evening campfire.

During the time that the youngsters are in camp they will live in a tent city. All equipment is available and will be moved here Friday. They will set their own tents, build their own beds, and prepare their own meals. It was pointed out that there is ample adult supervision.

Sunday morning, boys of the Catholic faith will attend mass at 9 a.m., at St. Elizabeth church here. For the other Scouts a service will be held on the grounds with ministers from local churches participating.

The Camporee will end at 3:30 p.m., Sunday, so that the boys may return to their homes in ample time for dinner and Sunday evening church services.

Last year, at Hudson, about 300 boys attended the Camporee. This year, it was said, well over 400 will participate. All troops will be accompanied by Scoutmasters and leaders.

A special committee in charge of the Camporee includes Royal E. Welch of Adrian, camping and activities chairman; Robert J. Baker of Adrian, director, and Mr. Dickerson, district commissioner, and Leonard Tompakov, field scout executive of Deerfield.

If You Own A Dog, Be Sure He Stays Home

If you own a dog, and if you permit it to run at large, you'd better arrange to keep it on your own property in the future. That was the warning sounded today by George Kilbourn, chief of police.

Chief Kilbourn said that his department had received many complaints regarding dogs running at large, through gardens, shrubbery and flower gardens. He pointed out that owners are responsible for dogs running at large, in the event of damage.

He said that he had notified the county dog warden of the complaints, and that in the future dogs found running at large will be seized by the warden and taken to the county pound.

Council Studies No Parking Plan

STATE ADVISED THAT NEW RESOLUTION ON CHICAGO BLVD., PARKING LIKELY

Acting at the request of the Council, James Beardsley, village attorney, has advised the State Highway Department that Tecumseh may reconsider its resolution of 10 days ago, prohibiting the parking of cars on Chicago boulevard, except in the business district, after the boulevard, M-50-52, has been resurfaced. The resolution was passed by Council at the state's request.

Mr. Beardsley said that the Highway department frowned upon Tecumseh's thought of failing to meet the state's no parking demand. Lansing officials indicated that another conference with highway authorities might be necessary and that, perhaps, there would be some delay in the rebuilding of the highway.

Beardsley, in approaching the state relative to the change, suggested that in the event parking was prohibited in the future the village would be discarding its rights to control its streets, and turning the authority over to the state. This, he said, he disliked.

In all probabiliy another meeting between village and highway officials will be held in the near future to discuss the subject.

There is an indication locally that residents on the boulevard may petition the council to rescind its previous action, contending that it would work a hardship on property owners.

However, it became necessary for him to name a successor to the post, with his elevation to the presidency. As his successor, Heilman named Carl Fosbender, a council member. Mr. McComb will fill all other committee posts formerly held by Heilman.

Heilman still is a patient in the hospital, suffering from a heavy lung cold. However, his condition is much improved, and it is expected that he will be able to return to his home within a few days.

Maybe Indiana Has The Answer

In late years, practically every state and city has looked to handouts from the Federal treasury to clear slums, develop recreational areas, subsidize housing developments, and carry on any number of other activities. But there is one shining exception to this rule—the Hoosier state of Indiana. Joe Alex Morris tells the unique story in a recent Saturday Evening Post article called, "They Don't Want Uncle Sam's Money."

Some years ago the Indiana legislature enthusiastically passed a resolution which said, in part: "We respectfully petition and urge Indiana's congressmen and senators to vote to fetch our county courthouse and city halls back from Washington's Pennsylvania Avenue. We want our government to come home . . . We have decided that there is no such thing as 'Federal' aid. We are fed up with subsidies, doles and paternalism. We are no one's stepchild. We have grown up. We serve notice that we will resist Washington, D. C., adopting us."

It is one thing to pass a general resoltion like this and quite another to back it up resolutely when the chips are down. But the Indiana legislature weren't just talking for the sake of the talk. They meant what they said and it looks as if most of the people of the state are in solid agreement Mr. Morris writes: "Just for instance: Indianapolis . . . waged a successful campaign to prevent the Department of Commerce from dishing out $50,000 a year in federal money for the supposed benefit of the city's business men. It has—but only after a tough fight—forced Congress to withhold hundreds of thousands of dollars in pork-barrel flood-control aid to the community. It flatly refused to let the Army spend $1,000,000 for a new Armory. It helped kick over the spending of almost $1,000,000 in Federal funds for vacational education in distributive trades like merchandising. It has developed—up through 1951—its own postwar slum-clearance program without Federal aid. It has discouraged, but in vain, the Army's expenditure of some $23,000,000 to establish an important finance headquarters in the city. And Indianapolis citizens were the core of the state's 1951 revolt against Federal controls in the national Social Security Act; a revolt that found the state grimly preparing to give up almost $20,000,000 a year from Washington rather than knuckle under to the dictates of Congress and the Federal Security Agency."

Another remarkable factor, Mr. Morris points out, is the backbone of the campaign against Federal hand-outs is the Chamber of Commerce—whereas many if not most of these organizations work on a "let's get all we can" basis. Chamber officials are solid advocates of having city and state do what needs to be done without outside money or interference.

There is a dollars-and-cents logic in all this. To quote Mr. Morris again, "Sending taxes to Washington so that the money could be returned for use in Indiana seemed a poor idea to no small number of Hoosiers. But, in addition, it was clear that . . . Indiana was getting back only about eighty cents on the dollar . . . as grants in aid. And on gasoline taxes the state was getting back for roads about half of the $15,000,000 contributed. A fairly simple conclusion could be drawn: One way to reduce Federal expenditures was to keep the money at home in the first place and do away with grants-in-aid."

Furthermore, above and beyond the money involved Indiana people are proud of their state and they want to keep it strong and independent. To their mind, the way to do that is to stay as remote from Washington influences as possible.

They Said "No" To Socialism

According to leading Administration spokesmen, the people of the country want and need compulsory Federal health insurance—which is a polite phrase for socialized medicine—but are being blocked by selfish groups in and out of Congress.

A short time ago Representative Martin of Iowa decided to find out what the people really are thinking about current issues. He sent questionnaires to his constituents, and one query was: "Do you favor socialized medicine?" Of the thousands of voters who replied, 91.7 per cent said "No."

The overwhelming "No" vote existed in every occupational group. Opposition to socialized medicine was voiced by 96.6 per cent of the businessmen replying, 86 per cent of the laborers, 93 per cent of the white collar workers, 94.8 per cent of the farmers, and so on down the line. Mr. Martin's district is largely rural, but it also includes several sizeable communities.

It hardly looks as if the American people are panting for socialized medicine, or for any variant of the scheme. Iowa is a fairly representative state, its residents are typical Americans. A similar question asked elsewhere would probably get similar results.

The Frailty Of Man And Security Of God...

. . . .are perfectly exemplified in the passing from this life. Never does our faith come closer than during the funeral service.

To convey in full measure our faith in God, to bring the living closer to Him is a function of the funeral.

Chickens Now Far Advanced Over Original Fowl . .

There was a time when chickens were mighty wild. Their meat was tough and egg production was about 15 per year. Domesticating made a difference — by 1800, records show chickens laying as many as 60 eggs a year. By 1920, they were nudging the 150 eggs per year mark.

Hayden's Starter & Grower Krumbles now starts many thousands of baby chicks toward 200 eggs per year. Hayden's Starter & Grower Krumbles makes PROFITS for the poultry feeder.

Drivers Urged To Take It Easy

MEMORIAL WEEK-END DEATH TOLL EXPECTED TO NUMBER FROM 20 TO 25 IN STATE

An average of between 20 and 25 fatalities will occur on Michigan highways every week end between Memorial Day and Labor Day unless more care is exercised by motorists, State Police Commissinoer Joseph A. Childs predicts.

Last year, during June, July and August, an average of 21 persons were killed in traffic accidents throughout the state each week end. In 1950 the average was 18.

"Traffic hazards will be potentially worse this summer," Childs said. "It is anticipated there will be more than two billion miles of travel each month, or an all-time high of about seven miles for the summer period as compared with six and a half billion in the same period last year.

"Memorial Day came in mid-week last year, eliminating extended week-end trips for many persons. Nevertheless, 16 persons were killed in Michigan during the holiday period. This year Memorial Day comes on a Friday and undoubtedly traffic will be very heavy from Thursday afternoon until the following Monday morning.

"An all-time high of 58 persons were killed in Michigan traffic during the Memorial Day period in 1941. The low was five in 1944.

"Actions of motorists will largely determine whether or not the traffic toll will be big or small. From now on, throughout the summer, extra care and caution are a necessity. A special effort should be made to control driving speeds. Nearly half of all violations reported in fatal accidents last summer were for speeding."

An appeal to Michigan drivers who plan to drive on Michigan highways over the Memorial Day weekend, to take it easy and do their part to help reduce the expected accident toll, also has been made by Highway Commissioner Charles M. Ziegler. The Commissioner pointed out that in the past when there have been strong safety education drives ahead of a busy holiday weekend travel period, highway death tolls have fallen below expectations, which proves that when drivers as a whole get accident conscious, they can do something about cutting down the death, injury and property damage totals on our highways. "While remembering our honored dead over Memorial Day weekend let's do it by helping others to live", Commissioner Ziegler said.

The highway chief announced that state trunkline construction jobs will be shut down from Thursday evening, May 29 to the Monday morning, June 2, to eliminate any obstructions or barriers on the highways that might cause accidents when traffic gets heavy. One-way traffic sections will be eliminated. Project engineers have been instructed to inspect all temporary routes to see that they are safe for the holiday traffic.

BRITTON

Memorial Day services will be held at Ridgeway cemetery, May 30, at 10 o'clock, under the direction of Glenn H. Daykin Post of American Legion. Rev. J. M. Reese will speak.

The program opened with group singing led by Miss Joan Brewton and Richard Lower at the piano. The movie, "America the Beautiful" was shown. Following the program parents viewed achievements exhibits throughout the school building besides displays by the Bluebird and Campfire groups. Refreshments were served by a committee.

Mrs. Effie Gibson was host last Thursday to the Congregational Christian Dorcas Class with a potluck dinner served at 1 o'clock. After the business session, conducted by the president, Mrs. Gibson, a program which included group singing. Scripture reading, prayer poems, and a memory testing skit, was presented. Visitors of the day were Mrs. Minnie Underwood of Ann Arbor, Mrs. Viola Daisher and Mrs. Rosemary Schroeder. The next meeting will be held June 19 at the cottage of Mrs. Dora Benedict at Wamplers Lake.

Senior activities began Sunday evening with baccalaureate services held in the Congregational church. Rev. J. Morgan Reese delivered the sermon on "An Oarless Life." Assisting ministers were Rev. F. B. Clifford and Rev. E. H. DuBois. The class and achievement night was held Tuesday evening in the school gymnasium. The graduation night program Thursday evening will feature an address by Dr. L. E. Vredevoe, director of the bureau of the school services of the University of Michigan. Those graduating are Margaret Barrett; William Bortel, Lois Clement, Glendora Cross, Russell Downing, Faith DuBois, Polly Eberhardt, Bill Fischer, Mary Forgacs, Francis Grady, George Hawkins, Peggy Hintz, Norris Kopka, Betty Lutton, Ardis Purple, Sally Prielipp, Wilma Reau, Billy Smith, Dean Spohr, Max Steuwe, Kathryn Studnicka, and James Watson.

The guests were seated at small tables and various games were enjoyed. A bride's book was made, with each table doing a section of the book which later was arranged and tied with a ribbon and presented to the honored guests. Every fifteen minutes an alarm clock rang and several gifts were opened from a long table, centered with a large umbrella.

After the gifts were opened, refreshments were served buffet style,

If You're Thinking Of Marriage, Your Heart Will Choose Your Mate

Professional marriage counselors by the thousands — in newspaper columns and books, in college classrooms and over the radio — stand ready to tell you how to pick a mate — or whether you have picked the right one. But despite their barrage of statistics, questionaires and scientific pretesting, the chances are that you will do better to follow your own heart, says Albert Q. Maisel. Writing in Redbook Magazine for June, he surveys what experts have to say on mate selection and how their advice adds up to a welter of contradictions on what makes for a happy marriage:

"Despite all the experts, it's an odds-on bet that you're perfectly capable of picking the right mate all by yourself. That's a rash statement and sure to put me in the marriage meddlers' doghouse. But I'll try to prove to you that:

"1. The vast majority of us make out pretty well when it comes to marital adjustment or martial happiness or whatever you want to call it.

"2. The experts — despite all their pseudoscientific research — disagree with each other on almost every point. And—

"3. The mate-picking tests they've offered us aren't worth the paper they're printed on, not to speak of the price of the ten-dollar tomes in which they are explained.

"The very experts who have stirred up all the pother about the need for scientific aids in mate selection have also proved that most of us solve the problem very satisfactorily by ourselves. Professors Ernest W. Burgess, of the University of Chicago and Leonard S. Cottrell, Jr., of Cornell, studied the marital adjustment of 526 couples in developing a complicated test for predicting failures in advance. They found 63.1 per cent of their guinea-pig couples 'above average' in marital adjustment and only 21.5 per cent 'below average.'

"Dr. Lewis M. Terman, of Stanford University, asked similar questions of 792 couples. Eighty-two percent of the men rated their own marriages as more happy than average, and thirty per cent of these said they were extraordinarily happy. Less than five per cent were less happy than average.

"You can also find just as many opinions as there are experts. For example, Drs. R. L. Dickinson and Lura Beam, assure us that: 'Satisfactory sexual relations are necessary to fully successful and adjusted union.' But Professors E. R. and G. H. Groves assert that: 'Sex problems will usually be found secondary.'

"The famous Dr. T. H. Van de Velde asserts that: 'Money worries exert such a depressing influence that only a very few marriages are equal to the strain.' But Dr. Ira S. Wile disagrees: 'Lack of sufficient money,' says Dr. Wile, 'has probably saved as many marriages as it has ruined.'

"Then along come the sociologists with their highly developed tests. Professors Burgess and Cottrell spent years working out their test, which consists of thirty-three premarital items allegedly favorable to adjustment in marriage. Almost at the same time a high-powered team under Dr. Terman was developing another such test of thirty factors. The two tests match in only ten questions out of a total of sixty-three. But neither Terman nor Burgess has ever advocated the widespread use of their tests.

"The advocates of premarital testing assume that we are robots, frozen for life to a formal mold. Their rigid formulas take no account of individual differences in adaptability, for the intricate interplay of complex personalities upon each other. They forget that happiness is not something guaranteed to us by a new-model mate, selected as if we were a new-model washing machine with all the desired features. It comes, instead, from the struggle to make a marriage work despite all obstacles; from the growing together of two different personalities in meeting common problems and hurdling common hazards."

Bright Colored Paint Can Cheer Up Basement

ANN ARBOR—Use of water resisting cement paint, along with a good concrete floor enamel, can give your basement the dry and colorful walls and floors you need for health and comfort.

Herbert W. Jone, assistant professor of architecture at the University of Michigan, offers a number of practical suggestions on how to ensure well insulated, waterproof walls and floor.

"Dampness," he points out, "is often a problem to be confronted in remodeling the basement into comfortable supplementary living quarters.

"Yhy not paint the walls with water resisting cement paint? This will seal up troublesome pores of concrete block. The paint comes in attractive shades of green, grey and tan. Walls which leak badly should be given a one-inch coating of water repellent cement.

"If your basement has a dry concrete floor, you may employ a concrete floor enamel in such colors as green, red or grey.

"Or you may prefer asphalt tile, which is easily applied to concrete. It should not, however, be used near laundry areas as it will absorb moisture and be spoiled.

"Or, if children are going to be playing in the basement, asphalt tile, because of its fine insulating quality, will probably be your choice. It is available in a variety of colors, and the tiles may be combined to form attractive patterns.

"If it is desirable to cover the asphalt tile for further insulation from dampness, a hemp-type floor covering is recommended. There are inexpensive runners of woven hemp which may be sewed together to make any size you require."

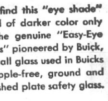
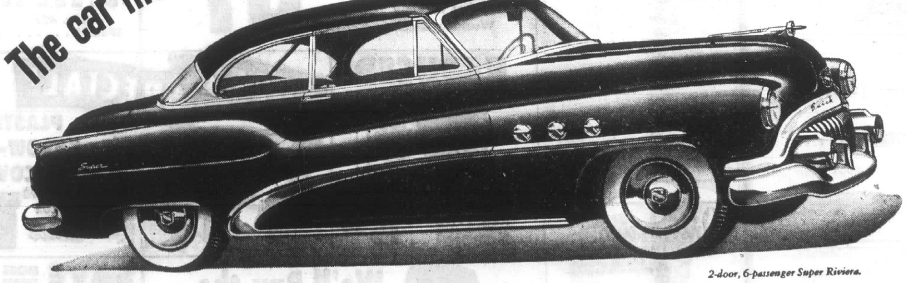
ALWAYS BE CAREFUL DRIVING

The car that wears its own Sun Glasses



You find this "eye shade" band of darker color only on the genuine "Easy-Eye Glass" pioneered by Buick, and all glass used in Buicks is ripple-free, ground and polished plate safety glass.



2-door, 6-passenger Super Riviera.

YOU may have to look twice to see it —but a lot of the new Buicks have a soft blue-green tone in all glass areas —plus a slightly darker band which shades down from the top of the windshield.

And you have no idea what comfort all this adds to hot-weather driving.

Its name is "Easy-Eye Glass"†—which tells only half the story. While it filters out 18% of the glare (and tones down the dazzle of oncoming headlights at night)—it also cuts down sun-heat as much as 50%.

So it's the best cure we know for hot laps in summer driving, when the sun beats down on the windshield.

Maybe you'd like to try this out before you buy your next car.

And while you're trying it out—you can also discover how it feels to boss around a Fireball 8 Engine, that puts its own exclusive added wallop into a high-compression valve-in-head power plant.

You can sample the sure-footed way a Buick settles into a curve—the way the front wheels seem to seek their course automatically—the smooth surge and falterless ease with which Dynaflow Drive* feeds the power—the level confidence of Buick's million dollar ride.

You can get an idea also of the room, the comfort, the smartness, the thrill that your dollars buy in this brilliant performer.

So why not arrange for a demonstration soon?

*Equipment, accessories, trim and models are subject to change without notice. Wheel Crests standard on Roadmaster, optional at extra cost on other Series. †Optional at extra cost—available on most models. Standard on Roadmaster, optional at extra cost on other Series.

Child's "Hate" For Parents Normal; Love Is Needed

Most normal children feel a kind of hatred toward their parents at moments—especially when their parents seem to stand in the way of a good time. It is best to allow them to let off steam in words, advises child expert Irma Simonton Black, because punishment would only make the resentment worse and the hostile feelings they repressed would come out in other forms. Writing in Redbook Magazine for June, she says that children are usually frightened by the violence of their own feelings at such times and need reassurance more than anything else:

"Even the child whose usual relation to his parents is one of deep affection will occasionally feel something very like hatred toward them. It often comes as a real shock to parents when a child says, 'I hate you!'

"What usually happens is that a child reacts with unexpected violence to something that is perfectly reasonable from the parents' point of view. In the black-and-white, all-or-nothing terms characteristic of childhood; they 'hate' their parents for decisions that seem arbitrarily to deprive them of a good time.

"In these circumstances a mother is wise to allow her child to let off steam harmlessly in words. She knows that the child's feelings are as transient as they are natural.

"If she scolds or slaps a child for saying 'I hate you,' it is just possible that she might keep him from expressing any such feelings in the future and would only intensify his resentment. When a child is forced to repress all hostile feelings, the chances are that they will emerge indirectly in night terrors, tantrums, extreme dependence and other forms.

"What a youngster actually needs when he shows transient hostility toward his parents is reassurance, because many a child is overwhelmed by the violence of his own reaction and may even be afraid, in a vague sort of way, that his parents will hate him right back. The parent who says calmly, 'Sure, I know how you feel,' has relieved the child of the burden of a heavy load of guilt."

THE TECUMSEH HERALD

ONE HUNDRED FIRST YEAR — NUMBER 44 TECUMSEH, MICHIGAN, JUNE 5, 1952 FIVE CENTS A COPY

TECUMSEH PAID A FITTING TRIBUTE to its war dead, Memorial Day, with a parade and program in Brookside Cemetery. Pictured above are the American Legion drill team, and a group of members of the auxiliary of Hall-Slater Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars. Both units were in the parade, which was witnessed by hundreds of people. (Photos by Kenneth Connair)

Pay Tribute To War Dead

PARADE AND PROGRAM ON FRIDAY ONE OF LARGEST STAGED IN TECUMSEH

Arthur Lopshire of Macon, Army Reserve Corps colonel and one-time military governor of a sector in Korea, struck out against communism, Friday, when he delivered the Memorial Day address to several hundred people here at the conclusion of a parade that ended in Brookside Cemetery. Tecumseh's tribute to its war dead on Decoration Day was one of the finest in recent years. The parade was larger, by far, than many such former events, and the crowd that both the parade and the program attracted also set a record.

"We are gathered here to pay tribute to all those Americans who died for our country," Col. Lopshire said. "They died so that we, who are alive, may be free to govern ourselves as we see fit; that we may worship as our faith decrees; that we may possess an economy based on free enterprise—an economy in which man is not a slave, but free—free to work when, where and how he pleases; that we may be free to express our opinions without fear of reprisals from political powers or subversive groups.

"In America we are still a nation of free people. We are free principally because we have a Constitution which protects individual liberties. Those liberties will be preserved and we will remain a nation of free people only as long as the American people remain alert. The political power today is vested in the American people—and may God keep it there."

"While our boys are dying in Korea, fighting communism on foreign soil; presumably to prevent its spread to this country, we, the American people, are permitting communism to exist and carry on its subversive activities right here at home," Col. Lopshire

ENROLLMENT EXPECTED TO REACH 200 MARK NEXT WEEK; ENDS JUNE 13

Tecumseh's Community Vacation Bible School got under way at Central School Monday with a first-day enrollment of 150. Tuesday's enrollment was slightly larger, and it is expected that the 200 mark will be reached by Monday of next week.

The Rev. B. O. Bashore, pastor of the Baptist church, is dean of the school. The Rev. Edward Escolme, pastor of the Friends church, is at the head of the visual education department and Mrs. A. S. Dimbat is directing the music department. There are three divisions in the school, one for beginners, another for primary students, and a third for juniors. Boys and girls from four to 12 years of age may register. Sessions start each morning at 9:15 and continue until 11:45, Monday through Friday.

The school will close officially next week Friday evening, June 13, with a program for parents and interested friends at 7:30, the Rev. Mr. Bashore said. At that time diplomas will be awarded to students who have attended seven of the 10 sessions. Each department will share in the program, and there will be a display of the pupils' handiwork.

At the conclusion of the program, refreshments will be served.

Mrs. Anna L. Eberhardt, Britton Resident, Dies

Mrs. Anna L. Eberhardt, age 80 years, died at 10:30 p.m., last Thursday, at Herrick Memorial Hospital. She had suffered a severe paralytic stroke, Monday afternoon. Mrs. Ebehardt moved to Michigan in 1918 from Arrowsmith, Ill., with her husband and children. The farm home was two and a half miles southeast of Britton. She was a member of the First Christian church in Adrian. Mrs. Eberhardt was preceded in death by her husband, J. Wesley Eberhardt; two children, a son and a daughter, in infancy, and one brother and two sisters.

Survivors are one daughter, Mrs. Verna Meyers of Indianapolis, Ind., one son, Elmer W., of Britton; four grandchildren; one great-grandchild and one sister, Mrs. Agnes Banks of Chappell, Neb. A number of nieces and nephews also survive.

Funeral services were held Sunday afternoon at 2:30 at the Niblack Funeral Home in Britton. The Rev. O. E. Priest of Clinton, officiated. The bearers were Clarence Herford, Winning Foley, Virgil Linn, Alfred and Ernest Spohr and William Judkins.

Children's Day To Be Observed

At the Methodist church, a combined service will be held at 11 o'clock with the Sunday School children presenting a special program. There will be a baptismal service for infants, and a short sermon by the pastor, Rev. Ronald Brunger.

The Tecumseh Friends church will hold a unified service at 10:30 with Ann Marie Kempf and Astride Freimanis announcing the program. State Police Patrol Cut By Riot At Prison

Michigan State Police patrol and arrest activities slumped sharply in April due to the assignment of troopers to the Jackson prison riot during the last 10 days of the month.

According to the department's monthly activity summary, officers made 6,167 arrests, including 5,554 for traffic offenses. Compared with the previous month this was a decrease of 31 per cent. Total man hours on patrol dropped 25 per cent.

A total of 4,912 complaints were handled in all matters and 20,865 property inspections and 2,765 liquor inspections were made. During March, officers handled 5,270 complaints and made 28,523 property inspections and 3,938 liquor inspections.

When the prison riot broke out April 21, the department mobilized 250 officers from posts throughout the lower peninsula, which necessitated curtailing patrol and general police activities. For a brief period another 50 men were mobilized for possible trouble at Ionia reformatory.

About 150 officers remain on duty at the prison.

The East Lansing headquarters identification bureau received 6,283 sets of fingerprints during April. This brought the total number on file to 3,529,084, of which 1,828,756 sets are in the criminal section and 1,700,328 in the non-criminal.

Picture of a Pair who just waked up

Here in the driveway is a Buick. It has just arrived. It belongs to this proud young couple. They've just "arrived" too.

They've arrived at a discovery—the discovery that owning a Buick instead of a "low-priced car" isn't so much a matter of money.

It's a matter of knowing the facts of life. Buick prices are closer to the prices of smaller, less powerful, less distinguished cars than most people think.

Why don't you check into this?

You'll find you could pay $300 to $400 more—and still not match the horsepower of this nimble beauty.

You could pay hundreds of dollars more—and still not get any more interior room, or richer fabrics.

But that's only part of the story.

The big thing about any car is the way it goes.

So you ought to find out how this car rides the road—the freedom from bobble and sway that cost a million real dollars to develop.

You ought to sample the way Dynaflow Drive* feeds the power—with a steady swoop and unbroken smoothness in city traffic, on hills, or out on the open road.

And you ought to know how it feels to touch off that Fireball 8 Engine. With all its might, this high-compression valve-in-head gets a lot of miles from a gallon of gas.

We'll tell you this—because a lot of folks have told us this: No matter what car you're driving now—no matter what cars you've looked at—they'll never seem the same after you try this one.

Just give us a chance to prove it—and you'll have a lot of fun.

Overconfidence Can Be Suicide

So far as the Republicans are concerned, the end of the primary season finds the situations about as the forecasters expected. In pledged delegates, Eisenhower and Taft are, to all practical purposes, on an equal footing. Taft has a few more than his chief rival but the lead is too small to be significant. Neither man has anywhere near enough to assure nomination.

Only one other active candidate can now be taken seriously. That is Governor Warren of California, who would have a good chance in the unlikely event that Taft and Eisenhower cancel each other out at the convention. Stassen is far weaker than he was four years ago.

From the point of view of the political writer, the Democratic situation is extremely interesting. The only candidate who has shown any ability to attract a national following is Kefauver. He has amazed the old-line professionals, who were certain that his balloon would collapse ignominiously. Instead he has had only one minor setback, in Florida, and even there he made a better showing against the popular Russell than was anticipated. If proven public sentiment meant a thing, he would be a cinch for the nomination. But the top Administration brass wants no part of him and the chances are that they'll be able to stop him at the convention—something they couldn't do in the primaries.

Potent powers within the party are behind Averill Harriman. But, politically speaking, he is a question mark. He has never run for office. He is a quiet, undramatic figure who has, so far as anyone can now see, no public following of any size. There is a very real possibility that the Democratic convention will be deadlocked, and will finally choose someone who is rarely if even mentioned now—such as Speaker of the House Rayburn.

It should also be kept in mind that President Truman will attend the convention as a delegate from Missouri—and that he will sit with delegates. It should also be remembered that Mr. Truman is a smart politician. He has said that he does not care for reelection—that he will not be a candidate. But, just in case of a deadlock, Mr. Truman could be drafted. He hasn't said that he would not serve again, in such an event.

There are those who may disagree, but nevertheless Mr. Truman, should he be the drafted Democratic candidate, would be a difficult man for the Republicans to defeat. He has the political know-how, and a treasury full of money.

Many Republicans still feel, it seems, that it's all over but the shouting—that their man, whoever he is, is practically a cinch to defeat any available Democrat. This, of course, was also felt in 1948, and the more objective political observers think that those who still hold it may be due for a painful awakening. The Democratic candidate, if it is someone other than Mr. Truman, will run on the Truman platform. The President, regardless of how badly his prestige may have slipped, will be the biggest force at the convention. All of the possible candidates have endorsed Mr. Truman's so-called "fair-deal." That is true of Kefauver, who has leaned over backward to avoid criticizing the President and his program. It is true, to slightly varying degrees, of Russell, Kerr, Harriman and Stavenson. The Administration is making its strongest bid yet for labor backing—as witness the President's action in the steel crisis. And it has been given the unequivocal endorsement of Phillip Murray and other labor leaders.

Republicans who today feel that the election is "in the bag," that nothing can stop the G.O.P. from winning, should think back four years to Mr. Dewey, who was certain that he would be a White House occupant. Mr. Truman, almost single handed, defeated him. It was in the 1948 election that the President showed his strength, and his terrific ability as a vote-getter. And despite the stories of graft and corruption involving his administration, Mr. Truman must still be reckoned with as one of the country's most powerful politicians.

People who want to unseat the Democrats often make the dangerous mistake of considering only the Administration's political liabilities—and disregarding its political assets. The Democratic platform in 1952 will be, so far as basic principles are concerned, much the same platform with which Mr. Truman ran to victory in 1948 when no one gave him a chance.

From the Republican viewpoint, overconfidence could be political suicide. That's exactly what happened in the U. S. in 1948, when less than 50 percent of the American voters cast their ballots.

The Frailty Of Man And Security Of God...

. . . are perfectly exemplified in the passing from this life. Never does our faith come closer than during the funeral service.

To convey in full measure our faith in God, to bring the living closer to Him is a function of the funeral.

"I have seen communism at work in Korea. I have seen the various methods of subterfuge that communists employ in seeking to overthrow and gain control of a government. I have seen attempts to intimidate and to establish fear in the minds of people. I have seen the execution of most vicious propaganda campaigns based on deceit, lies and false promises. Briefly, I have seen communism in operation in a country where people are not free; they were slaves to a political party.

"I speak of communism today because it is a threat to our constitutional government. It is a menace which cannot be combatted alone on the Korean battlefield but will have to be earnestly and vigourously opposed at home as well as in foreign countries.

"Democracy and communism cannot exist together. The Kremlin maintains that democracy must go, that America will become bankrupt and eliminate herself through her poorly planned economy and excessive spending program. The communist strategy will attempt to involve the United constitutional government by burrowing from within. Communists wil lattempt to involve the United States in as many armed conflicts throughout the world as they can manage to precipitate. A physically, economically and normally weakened America is what communists desire most."

Continuing, Lopshire said: "The only obstacle standing in the way of a complete communist conquest by terror of the whole world is America, and that fellow-Americans means you. The power of this country rests in your hands. No president, no cabinet member, no member of Congress, no one in government—not even the Supreme Court—can defy you, the American people. They cannot defy you because you as Americans are vested with the power to control your government by vote, guaranteed by the constitution of these United States.

"Those brave men to whom we are paying tribute today, in our humble way, are unable to speak to us. But if they could, I am sure they would say, 'We gave our lives that you might be free. We died in an attempt to preserve that constitution of yours which guarantees and insures your freedom and liberty. Our duty and our responsibility toward that end, has ended—it is now in your hands. What have you done to deserve to be free? What will you do to protect and preserve the American way of life in the stuggle for which we have given our lives?'

"You can keep America strong, free and powerful; you can preserve our constitutional liberties, you can, if you diligently and unfailingly exercise your authority to vote," the speaker concluded.

Louis Schneider, veteran of World War I and prominent in work of the American Legion, state-wide, was marshal of the day. Mr. Schneider has served Tecumseh in such a capacity on many previous occasions but this year's Memorial Day tribute seemed far more impressive and larger than in former times. This was perhaps due to the appearance of the Chatham, Ontario, bagpipe band, and a contingent of the Michigan National Guard.

The parade formed on Ottawa street and moved west on Chicago Boulevard to Brookside Cemetery, where the exercises and program were held. In the line of march were: The national colors, Civil War veterans' car, speaker's car, a car for village officials, the Tecumseh high school band, Clare Camburn directing, a contingent of National Guardsmen, the ministers' car, Spanish American colors and color guard, car with wreaths for Spanish war, World War I and II, Scout float, Veterans of Foreign Wars, colors, color guard and firing squad, American Legion national colors and color guard and drill squad, V. F. W. colors and guard and delegation, Chatham Bagpipe Band, American Legion colors and guard and delegation, Civil War auxiliary car and flags, Spanish American Auxiliary colors and color guard cars, V. F. W. Auxiliary colors and guard and delegation, American Legion Auxiliary colors, guard, drill team and auxiliary cars, Explorer Scouts, colors, guard and delegation, Boy Scouts, colors, guard and delegation, Cub Scouts, colors, guard and delegation, school children, flower truck, fire trucks, mounted delegation, 40 & 8 Boxcar and engine, bicycles and civilians in cars.

The parade moved promptly at 10 a.m., and the program was completed at the cemetery at about 11:20.

NAVY'S NEW AUTOPILOT . . . Designed for wartime use in the United States navy's jet fighters, this new automatic pilot (G-3) is described by scientists and airmen as another major step toward the complete push-button control of high-speed interceptor airplanes in combat flights. The G-3 is designed to hold the plane automatically at the desired barometric altitude, heading and altitude. The device enables the pilot of the plane to put the aircraft through the maneuvers he wishes by means of push buttons and a miniature control stick. The control stick is made to move under finger-tip pressure and is very sensitive.

boys would set up camp Friday afternoon and the program will continue through Sunday afternoon. "We sincerely hope," he said, that the parents and friends of scouting will show special interest in the event, and we want them to know that they are very welcome to visit us at any time."

The Camporee is sponsored jointly by the Wolverine Council, Boy Scouts of America, and the Hall-Slater Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars of Tecumseh. During the three-day period, many kinds of contests will be featured, and the boys will be given an opportunity to display their skills in the crafts that they have been taught during the winter months. These events will include the building of camp fires, knife sharpening, cooking, first aid, tracking, rescue work and others.

All of Tecumseh's Scout troops will take part in the Camporee. This includes the Explorer Troop and Troops Four and Seventy-three, Boy Scouts. The Explorer troop is sponsored by the V.F.W., and the other troops by the Rotary Club and the Presbyterian church.

A highlight of the program Dickerson said, will come on Saturday when the Rev. Fr. Keating chaplain of the federal prison at Milan, will speak on the subject, "What a chaplain does in a federal penal institution." The address will be at noon.

A Court of Honor will be held on Saturday evening. The public always is interested in this event. Dickerson said, and he urged that parents and friends of boys in camp attend.

Sunday at 2 p.m., the Governor's Trophy will be presented to the prize winning troop in the Camporee. This award is much sought after by all troops, and competition will be keen.

It is expected that troops will be present from Waldron and North Adams and Monroe and from Lyons, Ohio.

A special event for Saturday evening will be the appearance of the Karouchi Indian Dancers from Fremont, O. They will stage their dances at the camp fire on Saturday evening.

The camp site is located on the Jim Johnson property and while the boys are there they will live in a tent city. They will cook their own meals—with the aid of their instructors—and build their own tents and make their own beds. It was pointed out, however, that there is ample supervision.

Sunday morning, boys of the Catholic faith wil lattend mass at Catholic faith will attend mass at here. For the other Scouts a service will be held on the grounds with ministers from local churches participating.

The Camporee will end at 3:30 p.m., Sunday, so that the boys may return to their homes in ample time for dinner and Sunday evening church services.

Last year, at Hudson, about 300 boys attended the Camporee. This year, it was said, well over 400 will participate. All troops will be accompanied by Scoutmasters and leaders.

and to inspect the sanitary methods of milk production there has been issued by the owners.

Mr. Gilman said that it was with a feeling of regret that he and Mrs. Gilman announced the sale of the Dairy to Meadowridge. However, he said, for reasons of health, the sale was necessary.

The Tecumseh Dairy was established here on May 1, 1937, by Mr. and Mrs. Gilman, at 108 W. Logan street, its present location. It was housed in its own new building, which has been expanded greatly in the last 15 years, and in addition to the house-to-house delivery of milk, cream and dairy products, a modern dairy bar also has been operated.

Before coming to Tecumseh, Mr. Gilman was the dairy manager of the Dhu Varren Farms at Ann Arbor. Prior to his association at the Farms he was the owner of the Royal Dairy at Ann Arbor, which business he sold. He has been in the milk business for about 30 years.

"One cannot be in business for a 15-year period without making many personal friends," Gilman said. "We have done this, and that is the reason we regret 'stepping aside.' However, health must be considered, too. We'd like to say thank you to our many friends and customers for their patronage and kindness. We realize fully that the Dairy is in good hands in the sale to Meadowridge. We are certain that our old customers can depend upon the new owners for high quality and service."

The Gilmans own a house immediately east of the Dairy. This was included in the sale to Meadowridge. The Gilmans are starting to build a new house on West Brown street, and plan to move there in about three months. They will, of course, continue to make their home in Tecumseh.

adopted on Monday, held that: ". . . such a condition will deprive this village in perpetuity of its soverign rights to control the use of said Chicago boulevard and, whereas, numerous citizens have petitioned this Council in connection therewith, therefore, the clerk shall be instructed to forward a copy of this resolution to the appropriate officials of the State Highway Department advising such officials that the Village of Tecumseh has re-considered its resolution first described above; and stating that the Village wishes to maintain sole control of the parking within its corporate limits; and inviting the appropriate official or officials to a the matter to the end that an equitable and fair arrangement can be effected."

Chicago Boulevard now carries one-lane traffic east and west through the village on two 18-foot strips of pavement. After the widening has been effected, there will be two 24-foot one-way traffic lanes. It was contended by those opposing the parking ban that such a step was unnecessary inasmuch as it had not been necessary as the street now exists, and should be less necessary when it is wider.

E. C. Heilman, named village president to succeed the late J. Floyd Elliott, was unable to attend the council session. Mr. Heilman still is a patient in Herrick Memorial Hospital, recovering from a severe chest cold. His condition is much improved however, and it is likely that he will return to his home very soon.

At Monday's meeting, A. W. Porter, president pro tem, presided at the session. Current bills were audited and ordered paid and reports of the several committee and department heads were read and placed on file. The only other business was routine.

COMMUNICATION

To The Citizens of Tecumseh:

Perhaps it is because I am the daughter of a Spanish War Veteran that I feel as I do, but I have heard several others speak of the same thing that I am writing about.

We only have two Spanish War veterans left in Tecumseh now, Lyman Ousterhout and my father, Reuben VanWinkle, yet at the memorial Day services, held last Friday, at Brookside cemetery, there were no provisions made for them to have chairs, or even provisions for their colors to appear in the parade. Neither one was able to hear the program from where they had to stand—against a tree for support.

When I was a girl the G. A. R. veterans, old soldiers as me called them, were provided with chairs on the platform or were allowed to sit near the speaker. We have lost four senior veterans during the past few months and I feel that there should be some better provision made for those infirm and aged veterans who served our country, and for whom the Memorial Day services are also honoring. One of these days the present younger soldiers will eb taking their places.

WASP IN DRYDOCK FOR REPAIRS . . . This view of the aircraft carrier U.S.S. Wasp in drydock at Bayonne, New Jersey, shows the gaping hole in her bow made by a mid-Atlantic collision with the minesweeper-destroyer U.S.S. Hobson. Repairs on the crippled carrier are expected to take between four and five weeks. Meanwhile, a three-man court of inquiry to determine causes and responsibilities for the collision on April 26 that cost 176 lives was underway in Bayonne. The aircraft carrier lost a huge chunk out of her bow near the ship's water line when she rammed and sank the minesweeper-destroyer at sea more than 1,500 miles east of New York.

Now Is The Time To Transplant Your Plants

Now that Spring is here, it's time to transplant those favorite potted house plants to keep them fine and healthy and prevent them from becoming root-bound.

Take them out of their crowded winter quarters, and give them a new lease on life, Dr. Elzada U. Clover, associate professor of botany at the University of Michigan advises.

You will need to give special attention to type and size of pot to be used, proper soil mixture and careful removal of the plant from the old pot to the new.

It goes without saying that your plant should be transplanted while it's in good growing condition, not after is has turned yellow and limp. And, of course, don't make the mistake of transplanting to too large a pot. The roots will spread too greatly and the top of the plant will become wild and straggly. Also, the soil is apt to become sour in a pot too large for the plant. Small plants should be transplanted twice a year. As they get larger, once a year will suffice.

You will find that an unpainted clay pot will give best transplanting results, since clay is porous and will allow air to enter the soil. It is advisable to place a few pieces of broken clay pot over the hole in the bottom of the container and cover it with coarse gravel to facilitate drainage. Then fill the pot with soil to within an inch or two of the top.

A good soil for nearly all plants is a garden loam mixed with sand and leaf mold. An acid soil is best for azaleas, camellias and gardenias. Five parts of peat to one part of white sand is a good mixture for these plants. African violets, gloxinias and tuberous begonias grow very well in a mixture of three parts of leaf mold, one part loam and one part white sand, Dr. Clover said.

Be very careful not to break the ball of soil around the roots as you transfer the plant from one pot to the other.

Place the ball of soil in the new container with the top of the ball about an inch below the top of the pot. Add fresh soil, pressing firmly around the plant. Allow room for watering.

Water the plant so that the soil is thoroughly wet. Before watering again, allow the soil to be somewhat dry on top. This permits circulation of air. Freshly transplanted plants should be protected from the sun for a few days until roots have become established.

A watering can with a long spout will give you a great deal of satisfaction, especially with African violets and gloxinias which may be injured if water is left on leaves in sunlight. The small spout may be inserted among the leaves and the plant watered without spattering table or bench.

Accidents Dwarf Polio Death Rate

MISHAPS COST MORE LIVES OF KIDDIES THAN ANY SINGLE DISEASE

Warm weather lures children out to play and demands that every parent caution his offspring again and again to be careful—for accidents cause more deaths among pre-school children than any single disease.

Dr. James L. Wilson, chairman of the Department of Pediatrics and Communicable Diseases at the University of Michigan, points out that the toll of polio, appendicitis, tuberculosis, heart disease, cancer, leukemia, or any other disease among children, is dwarfed by the high number of fatal accidents among juveniles.

Actually, such accidents to children, he states, cause one third as many deaths as all child diseases combined.

Stop being too pre-occupied about diseases, Dr. Wilson advises, and start thinking about accidents and "we'll have more living children."

You can expect your child to meet some of the normal wear and care of living, such as bumps, bruises, cuts, sprains or even a broken bone, he explains. These are minor in a sense because they can be repaired or even chalked up as educational, for lessons learned in pain are not soon forgotten. However, fatal accidents that happen to children inside and around the home dim the feeling of security found there and call for something to be done about it.

Discipline is a valuable step in the right direction, Dr. Wilson asserts. It plays an important role, not only in accident prevention but also in the character building of a child, by helping him to obtain a sense of security, for children are imitators and investigators They absorb the attitudes of their parents and copy their behavior. Therefore, a careful parent sets up in the child a form of behavior and as such it can be shaped and developed into safety patterns that saves young lives.

Knife Wielder Will Face Judge

JACKSON CONVICT WAIVES EXAMINATION: SENTENCE LATER THIS WEEK

Davis Henderson, 34-year-old convict and attacker of a Girl Scout leader at Wamplers Lake, early Saturday morning, waived examination when he was arraigned in Justice John K. Lowe's court at Adrian, Monday, on a charge of assault with intent to do great bodily harm, less than the crime of murder. Later, he was arraigned before Circuit Judge G. Arthur Rathbun and entered a plea of guilty. He was remanded to the custody of the warden of Southern Michigan Prison, Jackson. He probably will appear before Judge Rathbun later this week for sentence.

Henderson, serving a 7½ to 15 year term at the prison from Detroit for armed robbery, escaped Friday afternoon from the Waterloo camp of convicts working at the Walter J. Hayes State Park, which borders the lake. His freedom lasted for 17 hours.

According to police, Henderson hid in the area until it became dark and then forced his way into a cabin on the lake's edge, occupied by a group of Girl Scout leaders from Detroit. Entry to the cabin was made about 1 a.m. Saturday. The women fought their assailant with shoes, books, and sticks and he finally fled. Beslashed Mrs. Rhea May, 29, one slashed Mrs. Rhea Hay, 29, one of the leaders, with a butcher knife, which he picked up from a table. Mrs. May was removed to Herrick Memorial Hospital here for treatment. Eight stitches were necessary to close the wound.

Henderson fled to the north after the attack and a posse of 50 prison guards, state troopers and police officers, aided by a state airplane, searched the area. Henderson was spotted by Donald Frier, a 22-year-old farmer, two miles south of Napoleon. Frier fired four shots at him from a deer rifle. A bullet grazed one of Henderson's fingers. He was captured by troopers at 10:45 a.m., Saturday, as he emerged from a thicket. He offered no resistance.

Henderson was removed to the state prison and then taken to Adrian on Monday for arraignment.

Brooklyn Boy Drowns In Lake

THREE-YEAR-OLD SON OF LESTER CARPENTER DROWNS AT WOLF LAKE

Lester Carpenter, 3½-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Lester F. Carpenter, Route 2, Brooklyn, was drowned, Monday afternoon when he fell into Wolf Lake. The Carpenters are residents of Wolf Lake Park. The drowning was the second in the county this year.

According to Mrs. Carpenter, the child was playing with other children in front of their home. She missed him and began a search. His body was floating between several rowboats tied to the dock in about two feet of water.

The resuscitator squad of the Onsted fire department was called, as was Dr. Syre of Onsted. The group worked for three hours in a vain effort to revive the boy. Coroner Edward Braun of Adrian, said that apparently the child missed his footing while playing on the dock. He ruled the death to be accidental.

Funeral services will be Thursday at 2 p.m., from the Worthington Funeral Home in Brooklyn with burial in Norvell.

Survivors besides the parents are a brother, Floyd, grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Loren Carpenter of Brooklyn, and Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Shenefield, also of Brooklyn.

Police Issue Warning On Firecracker Shooting

George Kilbourn, chief of police, today issued a warning to persons who are shooting fireworks inside the village.

"The shooting of fireworks is illegal," the chief said, "under Michigan law, and violaters will be apprehended and taken into court."

Chief Kilbourn said that there were several outbursts of fireworks in Tecumseh, Sunday, the crackers exploding after they had been thrown from moving automobiles.

Sale of fireworks also is prohibited by law in Michigan. Residents, however, visit nearby Ohio, where the sale is legal, and purchase the explosives. It was pointed out that it is also illegal to transport fireworks across the state line.

SYNOD MEETING

The Presbyterian laymen of the synod of Michigan are holding their third annual meeting in Alma, June 13, 14 and 15. Clair Rozelle will represent Tecumseh at this meeting.

TWO NURSING SCHOLARSHIPS were presented to two Lenawee girls by the Herrick Memorial Hospital Auxiliary, following its meeting here Tuesday evening in Fellowship Center of the Presbyterian church. The honored girls are Miss Barbara Jean Meyer of Raisin township, left, and Miss Elizabeth Joan Hindes of Ridgeway. Making the presentation is Mrs. E. C. Boss, chairman of the Auxiliary's scholarship committee. Mrs. Paul Keyser, president, watches the ceremony.

Two Nursing Scholarships Awarded To High School Grads by Auxiliary

Scholarships to two schools of nursing were awarded to two high school graduates by the Herrick Memorial Hospital Auxiliary, following its dinner meeting, Tuesday evening, in the Fellowship Center of the Presbyterian church.

The two students honored are Miss Barbara Jean Meyer of Raisin township, a graduate with the 1952 class of Adrian High School, and Miss Elizabeth Joan Hindes, a graduate of Tecumseh high school, class of 1952. Miss Meyer has been accepted by the University of Michigan School of Nursing for a four-year course, and she will enter upon her duties in September. Miss Hindes has been accepted for entrance at Harper Hospital School of Nursing, Detroit, for a three-year course. She too, will begin her duties in September.

The Auxiliary offers an annual scholarship, not to exceed $200, to some qualifying student. The two awards were made this year because in 1951 no girls applied for the scholarship.

The following regulations govern the selection of a candidate:

She must be a high school graduate in the upper half of her class; be accepted by an accredited school of nursing; show financial need, and a willingness to serve for one year on the nursing staff of Herrick hospital after her successful profesisonal training. For this work she will receive a salary at the going contract rate. The applicant may, after the completion of her first year's training, reapply, yearly, to the Auxiliary for funds to finance further training.

The awards were presented by Mrs. E. C. Boss, chairman of the scholarship committee of the Auxiliary. Mrs. Paul Keyser is president of the organization.

Miss Meyer, according to her scholastic record, made nearly all-A grades in high school, and

Baptists Plan New Building

ADDITION TO PRESENT STRUCTURE WILL ALMOST DOUBLE SIZE OF CHURCH

The addition of a Christian Education Building to the present Baptist church here was approved by the board of trustees, in session Tuesday evening. Work on the structure, which will practically double the size of the church, will be started soon, and should be finished by October, the Rev. B. O. Bashore said today.

Plans call for the building of the new structure immediately south the present building. It will be constructed of brick, steel and cement and the architecture will blend with that of the church.

Housed in the new building, which will be 30 by 60 feet in size, one and a half stories in height, will be eight church school rooms and offices in the basement. The first floor of the building will be given over to a banquet room, capable of accommodating 250 people. Entrance to the building will be from the west side of the church, and the present banquet and Sunday school rooms will serve as reception rooms.

The Rev. Mr. Bashore pointed out that the expansion program has been under consideration by the church board for several months. The steady growth of the church's congregation and Sunday school has made the enlargement program necessary, he declared.

HOSPITAL AUXILIARY TO HOLD TEA HERE, TODAY

The annual Herrick Memorial Hospital Auxiliary tea will be held this afternoon from 2 to 4 o'clock at the Country Club, Mrs. Frank K. Smith, general chairman, said. Lawrence Drake, public relations director and chairman of the Council on Public Education, Michigan Hospital Association, will be the speaker.

ADRIAN TROOP, CIO SPONSORED CAPTURES GOVERNOR'S TROPHY, SUNDAY

Troop No. 61, Wolverine Council, Boy Scouts of America, won the Governor's Trophy at the Lenawee Camporee, held over the week-end two miles northeast of Tecumseh on the Macon Road. Troop 61 is sponsored by the C.I.O., of Adrian.

Between 300 and 400 boys from all over the county attended the Camporee which got under way on Friday and ended at 3 p.m., Sunday. The Governor's Trophy, first presented a year ago at the Camporee in Hudson, is the most coveted honor of the camp. In 1951 it was presented by Governor Williams, after having been purchased by the Fraternal Order of Eagles of Adrian.

Other troops winning honors at the camp were: Second prize to Troop 49 of Adrian, sponsored by the Methodist church. In third place, two troops were tied and identical trophies were awarded. These were won by Troop 34 of Clayton, sponsored by the Village of Clayton, and Troop 53 of Adrian, sponsored by the Free Methodist church. Troop 43 of Adrian, sponsored by the Elks, won the camping award. A troop from LaSalle won the visitor's trophy.

Troop 47 of Tecumseh, one of the host troops, lacked one point of being tied for third place honors.

The trophies were presented, along with merit badges and other awards won during the three-day camping period, by Eli Dickerson of Adrian, district scouting commissioner. The Court of Honor was held Sunday afternoon.

Tecumseh was represented in the Camporee by the Explorer Troop and Troops Forty-seven and Seventy-three. The Explorer troop is sponsored by the V. F. W., and the others by the Presbyterian church and the Rotary

New Librarian Hired By Board

STATE-AID PROGRAM REQUIRES CHANGE IN HANDLING OF LOCAL SET-UP

Miss Ruthann Stumpe of Chicago, was named as the director of the Tecumseh library when the board of education met in regular session, Tuesday evening. Miss Stumpe will succeed Miss Ruth Harding, and Miss Harding will become Miss Stumpe's assistant.

A change in the library's direction became necessary, it was explained, in order that Tecumseh might continue to participate in the state aid program. The library now is serving more than 5,000 people and under Michigan law Tecumseh is required to hire a director that is trained in library science. Miss Stumpe received her Bachelor of Science degree at Northwestern University, her Masters degree at the University of Chicago, and her Library Science degree at the University of California. Recently she has been working in Pasadena, Calif. She will assume her new duties here in the early fall. Miss Harding, who has been librarian here for several years, does not hold a degree in library science. She will, however, continue her work at the library as Miss Stumpe's assistant.

The board voted to convert the

WILL BE OPENED HERE ON JUNE 26; ARCHITECTS PUSH WORK ON PLANS

As architects continued to rush the plans for the building of a new elementary school and a five-room addition to Tecumseh high school, it was announced today that the Michigan Securities Commission had approved the District's $650,000 bonding issue, and that bids for the sale of the bonds would be received here on Thursday, June 26. The bonds to be sold were authorized by voters in an election here in May.

James McDowell, superintendent of schools, said today that architects are busy preparing plans for the new high school addition, as well as for the construction of the new 13-room elementary school on North Union street. Ground for both projects will be broken within a few weeks, it is expected, and it is hoped that the buildings will be in readiness for occupancy by January of 1953. However, the occupancy date is problematical.

In addition to the five-room addition at the high school, plans also call for the building of a new gymnasium there, with a seating capacity of about 1,600.

The bond issue here was approved by a 14 to 1 vote of the electors of District No. 7, which now comprises the former District No. 5. A sharp upturn in enrollment forced the expansion program.

The total cost of the construction is $760,000. Of this amount, the District received a $100,000 anonymous gift, and the other $10,000 needed will come from the school's general fund, to make up the difference between the $650,000 in bonds and the projects' cost.

Supt. McDowell has announced that next fall it will be necessary to house one elementary grade in the basement of the public library and one or two other grades in some other building—probably a church—pending the completion of the building project.

Invite Parents To Bible Program

ACHIEVEMENT OBSERVANCE TO BE HELD AT CENTRAL SCHOOL FRIDAY EVENING

Parents of the 200 or more students enrolled in the Daily Vacation Bible School here, sponsored by the Tecumseh Ministerial Association, are invited to an achievement program, to be held Friday evening at 7:30 in the auditorium of the Central School.

"This program will bring to an end, officially, the two-week Bible school that has been in progress here," the Rev. B. O. Bashore, pastor of the Baptist church and dean of the school, said. "We hope that the parents and friends will attend the program, which is being prepared by the children in the three departments of the school."

The Rev. Mr. Bashore said that there also would be displays of the handiwork done by the students. After the program, refreshments will be served.

The diplomas for the pupils who have attended seven or more of the sessions will be awarded at the school before adjournment, Friday morning. A large number of the approximately 200 enrolled will be eligible, it was said.

This year's school has been very successful, Mr. Bashore declared. The Rev. Edward Escolme, pastor of the Friends church, has been in charge of the visual education program, and Mrs. A. S. Dimbat has directed the music department. Some 21 teachers have assisted in the school.

Ridge Area Hit By Wind

90-DEGREE HEAT BROKEN BY SUNDAY NIGHT'S ELECTRICAL STORM

Week-end temperatures that soared into the 90's were broken about 8:30, Sunday evening, when this area was swept by a severe electrical and windstorm that centered its fury in the Ridgeway area.

Locally, it was said, there was little damage due to either wind or lightning. Lights blinked and sputtered several times as the severe lightning flashed, but nowhere in this vicinity did it strike.

Both the Michigan Associated Telephone Co., and the Consumers Power Company reported considerable trouble in the Ridgeway area. There, trees uprooted, limbs were blown off, but damage to buildings was negligible.

A heavy rainfall accompanied the wind on Sunday, and it lasted for about an hour. Catch basins and sewers were unable to handle the water at some periods of the storm, and motor cars operated in some spots in hub-deep puddles.

Few people realized it, but Tuesday afernoon's wind also was strong. It tipped over one airplane, tied-down at the Tecumseh Airport, but there was no damage, it was said.

Alumni Banquet Attended By 187

VERN MANWARING NAMED PRESIDENT OF ASSOCIATION HERE ON FRIDAY

The Tecumseh Alumni Association held its 38th annual banquet in the Fellowship Center of the Presbyterian church, Friday evening, with 187 members and guests in attendance. The dinner was served by the Westminister League of the church. Tables were decorated with cut spring flowers.

Sam Sisson, '25, president, presided at the business meeting. Mrs. Naomi Sallows, chairman of the nominating committee, presented this slate of officers, which was declared elected: Vern Manwaring, '40, president; James Beardsley, '33, vice-president; Mabel Lockwood, '19, and Mrs. Lenore Mohr Curtiss, '45, secretaries; Clara Harwood Wise, '44, and Mrs. Lucille Owen Kempf, '33, corresponding secretaries, and Gibbs Barber, '36, treasurer.

Seated at the speakers table were Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Moore and Mrs. Amey Kingan Scutt, class of 1890, and Mrs. Mertie Macham Waring and Miss Minnie Russell, class of 1896, the oldest classes of the alumni represented. The Rev. Alvin C. Brazee, '08, and a member of the Tecumseh public school faculty for many years, gave the invocation. The Rev. Mr. Brazee also delivered a memorial to the 20 members of the association who have died since the banquet two years ago.

Robert Laidlaw was toastmaster and introduced Mrs. Helen McIntyre Sisson, '20, who gave a toast to the 1952 seniors. John Sisson, her son, gave the response. "A Reminiscence of the Class Years," was by Fred C.

Ambassador To Ceylon Rotary Club Speaker

Joseph C. Satterthwaite, United States ambassador to Ceylon, was the speaker at the dinner meeting of the Tecumseh Rotary Club, Tuesday evening at the Country Club. Mr. Satterthwaite is a native of Tecumseh, and a graduate of Tecumseh high school He was a guest of his brother, Perry C. Satterthwaite.

Mr. Satterthwaite's talk was very interesting, as well as educational. He told of the customs of the country, traced its history for more than 2,000 years, and pointed out that the island is the largest source of tea in the world. In recent elections, he said, the communist wing of the government suffered a sound defeat.

Mr. Satterthwaite and his family arrived for a visit a week ago. They will remain in Tecumseh during the month of June. It is their first visit to the U. S. in two years.

ROAD BIDS OPENED

Bids for the construction of M-50-52, east from Billington's Corners to Ridgeway and through the Village of Tecumseh, were opened yesterday in the office of the State Highway Department in Lansing. A group of Tecumseh representatives were present at the time of the opening, and a conference on the state's proposed no-parking ban on Chicago Boulevard, inside the corporation, was expected to follow.

MOST OF US ARE TAX CONSCIOUS

Today, most of us are tax conscious. We notice, more and more, as the days go by, the dollars, the quarters, the nickles and the pennies that are being extracted from our purses by state and federal taxation. And yet, like the weather, all of us talk about it, but few of us—even the members of Congress—do anything about it.

As recently as 1929—just 23 years ago—the money spent by the federal Government totaled less than two-thirds of the income of the people of the single state of California.

The picture now, in the present fiscal year of Government, is a far different story. In the fiscal year of 1952, according to the First National Bank of Boston, Federal spending will equal the incomes of all of the inhabitants of this country who live west of the Mississippi, except for the residents of Louisiana, Arkansas and one-quarter of the state of Missouri.

Even that doesn't end the sorry story. State and local governments dig deep into the public's pocketbooks, too. Their expenditures will equal the total income of the citizens of the rest of Missouri, plus those of Arkansas, Louisiana, Kentucky, Tennessee, Mississippi, Alabama and two-thirds of Georgia.

All in all, government spending will equal the entire income of people in states comprising eighty per cent of the land area of the nation.

This is a novel and dramatic way of picturing the incredible magnitude of government spending. The nation is being bled white by ever-expanding government—and by waste which has reached shocking proportions.

Such a picture must be a happy spectacle to the Russians, whose greatest hope is that America will eventually collapse economically and carry the free world down with her.

WE CONGRATULATE THE VILLAGE COUNCIL

The Village Council of Tecumseh is to be congratulated on its stand with the State Highway Department regarding the prohibiting of the parking of motor vehicles on Chicago Boulevard, east and west in the residential district, after the street has been resurfaced and widened. The Boulevard is M-50-52, state trunk lines.

Last month, the Council, at the request of the Highway Department, passed a resolution prohibiting the parking of motor vehicles on the Boulevard, after the widening and resurfacing had been finished. Council took its action without consulting any of the residents of the street, and despite the fact that three churches are located along the route.

At its meeting last week, Council received a petition, signed by nearly 40 residents of the area, protesting its earlier action. Previously, however, the Village Attorney had expressed dissatisfaction with the move, contending that Tecumseh, in enacting such a law, was losing, for all time, its rights to control traffic on the street. As a result of the protests of residents, and on the advise of its attorney, Council rescinded its previous resolution and asked that the state consult further with the village regarding the parking program.

As we have said before, we cannot see any reason why the parking of cars on the Boulevard, after it has been widened and resurfaced, should be prohibited. The street will be six feet wider than it is at the present time, making the total width of each of the one-way lanes 24 feet. At the present time parking is permitted on the street, and the traffic lanes are only 18 feet in width.

And despite the fact that parking has been permitted on the Boulevard as it now exists, we know of only one or two mishaps which have occurred there in the past 20 years — and those probably would have happened if the street had been 30 feet wide.

When the State Highway Department officials come to Tecumseh to discuss the program further we sincerely hope that the Council will have the courage of its convictions. It should know that the residents of the street are opposed to the state's request and, as we see it, property owners and local government should have something to say about such matters. If that is not true, then it is time that some changes should be made in the officials who represent us—both here and in Lansing.

It was little Oswald's habit, on awakening in the morning, to slip out of his crib and crawl beneath the covers either with his father or his mother. But one day his parents got up early and left him sleeping blissfully in his crib. In a short while they heard piteous shrieks from overhead.

Dashing up to the bedroom, mother flung open the door. The little fellow rushed to her arms and, raising his tear-stained face, explained: "Mother, I woke up and looked in your place, and you were not there. Then I looked in daddy's place, and he wasn't there. And then I went back and looked in my place—and I wasn't there! Then I was 'fraid!"

Scouts End

club. The Camporee was sponsored jointly by Wolverine Council and the Hall-Slater Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars of Tecumseh.

Several special events highlighted the 3-day camp party. Saturday noon the Rev. Fr. Keating, chaplain of the federal prison at Milan, addressed the group. Saturday evening, the Scouts enjoyed a parade through the business district of Tecumseh, witnessed by several hundred people. Later on Saturday evening, before lights out, a Court of Honor was held.

A special event of Saturday evening was the appearance of the Karouchi Indian dancers from Fremont, Ohio. This Scouting troop, members of which have studied Indian war dances, staged their performance during the Saturday evening campfire.

During the three days that the youngsters lived at the camp they slept in tents, prepared their own meals, made their own beds and "policed" the grounds. With them, of course, were scout leaders, instructors and others in supervisory capacities. Prior to their arrival, the grounds had been thoroughly DDT'd and, as a result bugs and mosquitos were at a minimum.

Sunday morning, after breakfast, boys of the Catholic faith attended a mass at 9 a.m., at St. Elizabeth Catholic church here. For other scouts a service was held at the camp by local ministers.

"We feel that the camporee was highly successful," Mr. Dickerson said, "and we wish to extend our thanks to Tecumseh and to all of those who made the affair a success. Especially do we desire to thank the police and sheriff's department for their assistance."

Scores of parents and friends of the lads in camp visited the Camporee each evening and on Saturday and Sunday. The welcome sign was always out to the parents and friends of the Scouts.

Play Program

ed any day during the summer, when classes are in session.

Softball games will be played every Monday evening, under the lights, at Recreation Center. The schedule for the first round is as follows: June 16, V. F. W. vs F. F. A., at 7 p.m.; Tipton vs Jokers at 8:30 p.m.; June 23, Tipton vs V. F. W., at 7 p.m.; F. F. A. vs Jokers at 8:30; June 30, V. F. W. vs Jokers at 7 p.m., and Tipton vs F. F. A. at 8:30.

Every week, Monday through Friday, from 1 to 4 p.m., there will be a supervised play program for younger children. This program is not only for tiny tots, but for elementary and teen-aged groups. Such activities as croquet, horse shoes, badminton, volley ball, basketball, paddle tennis and handicraft will be offered, at Recreation Center.

A teen-age boys and girls golf tournament will again be sponsored this year, with play at the Country Club. The dates of this program will be announced later.

Archery targets will again be set up at Recreation Center and instructions in this sport will be given on Wednesday evenings.

"We trust that parents will cooperate in this worth-while supervised play program by allowing their youngsters to participate," Mr. Duvall said. "All of the activities are well supervised, and children will have an active, well-directed summer of play by taking part."

Registration of the youngsters in the playground program should also take place on Monday, it was pointed out.

Commission felt that this new series of hearings are needed in connection with the company's current application for a rate adjustment. The company's concern is not so much with the fact that the service hearings will be held as with the possibility that they may introduce additional delays in the issuance of an order by the commission authorizing the company to reprice its service, it was said.

In this connection, the company pointed out that the amount of plant and facilities constructed for service improvement and expansion out of rates the customer pays is negligible. New facilities are paid for by the use of new capital raised from outside sources, it was said. To raise this this capital, the company must have adequate earnings to make the company's securities attractive to investors.

residence at 309 North Maumee street, owned by the school district, into a music house. Starting next fall, band and vocal music classes will meet there. In the past, these classes have been meeting six hours daily in the Central building. According to James McDowell, superintendent, the band classes have disturbed elementary classes in the building and it was thought best to remove the music classes from the building. The residence has been occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Ben Standen. Mr. Standen resigned his post as shop teacher here, and will move soon to St. Joseph, where he has accepted a similar job. He will be succeeded by Earl E. Shank of Kalamazoo, a graduate of Western Michigan College.

The Veterans Agricultural Program again will be sponsored next year by the Tecumseh schools and the board voted to rehire David Locke as instructor.

The annual election of the district will take place on Monday, July 14, and the board began to take steps for this event. Monday, June 23, is the last day to register for the election.

The term of Dr. Ralph Helzerman, secretary of the board, expires with the coming election. Dr. Helzerman has let it be known that he will permit his name to be used for re-election and petitions will be circulated for him immediately. Nominating petitions for any persons desirous of holding school board posts must be circulated and filed with the board not later than June 23.

There will be three propositions on the election ballot that voters will receive in July. First, there will be the election of a board member. The second issue will be to vote to furnish bus transportation to children living more than one mile from the school, and the second, to furnish car transportation to children living more than a mile from the school or from the bus line.

Such a vote is necessary, it was said, now that District 5 has become a part of District 7. Tecumseh operates one bus, and cost of transportation is reimbursed to the district by the state, up to $60 annually per pupil. Because only one bus is operated, the state law provides that similar mileage costs may be paid for children brought to school by car, provided they live a mile or more from the school or bus line. In some instances it may be necessary to use cars, because the one bus cannot contact all pupils, and the district does not desire to purchase a second bus.

Mr. McDowell said that the vote is little more than a formality, inasmuch as the district is reimbursed by the state for money spent on transportation. However, he pointed out that only property owners may vote on the issue.

The board disposed of many routine duties during its session and voted an incerase of five cents an hour in pay to school building custodians.

W. C. T. U. MEETS

The W. C. T. U. met Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. John Harwood on North Union street. Fourteen members answered to roll call. Mrs. May Park was in charge of devotions. The program leader was Mrs. Mary McLain. Mrs. Alta Boyce and Mrs. Emma Day gave several readings. Mrs. Day gave a special reading by Jenny Cassidy, the originator of the annual Flower Day, which is observed June 9. On that date, Mrs. Jessie Brown and Mrs. Howard Everhart took the annual treat to the County Home which consisted of cake and flowers. The home furnished the ice cream. The meetings will be continued through the summer with the next meeting at the Friends church.

Speed Reduction Urged By Police

FAST DRIVING IS PUBLIC ENEMY NO. 1, CLINTON STATE POLICE DECLARE

Sergeant Claude Bartell, commander of the Clinton post of the Michigan State Police, is appealing to motorists to practice strict, self-enforced speed control to reduce the alarming high number of highway accidents.

"Excessive speed is public enemy number one on the highways," Sergeant Bartell said. "It is a factor in two out of every five fatal traffic accidents.

"During the summer months when travel is at a peak, speeding is especially hazardous and deadly. Week ends are the worst.

"Last year 470 persons were killed in Michigan traffic during June, July and August. An average of 21 fatalities occurred every week end.

"Motor vehicle travel this summer is expected to exceed an average of 80 million miles per day. Unless greater caution is taken, particularly in maintaining safe driving speeds, the accident toll will again be shamefully high.

"There is no good reason why accidents cannot be kept at a minimum. It simply requires some effort on the part of drivers. By practicing courtesy, caution and common sense lives can be saved and injuries and accidents prevented.

"If you take a motor trip, get off to an early start. Take your time and stay with the normal flow of traffic. Adjust your driving speed conditions. Be careful and be here next year."

Boric Acid Is Dangerous Drug, Physician Says

ANN ARBOR—Boric acid is a dangerous drug of little value, states a University of Michigan physician.

Too many persons thing boric acid is something mild simply because it's used as an eye wash, Dr. Ernest H. Watson, associate professor of pediatrics and communicable diseases in the Medical School, indicates. Actually boric is a deadly poison, he says.

A teaspoonful, taken internally, is usually fatal to a child, he explains, in pointing out that this common household drug has often been the cause of fatal accidents to children, due to the careless manner it's sometimes handled in the home.

Another fact important to mothers, Dr. Watson emphasizes, is the use of boric acid ointments and liquids as a remedy for diaper rash. Fatal poisoning of babies from absorbing boric acid through the skin after extended use have been reported, he says.

Boric acid is not a germicide, as some people think, and is of no value as such. It's only a soothing ointment without germicidal value.

The use of the acid in the children's ward at University Hospital is prohibited because it has very little medical value and is far too dangerous around children, Dr. Watson states.

FIRST SUNDAY SCHOOL BEGAN AT U. OF M.

The first Sunday school in Michigan began in the original University of Michigan building in Detroit, Oct. 4, 1818. The structure was located on the west side of Bates Street near Congress.

According to the University's Michigan Historical Collections, the school was founded by the Detroit Sunday School Association to instruct children in the knowledge of the Bible and the art of reading.

Many of the children who attended the free Sunday school could not go to the regular daily schools because their parents were too poor to pay the fees. The Sunday school was divided into 10 classes and had an average attendance of 48.

FIRE COLLEGE HELPS IMPROVE PROTECTION

Fire protection in Michigan will make another step forward June 17-20 when some 600 volunteer and paid firemen attend the 24th annual Michigan Fire College at the University of Michigan.

The latest techniques in fire prevention, control and extinguishment will be explained by a staff of experts and practiced by those attending the conference, which is sponsored by the U-M Extension Service and the Office of Vocational Education, State Department of Public Instruction.

The event is part of a continuing effort by the University and the vocational education office to help train all persons in the fire service, especially volunteers who make up the largest percentage of such persons in the state.

The 77th meeting of the Michigan State Firemen's Association will be held in conjunction with the college.

Included among items to be discussed are: ventilating industrial plants, hidden fires, problems of rural volunteer fire departments, new legislation affecting the fire service, and radio equipped fire apparatus.

Locals and Personals

Mr. and Mrs. Vern Manwaring and family spent Sunday with Mrs. Manwaring's sister, Mr. and Mrs. Maynard Barnaby in Toledo.

Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Kohler and family are vacationing at the Fontana Resort in North Carolina.

A/2C Frances Rangel and her guest A/2C Elizabeth Maynard are on a 10-day leave from Sewart Air Force Base at Sewart, Tenn., and are visiting Miss Rangel's mother, Mrs. Florence Rangel.

We wish some sports writer would tell us what the current custom is among professional athletics in the use of tobacco, both during the play and off the field during a game.

Do the majority of baseball players chew tobacco on the field? Presumably smoking of cigarettes is not permitted in the dugout when the team is at bat. Do the players who are not on immediate call duck off to the men's room for a drag?

This request for information is prompted by the curiosity of a lady.

Wayne Coeds Bake Cherry Pies With Michigan-Grown Cherries

Wayne University home economic students Mary Ann Greiner of Mt. Clemens (left) and Marcile Gray of Hart proudly view the cherry pie they baked in one of the University's home economic laboratories.

Can you bake a cherry pie?

According to Mrs Frances G. Sanderson, chairman of Wayne's home economic department all her students want to learn how to bake good cherry pies. because this is one of America's favorite desserts. These coeds are living in just the right state to practice their culinary art. for Michigan's contribution to our nation's eating delight is greater than the rest of the United States put together.

Cherry orchards are a familiar sight throughout the entire extent of the Michigan fruit belt. The Grand Traverse Bay region in the northwestern part of the lower peninsula is blessed with a rarely found combination of sandy soil and atmospheric conditions which make it ideally suited to cherry growing.

The Old Mission Peninsula which divides Grand Traverse Bay into two arms has the most compact concentration of cherry trees in America. The surrounding counties of Grand Traverse, Leelanau, Benzie and Antrim, better known as the "cherry bowl" of the nation, will harvest over 90,000,000 pounds of fruit in a peak year.

A short season crop, the fruit ripens in July and early August. At that time the many thousand acres swarm with pickers ranging from itinerant workers which have moved in from Texas and Mexico to ambitious college students who are paying for their education by summer work

Local plants and huge canneries operate day and night during the harvesting season at Traverse City, Frankfort. Northport. Glen Haven, and Beulah. Other canneries are located in Central Lake. Copemish, East Jordan Elberta, Ellsworth, Onekema. Hart. New Era, Shelby, and Scottville. Here the cherries are canned. frozen. preserved as glacé or maraschino for the candy and cocktail trade. made into jams, jellies, concentrated cherry juice and prepared for use in dubonnet ice cream.

In July, Traverse City the hub of the "cherry bowl," turns the harvest season into a carnival by staging the Cherry Festival, electing a cherry queen, and asking all loyal-minded citizens to eat cherry pie, cobbler or ice cream for dessert

10 REASONS WHY I BELONG TO MY

Chamber of Commerce

1. Because I realize that every man owes a debt to his community that cannot be paid in taxes — a debt of personal service.
2. Because I want to play my part in the organized development of my community and to carry my share of the public burden.
3. Because the Chamber of Commerce is business insurance—an institution that can accomplish great good for my city at a time when action means more than ever before.
4. Because the Chamber of Commerce holds up an ideal of civic development and commercial advancement that tends to the encouragement of what is helpful and the elimination of what is harmful.
5. Because active participation in community affairs is both a personal privilege and a civic responsibility.
6. Because as a member of the Chamber of Commerce, I am afforded an opportunity to actually work for conditions I have long hoped for.
7. Because my business tells me that whatever is best for this town and my neighbors is too valuable an asset for me to pass up.
8. Because through the Chamber of Commerce the individual citizen can best discharge his obligations to the town in which he lives and makes a living.
9. Because the Chamber of Commerce is the gauge of the city enterprise, prosperity, and ambitions, and reflects the combined wishes of the community.
10. Because the Chamber of Commerce is equipped to express the business sentiment of the community on both local and national affairs, and I want to make my voice and influence felt in determining the policies of our times.

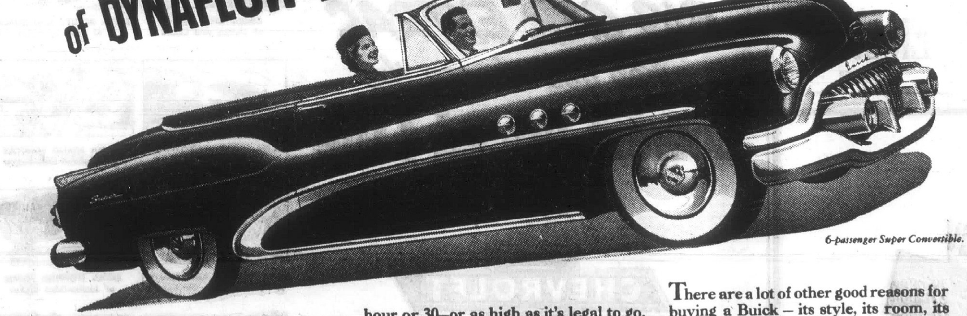
What's the big idea of DYNAFLOW DRIVE?



6-passenger Super Convertible.

THERE are all sorts of "drives" and "shifts" on the market.

Some still operate entirely by hand. Some depend on shifting gears, but do this automatically. Some feed the power through oil, but use a lock-out device at cruising speeds.

But we still think that Dynaflow* is the best of all for this simple reason:

The big idea of Dynaflow Drive is to make life easy for the driver.

In traffic, you can start and stop, slow down, accelerate with complete and infinite smoothness — because no gears have to shift, ever, in Dynaflow Drive. So there's no lurch, buck or bobble. Dynaflow always feeds power with a steady, willing swoop—at 3 miles an hour or 30—or as high as it's legal to go.

On hills, you get the same sure, steady, unfaltering power-feed for the same reason. No gears ever shift.

On a long day's drive, you can ride with wonderful freedom from tension—your foot relaxed on the throttle — because you always drive through oil.

And at any speed you get a smoother ride, in part because Dynaflow Drive provides such a smooth and gentle linkage between that mighty Fireball 8 Engine and the rest of the chassis.

But this is not all. Our service records show that Dynaflow also makes life easier for your bank account. It saves wear and strain on the engine, banishes the cost of clutch repairs, saves strain on the transmission and even on the rear tires.

There are a lot of other good reasons for buying a Buick — its style, its room, its ride, its power, its thrift, its durability— and its price.

When you can get all this — plus Dynaflow Drive — why be a holdout? Come in and give Dynaflow a try today.

*Equipment, accessories, trim and models are subject to change without notice. Standard on Roadmaster, optional at extra cost on other Series.

Sure is true for '52

NEW CIRCLE TO BE FORMED BY METHODISTS

Eleven ladies of the Methodist church met at the home of Mrs. Earl Greene, June 2, at 8 o'clock to organize a new circle. The evening was spent in discussing the purposes of a circle and projects which might be undertaken in the future.

Mrs. Walter Beck was chosen as temporary chairman and Mrs. Paul Hadsell, Mrs. Luther Wood, and Mrs. Earl Greene were chosen for the nominating committee. Election of officers will be held in September.

The circle, as yet unnamed, will have a social evening at the home of Mrs. A. L. VanWinkle on the first Monday in July.

At the close of the business meeting refreshments were served by the hostess, who was assisted by Mrs. Robert Bonner.

Over Hundred Millions In Highway Revenues

By Charles M. Ziegler
State Highway Commissioner

Final tabulation of motor vehicle highway revenues collected during the first three quarters of the current fiscal year shows a total of $100,925,400 after collection costs were deducted. This amount was distributed $44,407,176 to the State Highway Department; $37,342,398 to the counties and $19,175,826 to the municipalities in accordance with the formula set forth in the law.

It is interesting to note that these collections exceed the Department's estimate by only $610,400 or approximately 6/10 of 1%, which is very close for an estimate made over a year ago.

The estimate covering the same nine months by Robert F. Steadman, controller of the Governor's Department of Administration was $106,550,000 or $5,600,000 greater than actual collections. Steadman's estimate for the entire fiscal year is $135,913,756 as compared to the Department's estimate of $128,162,756, or a difference of $7,751,000, which is a considerable amount of money.

In addressing the Legislature on January 10 the Governor estimated total revenues available for highway construction for the fiscal year would be as high as $150 million. The Department still believes that its estimate of $128 million total net collections for the fiscal year will be very close to correct.

The State Highway Department, the counties and the municipalities are all obligating for construction every dollar available for this year that can be anticipated over and above administrative and maintenance costs.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

"Good Neighbor Policy"

Remember one time when I told about the old loose-stone wall that separated Easy Roberts' property from Handy Peterson's?

That was when they decided they really didn't need the wall between them in the first place — so they simply stopped repairing it.

Now I hear where a fellow, who bought the old Johnson place, wants to buy all those stones. It seems he figures a stone wall is just what's needed on his property.

From where I sit, if that fellow wants to build himself a stone wall, that's his business. But if it's not really serving any useful purpose he may sooner or later discover—just like Handy and Easy did—that he'd be just as well off without one. Even some old-fashioned walls of prejudice are disappearing—like those that would deny a person's right to a friendly glass of beer now and then. Most Americans are learning that "walls" can get in the way of the persons inside as well as the persons outside.

M-50 Work Starts Soon

STATE AND COUNCIL AGREE ON PAVING PROGRAM AND WIDENING OF BOULEVARD

The Village Council and the State Highway Department are in agreement on the paving and widening of M-50-52, (Chicago Boulevard), and work on the project will be started soon, it was learned today.

Low bidders on the proposed improvment were announced last week by the Highway department after bids had been opened in Lansing.

For 8.258 miles of grading and drainage and a new 22-foot concrete pavement on M-50-52 from Billington's Corners east through Tecumseh to Britton, Walter H. Knapp of Monroe was the low bidder. The cost was $814,499.

Another bid affecting a road in this area also was opened and in this case the Ann Arbor Construction Co., Ann Arbor, was the low bidder. This project calls for the building of 16.294 miles of bituminous surfacing on US-112 from Tipton Highway in Franklin township northeasterly through Clinton to Saline in Washtenaw county.

While M-50 is being rebuilt, the state has designated this detour: From Cambridge Junction east along US-112 to Saline, and then south on US-223 to where that highway joins M-50 near Dundee.

It is understood that the highway department intends to immediately award the contracts and that work will be started on both projects, assuring completion in early fall.

Heat Wave Is Broken

ONE LIFE LOST AT MEADOW LAKE AS MERCURY SOARS TO 100 DEGREES

A two-day heat wave that sent the mercury in local thermometers to near the 100-degree mark, was broken Monday night by a cold front that moved in from the northwest and thunderstorms in the western section of Michigan, Monday, according to weathermen, was the warmest June 16 in Michigan's history, and Sunday was not far behind.

The only death reported locally occurred on Sunday afternoon at Meadow Lake in the Irish Hills. Joseph Pawlowski, 18, of Dearborn, was drowned while swimming about 50 yards off shore with two companions. It is believed that he suffered a cramp.

State police and sheriff's deputies immediately began a search for the Dearborn youth's body, but dragging operations had been unsuccessful up to Wednesday. While the lake is small in area, there are spots where the water is 50 to 60 feet deep. The lake's bottom also is covered with heavy weeds.

Nationwide, the heat wave cost scores of lives as a result of drownings and traffic accidents.

Rep. Conlin Hits at Gov. Williams

SAYS WILLIAMS DON'T CARE WHO GETS TAKEN, IF DEMOCRATS DO IT

State Rep. R. G. Conlin, of Tipton, said today that Gov. Williams "apparently doesn't care how the people get taken, as long as the Democrats do the taking."

He pointed to a government ruling which opens the door for a one-cent per can increase in beer prices and the recent 10-cent charge for pay station telephone calls as examples.

"The governor said he would veto any state beer tax increase as a 'Consumer's tax', but he apparently doesn't care if the Democrats in Washington raise the price by an administrative regulation," Conlin said. "He also made no mention of the fact that his own hand-picked Senator

Good Old Summer Time Arrives, Saturday, June 21

Summer arrives at 6:13 a.m. on Saturday, June 21.

This is the big news in June for those who keep close watch of astronomial affairs, Hazel M. Losh, assitant professor of astronomy at the University of Michigan, reports.

The longest days of the year will be on the calendar around June 21, since the sun will have reached its most northerly point. From that date on, the sun will begin backtracking over the route it has been following since last December when it reached its most southerly point.

Just as in winter when colder weather comes several weeks after the winter solstice in December, the usual weather pattern brings the warmest temperatures in August, Professor Losh explains. This "lag of the seasons" occurs in the summer because the earth continues to receive more heat during the day than it loses by radiation at night. It takes until late August or early September before the earth begins to cool off.

The reverse applies during the winter. Then it takes until early March before more heat is received during the day than is lost at night.

Among the planets, Saturn and Mars continue to be the main attractions during June, she reports. June also brings the constellation of The Scorpion into view each night around sunset in the southeast sky. As this collection of bright stars appears at the time Orion, which dominates the heavens during the winter months, disappears in the west, Professor Losh recalls the old stories handed down in mythology.

"The Scorpion is supposed to have sprung out of the earth at the command of the goddess, Juno. She had become incensed at the conceit of Orion, the Mighty Hunter, who had boasted that he could conquer any creature on earth," the astronomer says. "The insignificant Scorpion stung the boastful hunter, causing his death, and now, by appearing in the sky, forever teaches the folly of vain boasting."

The Scorpion may be easily picked out, as it consists of a line of bright stars curved like a great fish-hook.

In the heart of the constellation is the bright red star, Antares. While its name means "a rival of Mars," Antares actually has a diameter 75,000 times that of the planet. Only its distance from the earth keeps it from outshining Mars.

Take a look in the southeast after sunset and you'll detect Mars with ease. Then find the big red star nearby. Give thought, too, to the fact that the light from Mars comes to you in four minutes, while the light from Antares has been on its way for 250 years, Professor Losh suggests.

Whoever Is President, It'll Be Rough

The two major political parties will hold their conventiones next month. Today, nobody knows who the nominees will be and, until next November, no one will know who the next President will be. But whatever his name and party label, he will be in for a rugged time.

The United States News & World Report recently dealt with what the new President will face in a brief but comprehensive feature article. As it observed, the job offers many unique assets and prerogatives. The Chief Executive lives in one of the most magnificant homes on earth. Legions of assistants and servants are at his beck and call. He is treated with the utmost deference by everyone. Hardly a wish goes unfulfilled. He is paid a large salary and receives a $50,000-a-year tax-free expense fund in addition.

But all these material benefits lose much of their lustre in the light of the enormous problems with which the President must deal — and of the fateful decisions he, and he alone, must make.

The U. S. News article is called, "Troubles Ahead For Next President." Here, in capsule form, is the gist of what the magazine anticipates for him:

DEBT. Soon the national debt will touch the $275,000,000,000 legal ceiling. The President will have to choose between asking Congress to raise that ceiling or cut the spending. Either way, he will make political enemies.

WAR. It seems certain that the Korean war will still be going when he takes office, even though it may be relatively passive. This is a stalemated, totally unpopular war. What will he advocate to end it?

BUSINESS. Many economists think that the boom is running down. Next year, it is forecast, there will be a substantial decline in industrial expansion. There will probably be a drop in profits—that will bring a drop in tax collections, making the budget problem still more difficult. The ranks of the unemployed will be swelled. All this may happen very soon after the next President moves into the White House.

AGRICULTRE. Some farm commodities are in a surplus state now. Other surpluses are anticipated. So, as U. S. News puts it, "The next President is to be caught between the pressure of city people interested in cheaper food and a farm population insisting that government support farm prices against substantial decline."

BUREAUCRACY. The President is the titular boss of 6,200,000 people—2,500,000 civilians and 3,700,000 military. This huge payroll is one of the primary causes of our outsize Federal budgets. And here again the next President must make a difficult decision. In the view of the U. S. News, "If he does not cut the payroll and the functions of the government bureaucracy, his financial troubles will grow. If he does cut the payroll, some people will be out of jobs, raising political fuss, and if he cuts functions some group or region will lose a good thing and also will raise a political fuss."

These, of course, are not all of the problems the beleagured next President will face—not by a long shot. And great problems we can't even anticipate today may also be his. But they serve to indicate the enormous and unavoidable burdens that are part and parcel of what is accurately described as the biggest job on earth.

Fireproof Vaults For Lowly Spuds

Today, when the food store proprietor locks up for the night he wonders whether he should put the potatoes in the safe and leave his cash on the counter. On today's market, spuds — the old-fashioned poor man's food — are at a premium. Actually, they are rationed. Five or 10 pounds to the customer and, depending upon where you buy them, prices have ranged from nine to 13 cents a pound. In some of the metropolitan areas, prices have been even higher.

It is hard to understand such a situation, out here in the country. It was only a few months ago that the government was taking potatoes off the market to support the price. Blueing or grape juice was poured over them and they were sold for hog feed at a few dollars a ton. In brief, we wasted our food — potatoes.

We've said before, you can't legislate the law of supply and demand, successfully. Try it, and sooner or later your action catches up with you.

In the case of potatoes, it looks as though it had.

Not To Exceed Your Reasonable Means.....

This is the effective rule by which we endeavor to limit funeral costs. It is an implied direction of our code of professional ethics.

This guides us to in many cases urge the use of the very low cost funeral. This we provide with full dignity and every service.

*This is the local delivered price for the Buick SPECIAL 2-door, 6-passenger Sedan

MODEL 48D (Illustrated)

Optional equipment, accessories, state and local taxes, if any, additional. Prices may vary slightly in adjoining communities due to shipping charges. All prices subject to change without notice.

WE put the price of this Buick in big type because we're proud of it.

It's the price of the six-passenger, two-door SPECIAL—ready to roll.

When you put this price against the local delivered prices of other cars that folks usually associate with Buick—you'll have a hard time finding a single one as low.

When you put this price against what you'll pay for cars with the reputation of being "lower priced"—you'll find why this Buick gives them such keen competition.

And—if you want to go in for extras—you can still add up what goes on the bill of sale of other cars and a Buick—you'll find out that Buick's an even greater buy.

We know that price is important to a lot of folks, especially with the price of groceries—and even baby shoes — where they are today.

But you also want some fun for your money—and that's where a Buick really shines.

Just wait till you give a gentle nudge to the power that's under that big, broad hood and feel your shoulders sink back as this beauty takes off.

You'll feel like the million dollars it cost to perfect its ride, when you sample the steady smoothness of its gait.

It's eager, alert, alive—makes each mile a new experience.

Want to try it? Why not? We're willing to let this beauteous bundle of high-powered energy speak for itself.

Equipment, accessories, trim and models are subject to change without notice.

Heavy Vacation Travel Expected

TOURISTS THIS SUMMER WILL SPEND 12 BILLION DOLLARS ON VACATIONS

If spring requests for travel routings mean anything, the nation's tourist industry is headed for a record-breaking 1952 season, according to Harry N. Rogan, travel manager of Automobile Club of Michigan. The 1952 Memorial Day travel was huge—it indicates more travel than ever this year.

One reason for the upswing in motoring vacations, says Rogan, it that a record 42,000,000 U. S. workers will receive paid vacations during 1952. And the public is expected to spend $12,000,000,000 on tarvel within the nation's borders. Still more will be spent on trips to foreign soil.

Some 80 per cent of all vacations this year will be taken in the family automobile, according to Auto Club surveys. Only 14 per cent of motoring vacationers will travel 2,000 miles or more, but a whopping 49 per cent will top the 600 mark. The remaining 37 per cent will stick with short trips which leave them maximum time at their destination.

A surprising 66.7 per cent of those motoring will stay overnight in motor courts, while 16.2 per cent of this business will go to commercial hotels. Friends and relatives will put up 12.1 per cent of the travelers overnight, while five per cent will stay in tourist homes.

The $12,000,000,000 they'll spend—where does it go? Rogan's survey shows that of each dollar, 29 cents will go for food; 22 cents for lodgings; 15 cents for retail merchants; 10 cents for car; 13 cents for amusements and the rest for miscellaneous expenses.

If Rogan's estimates are correct—and they're proved conservative in the past—Grand Canyon will cater ot more than 700,000 visitors this year. The Blue Ridge Parkway was driven by 2,500,000 persons last year and expectations are for 3,000,000 during 1952.

Yellowstone reached a peak of 1,000,000 visitors in 1951 and no drop for 1952 is anticipated.

Some 93 per cent of the 2,010,000 persons who will arrive in Great Smoky Mountains National Park this summer and fall will drive there.

Cost of vacationing this year is expected to closely follow the 1951 bill of fare—with slight fluxuations in a few areas. Tourists will be "shopping" however, says Rogan, and the resort which provides vacationers their money's worth will gather business.

A heavy summer business in Florida is certain. Tourists arriving there in the summer have increased by leaps and bounds each year for five years and 1952 will be no exception. Rates will be cut drastically as usual, with $24 rooms going for as little as $8 per day.

Comfortable minimum expenses for a couple traveling 300 miles per day by car, says Rogan, will be $22 per day. This includes food, lodgings, gas, oil, but no "extras."

Locally, the M-50 project is of vital importance. It calls for the widening, striaghtening and resurfacing of the road from Billington's Corners, through the Village of Tecumseh and on to Britton. In the Village, the center strip in West Chicago boulevard will be reduced to four feet and curb-line boulevard will be cut back about 10 inches. On East Chicago boulevard, the center strip will be slightly wider, and curb lines will not be affected, it was said. There will be two 24-foot traffic lanes, carrying one-way traffic.

Although local residents opposed the prohibition of parking on the boulevard, except in the business district, after the pavement has been widened and resurfaced, Council, in a special meeting Friday evening, learned that it was powerless in such opposition. M-50 is a federal trunk line, a portion of the cost of the project is borne by the federal government, and in such an instance the federal government controls. Washington insisted upon the no-parking clause.

Inside the corporation, the project calls for the construction of a new bridge over the River Raisin at the east limit, and the straightening of a curve just outside the village.

A breakdown of the cost of the total project has not been seen locally, but Tecumseh has been assured that its cost of the improvement will be $20,700. This will be paid to the state from state funds received by the village over the next four or five years.

Britton

The Congregational and Methodist churches are combining in a Daily Vacation Bible School being held this week in the Congregational church. Nearly fifty children are enrolled with teachers from both churches assisting. The school will end next Sunday with all children taking part during the regular worship service and exhibits will be viewed by the parents. The teachers are Doris Forsyth, Lillian Kniffin, Loraine Hummel, Audrey Palmer, Wilma Grienhaun, Melva Kanous and Bernice Siedel. Rev. J. Morgan Reese also is assisting.

Do You Know How To Properly Mix Concrete?

Water and cement must both be accurately measured to insure strength. With a small mixer, first put in the measured amount of water, next add part of the gravel. Adding this gravel to the water before cement is added will prevent cement paste from sticking to mixer drums. Now put in the measured amount of cement Then add sand and gravel or bank-run material until a mushy, workable mix is obtained.

After all materials are in the mixer, allow one or two minutes mixing time until all particles are coated with cement paste. More uniform concrete also is obtained from thorough mixing.

WEARY PEACE MAKER . . . A study in utter weariness is Vice Admiral C. Turner Joy, chief U.N. delegate at Panmunjom. He symbolizes the frustration and futility of the peace makers balked by Red propaganda tactics.

The concrete is struck off carefully just after it is placed in the forms. This removes all humps and hollows leaving a true, even surface for the final trowelling operation. Further finishing is delayed until the concrete is quite stiff. First finishing is done with a wood float which gives a uniform, gritty surface. For sidewalks, floors where a nonskid surface is required this wood float is all that should be applied. For a smooth finish follow the wood float with a steel trowel. Use the steel trowel sparingly. The use of the steel trowel before the mix has become stiff or excessive trowelling is likely to produce surfaces that dust or develop numerous fine cracks.

A scored surface is sometimes produced by brooming the concrete before it has hardened thoroughly.

The desirable properties of concrete — watertightness, durability and strength — increase with age so long as moisture is present and favorable temperatures prevail. Concrete which is kept moist for seven days is about 50 per cent stronger than that which is kept in dry air the entire period. Continuous moist curing, especially in the early stages, aids in securing a hard, dense surface and in preventing cracking and dusting.

Floors or other horizontal surfaces may be protected by a covering of earth, straw or burlap and the covering kept moist by sprinkling for at least five days. When a covering is not used, the surface can be flooded with water or kept moist by continuous sprinkling. Avoid alternate wetting or drying.

WIT, WISDOM PICNIC

The annual Wit and Wisdom Club picnic will be held at the Iron Creek church, Monday evening, June 23, at 6:30. Members are asked to bring table service and a dish to pass. The committee in charge are Rev. and Mrs. Alvin Brazee, Dr. and Mrs. W. H. Mast and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Sheldon.

Foreign Aid Called A World Investment

The economic strengthening of our allies should be described as "world investment" rather than as "foreign aid," Paul G. Hoffman said in his address at the 94th annual commencement at Michigan State College.

Hoffman, past president of the Studebaker corp. and administrator of the Marshall Plan and now president of the Ford Foundation, said that we must send dollars abroad, not for reasons of charity, but rather in "our own enlighted self-interest."

"This is not philanthropy; it is hard-headed free enterprise business. It is an investment in an impregnably united free world," said Hoffman.

"We must make our own democracy a living demonstration of our beliefs . . . . . We must begin by putting our own house in order."

He declared that the hate, fear and political amorality in the United States is preventing its citizens from convincing Communistic peoples of their peaceful intentions.

To counteract the Russian policy of conquest, America must, as a world leader, convince the Russian people that it wants peace and demonstrate that a free society can better minister to man's material, intellectual and spiritual needs, he added.

"I do not know how long we can maintain defense expenditures at the 60-billion dollar level without incurring grave danger of internal collapse," said Hoffman.

M.S.C. President John A. Hannah conferred honorary doctorate degrees upon three distinguished Americans, representing industry agriculture and letters, at the Commencement exercises.

Honored were Charles E. Wilson, president of General Motors corp., Edgar A. Guest, "poet-laureate of America's common man," and member of the Detroit Free Press; and Perry G. Holden, Charlevoix, an 1887 graduate of M.S.C. and one of America's pioneer leaders in the hybrid corn movement.

Wilson received an honorary doctor of engineering, Guest a doctor of laws and Holden a doctor of agriculture degree.

HE WHO GOT SLAPPED . . . Democratic Chairman Frank McKinney told newsmen that the President's decision upon becoming a candidate depended upon Korean truce. Truman immediately denied this and then took himself out of the campaign.

New Construction Outlays Set New Record For May

Washington—Outlays for new construction hit $2,749,000,000 last month, setting a record for May, the government reported.

The upswing in building work was credited with helping to bring a 1,034,000 increase over April in job opportunities. The Census Bureau said the number of Americans with jobs totaled 61,176,000 in May, just 17,000 short of the record for that month set a year ago.

New construction expenditures not only scored a seasonal gain of 9 per cent over April but moved 4 per cent above May, 1951, the previous rffecord month, the Commerce and Labor Departments said in a joint report.

Private outlays on houses and apartments accounted for one third of $913,000,000 of overall construction expenditures last month. But though private housing outlays rose 8 per cent over April, they dipped 1 per cent under a year ago.

In contrast, factory construction outlays fell 3 per cent below April but held 15 per cent above a year ago. They amounted to $188,000,000 last month.

Expenditures on building stores, restaurants and garages vaulted 20 per cent over April but were a full 42 per cent under a year ago, the two agencies said. Outlays of these kinds totaled $48,000,000 last month.

Government spending for new construction continued climbing in May, amounting in all to $947,000,000.

Rep. Conlin Hits

Blair Moody voted for a $1.50 per barrel increase in beer taxes which brought the Federal total to $10.50 a barrel. The Federal government now is taking $53,000,000 a year from Michigan in beer taxes. The State tax is a tax on manufacturers, not on the consumer. The OPS ruling opening the way to a one-cent per can increase in beer prices is something the consumer will pay directly, but the governor didn't say anything about that."

"His whole thinking is so partisan that he refuses to work with the Legislature on an equitable means of balancing the budget," Conlin continued. "If he would be honest for once, I am sure we could get the job done."

Conlin pointed out that when Republicans controlled the Public Service Commission, Williams was very critical of telephone rate increases.

"Now that the Democrats are in control, he rises to the defense of rate increases," he added. "The same factors of rising costs prevailed then as now.

"The fact of the matter is that a phone call from a pay station still is worth only 5 cents—and the other 5 cents means a nickel for Williams and his Democrat inflation."

New Highways To Aid Oregon Tourist Travel

Salem, Ore. — Convenience, scenery, and variety are all rolled into one package along Oregon's new and improved major highways.

Ready for the summer surge of motorists who enter the state from the East will be a completely new U. S. numbered route, US 26, originating in Oregon at Ontario on the East and terminating at Astoria on the Pacific coastline. Along this route motorists will find all the vacation variety that typifies hospitable Oregon vacationlands.

On the eastern leg of Route 26 are the vast irrigated farmlands of grain, potatoes, and sugarbeets, the huge forested areas of the Ochoco Mountains, and the geological wonderland of the John Day fossil beds and Crooked River gorge.

At Prineville, in the heart of Central Oregon, US 26 joins routes which lead into the Cascade recreational empire and to US 97 which leads southward to Crater Lake National Park and the Klamath Basin.

At Madras, further along the route, is the direct junction with US 97 which follows northward through Tygh and Grass Valleys and to the Columbia River. Northwest from Madras, US 26 follows the new Warm Springs route over a high plateau area which is broken by such natural gorges as those cut by Mill Creek and the Deschutes River.

Further north and west the new highway will cut through the vast Mt. Hood National Forest and along the slopes of Mt. Hood itself. At Mt. Hood such attractions as the Timberline winter sports areas and the longest aerial tramway in the world invite the motorist to linger a day or two longer.

Westward, the new route enters metropolitan Portland via Gresham and the Sunset Highway to the coast. In short, the new highway offers the vacationist every kind of holiday and motoring pleasure from sea level to ski level and from the flavor of the Old West to the latest in modern metropolitan accommodations.

East and west, north and south, the Beaver State is continually improving its highway system. Crowded conditions through cities are being eliminated by installations of one-way systems and bypasses. Crooked routes are gradually ebing eliminated by freeways and multiple lanes over mountain passes. At the same time scenic routes and historic sites are being preserved for the enjoyment of the public. All routes beckon the visitor to explore a lush land of mountains, lakes, and rivers.

TELLS OF ADVANTAGES IN USE OF FLUORIDE

Dr. Fred Wertheimer, chief of public health denistry, Michigan Department of Health, was the speaker at the regular dinner meeting of the Rotary Club, Tuesday evening at the Country Club. He was the guest of Dr. Robert Laidlaw.

Dr. Wertheimer explained the use of fluoride in public water systems as a deterrent in tooth decay. He declared that surveys showed a marked decline—as much as 65 per cent—in decay, where water has been treated with the chemical.

Tecumseh's water is to be treated with fluoride in the near future. Dr. Laidlaw was instrumental in bringing about the advancement through an anonymous gift of $3,000 for the installation of the necessary equipment, which is now on order. The cost of the project to the village will be about $1,200 annually, it was said.

Watch Your Heart at Vacation Time

With vacation days ahead, the Michigan Heart Association today warned unaccustomed athletes against violent and sudden exercise which might strain the heart.

Advising vacation-time or week-end athletes against overdoing it, F. Janney Smth, M.D., President of the Michigan Heart Association says, "Almost everyone should take some form of mild exercise, but if you are not accustomed to walking farther than the distance from your house to the bus stop, than you should not expect your heart to take kindly to the extra strain of a fast game of tennis. We all usually try to pick up right where we left off last fall. Over-exerting muscles which have been idle for months can add up to trobule for many of us. As people get older, their hearts will not permit them to engage in the same activities they participated in when they were younger. This is especially true of the man (or woman) over forty."

"This does not mean that people in the older age groups cannot take exercise," Dr. Smith, added, "but muscles which have been lying dormant during the long winter months should be exercised slowly and built up gradually."

Dr. Smith points out that moderate, regular exercise never hurt anyone, but that sudden calls on the heart for all-out effort—for example, a frantic dash for the bus or train—"could cause a heart attack" if the sprinter has an unrecognized heart condition. A great many deaths from coronary (arteries which supply the heart muscle with blood) heart disease, which most people believe occur without warning, actually do not. Warning signals are disregarded frequently when a life might have been saved if they had heeded and a Doctor of Medicine consulted.

So learn to "take it easy", Dr. Smith, advised and follow these simple rules recommended by the Michigan Heart Association for protecting your heart—they may mean the difference between continued good health or a serious heart ailment:

1. Avoid unusual exercise and undue physical exertion. This is especially important after eating because the heart is already hard at work supplying blood for the digestive processes.
2. See your doctor. Protect your heart by having your doctor examine you regularly. Never diagnose your own ills, real or imagined. If you have any unusual or pecular discomfort or pain in the chest, or find yourself becoming easily winded—a doctor should be consulted immediately.
3. Get enough rest. Give your heart a chance to relax. Get at least eight hours sleep every night, more if possible.
4. Keep your weight down to normal—don't let those extra pounds make your heart work harder.

To all those past the prime of youth, the Michigan Heart Association advises: "Take it easy. Don't over-exert yourself. And, above all, ACT YOUR AGE—you'll live longer."

Sanitation Will Eliminate Flies

Sanitation is the answer to DDT-resistant flies, advises LaRue Miller, Chief of the Section of Environmental Sanitation, Michigan Department of Health.

"While repeated experience has proved that even the most potent insecticide such as DDT are effective only until flies develop resistance to them, it has also proved that flies do not develop any resistance to sanitation," he asserts.

To be successful, a fly-control program must rely heavily on elimination of fly-breeding and fly-feeding places and tight screening, with insecticides playing an important secondary role. It must be carried out cooperatively by the individual and the community.

The individual can do his part by making his own premises as fly-free as possible.

In residential areas, garbage is the most important feeding and breeding medium. Garbage cans should be made of metal, should be clean and kept tightly covered at all times. Rotting vegetable, fruit or animal matter, piles of decaying leaves and grass, manure piles—all good feeding and breeding places—should be removed.

Screens should be in good repair, and all buildings in which humans live or in which food or milk is prepared or stored should be screened tightly.

All fly resting places such as under the overhang of roofs, doorways, windows, the garbage can and surrounding area should be sprayed with DDT, chlordane or lindane solutions.

Because flies have a yen for travel and the ability to range freely over distances of four miles, the community must add its efforts to that of the individual to assure freedom from these pests.

The community program should extend into outlying areas where there are garbage or rubbish dumps which are natural breeding places. Usually they are few in number and can easily be included in a municipal clean-up program.

Community programs should include the cleaning up and spraying of the business areas which ordinarily are more heavily invaded by flies than residential areas. They should also provide complete garbage pick-up service (twice a week is needed to prevent fly breeding).

Flies are born, live and eat in the feulest refuse and are among the few living things which man has found serving no useful purpose. They are prodigious breeders, and if all the progeny lived, one pair could produce 191 septillion descendants between April and August. Besides being a nuisance to man, they are a hazard to his health, being capable of spreading 20 human diseases, including dysentery, typhoid fever and tuberculosis.

Despite all control measures, an occasional fly will get into the house. When this happens, swat it.

INSIDE THE CAPITOL

By
Attorney-General Frank G. Millard

This week will bring to a close five weeks of investigation of Jackson prison in regard to alleged crimes that were committed during the recent riot. On May 12 this investigation was started and it was estimated that it would take approximately six weeks, so this investigation should be concluded next week.

The instructions for the investigation to my assistants were that they should take testimony to find out whether or not any crimes had been committed during the riot. From the newspaper accounts it is quite evident that there had been malicious destruction of property, that the crime of kidnapping by holding the guards had been committed and that there were numerous cases of assault. Our investigation should bring to light the persons who are guilty of such crimes. Furthermore, our investigation was also set up to disclose whether there had been any misfeasance, malfeasance or nonfeasance on the part of the prison authorities, and our final report will have findings in regard to those matters.

The prison authorities have been very cooperative in the conduct of this investigation, and the State Police have given excellent service in lining up witnesses. It is my belief that when the results of this investigation are reported the public will have a better idea of exactly what happened and why during the Jackson prison riot.

PLAN CHURCH PICNIC

The church school board of the Methodist church met last week in the church parlors. Routine business was discussed and plans were made for a Sunday School picnic, Thursday, July 24. Further details will be announced later.

BAPTIST BANQUET

The Mother and Daughter banquet of the Baptist church will be held Wednesday, June 25, at the church with dinner at 6:30. Reservations may be made with Mrs. Floyd Bryan, Mrs. Anna Grigg or Mrs. B. O. Bashore.

State Plans To Test The Use of Fluoride

Sodium fluoride applications to prevent tooth decay will be given to approximately 12,000 children in 68 communities in the state this summer in a special self-supporting program under the auspices of the Michigan Department of Health and utilizing the services of 23 junior dental and dental hygiene students from the University of Michigan.

Children in the participating communities will be offered the protective treatments at a nominal charge which will be used to defray living expenses of the University students and to purchase expendable supplies. Children not able to pay will get the treatments free.

Before starting work in community clinics, the students are briefed in public health dentistry techniques, the special techniques of topical fluoride application, the preparation of dental records and basic public relations in a two-day workshop conducted by the Michigan Department of Health, which also supplies portable dental equipment to communities which do not have equipment of their own.

Local dentists volunteer their time to supervise the work in each community and local health departments, schools and parent groups cooperate in making arrangements and carrying them through.

Students working in the programs, which get underway in most areas, June 16, gain experience in their profession while receiving a cost-of-living stipend, and they develop skills in working with children, in dentist-child-parent relationships and in conducting community programs.

The participating communities benefit through greatly reduced dental decay among the children. The painting of children's teeth with sodium fluoride solutions can reduce new decay in groups of children as much as 40 per cent, according to state health authorities.

This type of program was conducted for the first time last year when 17 students treated the teeth of 5,700 children.

June M. Welever Is Bride of Cloyce Miller

A beautiful summer wedding was performed Saturday evening at 6 o'clock in the Rea Methodist Church by the Rev. Charles Bragg when June M. Welever of Dundee, became the bride of Cloyce E. Miller of Britton. The double ring ceremony took place before the altar decorated with lighted candelabra and baskets of pink peonies. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Kiley of Dundee and the bridegroom, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Miller of Britton.

Jack Stull and William Welever seated the guests as prelude of music was played by Miss Barbara Good, church organist. Misses Diann and Barbara Miller of Jackson sang, "Eternally" and "A Prayer Refrain."

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a white satin gown ending in a long train of chantilly lace trim. Her veil of illusion was caught to a sweetheart shaped cap of lace to match the dress trim. Her flowers were a cascade bouquet of white roses with satin leaves.

Her matron of honor, Mrs. Jack Stull, was in nile green marquisette over satin. The bridesmaids, Misses Luella Hoagland and Alice Eyler wore lilac marquisette over satin, each carrying cascade bouquets of yellow carnations and daisies.

Carlotta Congolacia, as flower girl, in a long white gown, carried baskets of tiny flowers. Jimmy Welever acted as ring bearer. Roger Sanford of Ypsilanti assisted the bridegroom as best man.

The bride's' mother wore a pale blue linen dress while the bridegroom's mother chose a navy blue sheer. Both mothers wore pink carnation corsages.

A reception followed in the K of P hall in Milan where 400 guests were served refreshments featuring a four tiered wedding cake. Miss Shirley Bortel had charge of the guest book.

The bride, a graduate of Britton High school, attended Cleary business college and is now employed as a typist at the Unemployment office in Monroe. The bridegroom, a graduate of Milan high school, attended Michigan Normal College for three years. He is employed at Kaiser Frazier Corp.

For their wedding trip to Niagara Falls and New York City, the bride chose a gold gabardine dress with brown accessories. On their return the new Mr. and Mrs. Miller plan to live at 10588 Far Road, Milan.

Baby Smothering Is Mostly a Myth

OVERWHELMING OF INFECTION GENERALLY CAUSE OF INFANT'S DEATH

For years the "smothering superstition" has terrified mothers into believing that babies may die of suffocation if they lie on their stomachs. This superstition has been helped along by the slip-shod diagnosis of medical examiners, who attribute over half the accidental infant deaths in the nation each year to "accidental mechanical suffocation." But thanks to the work of a handful of researchers, mothers can stop worrying, says Edith Stern. In a reassuring report for McCall's for June, she cites the investigations of Dr. Jacob Werne, Assistant Medical Examiner for the Borough of Queens in New York City, who has usually found evidence of acute respiratory infection in such sudden infant deaths:

"'There is now abundant evidence,' says Dr. Katherine Bain of the U.S. Children's Bureau, 'that most of these so-called "smothering" deaths are not due to any external cause but may be the result of a sudden overwhelming infection with which a young baby is not able to cope. When a careful post-mortem examination is made, including microscopic study, evidence of infection often is found somewhere in the baby's body. Occasionally a congenital defect—for instance, of the heart—has been revealed. The sudden death of a seemingly well infant, in short, can rarely be explained by external and accidental causes and vigilence could have been prevented.'

"This is good news for several reasons: it means that doctors are closer to understanding and preventing the real cause of these deaths; it means that these tragedies are rare, not something which may occur any time a baby goes to bed; and above all, it may take a load of needless guilt off the hearts of the few mothers whose babies do die in this fashion.

"For more than twenty years Dr. Jacob Werne and his wife, Irene Garrow (also a physician) have conducted their investigations, performing autopsies and making microscopic studies on babies. Some of these babies were known unmistakably to have been suffocated; others were mysteriously found dead in their cribs. The doctors found striking differences in the lungs of the two groups. The babies who had died mysteriously in their cribs all showed evidence of acute respiratory infection. Dr. Werne also discovered that fewer 'suffocation' deaths occur when colds, bronchitis and pneumonia are not prevalent.

"If you are the mother of a young baby you will want to know what, in the light of the research which has been done, you can do to guard your baby and to inform others. Recommendations can as yet be only general: Keep your baby in as good general health as possible. Avoid exposing him to known sources of infection, such as people with colds. Get medical advice promptly if he is feverish or unusually fretful. You will have done all that anyone can do until furthed research may establish all the facts about the killer. In any case. you needn't worry because the probability of your baby's smothering are infinitesimal.

"We can tell our friends, on the authority of the U. S. Children's Bureau, that babies sleeping on their stomachs are in no more danger of smothering than if they were on their backs. We can insist that the coroner or medical examiner make no diagnosis of 'accidental mechanical suffocation' until after a detailed investigation of all the circumstances of the death and a microscopic as well as a gross postmortem examination."

Watch Your Step When You Drive

As summer vacations gets under way for more than a million Michigan school children, motorists should keep their eyes peeled for boys and girls at all times because they are likely to be anywhere, warns State Police Commissioner Joseph A. Childs.

"After schools close for the summer," said Childs, "children devote full time to baseball, roller skating, hiking, riding bicycles and other outdoor recreations. In their excitement they forget rules of safety easily.

"During this time of the year there is usually an upward surge in traffic casualties. Last summer 470 persons died in Michigan traffic. About 100 were pedestrians, including many children.

"A child running toward a street or highway, standing at the curb or riding a bicycle in traffic should be regarded as a danger sign. Likewise, all vacant lots and other places where children might be are danger zones.

"Motorists should bear in mind at all times that children are impulsive and unpredictable. In a moment of thoughtfulness, when they forget to be careful, their lives are in the hands of the driver."
